Haunting in Chinese-Australian Writing Xiao Xiong, 2023-06-26 This book examines haunting in terms of trauma, languaging, and the supernatural in works by Chinese Australian writers born in Australia, Mainland China, Hong Kong, Malaysia, and Singapore. It goes beyond the conventional focus on identity issues in the analysis of diasporic writing, considering how the memory of past trauma is triggered by abusive systems of power in the present. The author unpacks how trauma also brings past violence to haunt the present. This book considers how different Chinese diasporic communities present a dynamic and multiple state through partial erasure between different Chinese subcultures and other cultures. Showing the supernatural as a social and cultural product, this book elucidates how haunting as the supernatural refers to the coexistence of and the competition between different cultures and powers. It takes a wide-ranging view of different diasporic communities under the banner Chinese, a term that refers not only to Chinese nationals in terms of citizenship but also to the Chinese diaspora in terms of ancestry and Chinese culture more generally. In analysing haunting in texts, the author positions Chinese culture as in a constant state of flux. It is relevant to literary scholars and students with interests in Australian literature, Chinese and Southeast Asian migration writing, and those with an interest in the Gothic and postcolonial traditions.

Writing Back Through Our Mothers Tegan Zimmerman, 2014 For the first time in the literary tradition, the contemporary woman's historical novel post 1970 is surveyed from a transnational feminist perspective. Analyzing the maternal, the genre's central theme reveals that historical fiction is a transnational feminist means for challenging historical erasures, silences, normative sexuality, political exclusion, and divisions of labor. Series: Contributions to Transnational Feminism Vol 5

Colony, Nation, and Globalisation Eddie Tay, 2010-06-01 The literature of Malaysia and Singapore, the multicultural epicentre of Asia, offers a rich body of source material for appreciating the intellectual heritage of colonial and postcolonial Southeast Asia. Focusing on themes of home and belonging, Eddie Tay illuminates many aspects of identity anxiety experienced in the region and helps construct a dialogue between postcolonial theory and the Anglophone literatures of Singapore and Malaysia. A chronologically ordered selection of texts is examined, including Swettenham, Bird, Maugham, Burgess, and Thumboo. This genealogy of works includes colonial travel writings and sketches as well as contemporary diasporic novels by Malaysian and Singapore-born authors based outside their countries of origin. The premise is that home is a physical space as well as a symbolic terrain invested with social, political, and cultural meanings. As discussions of politics and history augment close readings of literary works, the book should appeal not only to scholars of literature but also to scholars of Southeast Asian politics and history.
