Theories on the Move Şebnem Susam-Sarajeva,2006 Within translation studies books on translating conceptually dense texts such as philosophical or theoretical writings are remarkably few Although the translation of literature has been a favourite topic for many decades the translation of theories on literature has been neglected The phrase theories of translation is everywhere but translation of theories is a rare sight On the other hand the term translation has become a commonplace in literary and cultural studies yet usually as a rhetorical figure describing the fate of those who struggle between two worlds and two languages such as migrants or women Not much attention has been paid to the role of translation proper in contemporary circulation of ideas The book addresses these gaps in translation studies and in literary studies for the first time by examining two specific cases where translation strategies and patterns crucially influenced the reception of imported schools of thought By examining the importation of structuralism and semiotics into Turkish and of French feminism into English it invites the readers to think about the impact of translation on the transmission of ideas across linguistic cultural borders and power differentials It is therefore of particular interest to the scholars working in translation studies in literary and cultural theory and in gender studies

Making a Spectacle Lynda Hart,1989 The first scholarly collection to discuss the intersection of feminism and dramatic theory

Women by Women Roseanna Lewis Dufault,1997 While some of the featured works seem dark and pessimistic they express collectively a certain hope for a brighter more egalitarian future This anthology brings together cogent critical studies in a way that identifies and illuminates trends among Quebec s contemporary women writers

Notions of Identity, Diaspora, and Gender in Caribbean Women's Writing B. Mehta, 2009-09-14 Notions of Identity Diaspora and Gender in Caribbean Women's Writing uses a unique four dimensional lens to frame questions of diaspora and gender in the writings of women from Martinique Guadeloupe and Haiti These divergent and interconnected perspectives include violence trauma resistance and expanded notions of Caribbean identity In these writings diaspora represents both a wound created by slavery and Indian indenture and the discursive praxis of defining new identities and cultural possibilities These framings of identity provide inclusive and complex readings of transcultural Caribbean diasporas especially in terms of gender and minority cultures

Negotiating the Sacred II Elizabeth Burns Coleman, Maria Suzette Fernandes-Dias, 2008-12-01 Blasphemy and other forms of blatant disrespect to religious beliefs have the capacity to create significant civil and even international unrest Consequently the sacrosanctity of religious dogmas and beliefs stringent laws of repression and codes of moral and ethical propriety have compelled artists to live and create with occupational hazards like uncertain audience response self censorship and accusations of deliberate misinterpretation of cultural production looming over their heads Yet in recent years issues surrounding the rights of minority cultures to recognition and respect have raised new questions about the contemporariness of the construct of blasphemy and sacrilege Controversies over the aesthetic representation of the sacred the exhibition of the sacred as art and the public display of sacrilegious or blasphemous works have given rise to heated debates and have invited us to reflect on binaries like artistic and religious sensibilities tolerance and philistinism the sacred and the profane deification and vilification Endeavouring to move beyond simplistic points about the rights to freedom of expression and sacrosanctity this collection explores how differences between conceptions of the sacred can be negotiated It recognises that blasphemy may be justified as a form of political criticism as well as a sincere expression of spirituality But it also recognises that within a pluralistic society blasphemy in the arts can do an enormous amount of harm as it may also impair relations within and between societies This collection evolved out a two day conference called Negotiating the Sacred Blasphemy and Sacrilege in the Arts held at the Centre for Cross Cultural Research at The Australian National University in November 2005 This is the second volume in a series of five conferences and edited collections on the theme Negotiating the Sacred The first conference Negotiating the Sacred Blasphemy and Sacrilege in a Multicultural Society was held at The Australian National University s Centre for Cross Cultural Research in 2004 and published as an edited collection by ANU E Press in 2006 Other conferences in the series have included Religion Medicine and the Body ANU 2006 Tolerance Education and the Curriculum ANU 2007 and Governing the Family Monash University 2008 Together the series represents a major contribution to ongoing debates on the political demands arising from religious pluralism in multicultural societies

Reimagining the Caribbean Valérie K. Orlando, Sandra Cypess, 2014-07-01 This volume brings together scholars working in different languages Creole French English Spanish and modes of cultural production literature art film music to suggest how best to model courses that impart the rich vibrant and multivalent aspects of the Caribbean in the classroom Essays focus on discussing how best to cross languages histories and modes of discourse Instead of relying on available paradigms that depend on

Western ways of thinking the essays recommend methods to develop a pan Caribbean perspective in relation to notions of the self uses of language gender hierarchies and ideas of nationhood Contributors represent various disciplines work in one of the several languages of the Caribbean and offer essays that reflect different cadres of expertise Echo's Voice Mary Noonan, 2017-07-05 Helene Cixous 1937 distinguished not least as a playwright herself told Le Monde in 1977 that she no longer went to the theatre it presented women only as reflections of men used for their visual effect The theatre she wanted would stress the auditory giving voice to ways of being that had previously been silenced She was by no means alone in this Cixous's plays along with those of Nathalie Sarraute 1900-99 Marguerite Duras 1914-96 and Noelle Renaude 1949 among others have proved potent in drawing participants into a dynamic space of the voice If as psychoanalysis suggests voice represents a transitional condition between body and language such plays may draw their audiences in to understandings previously never spoken In this ground breaking study Noonan explores the rich possibilities of this new audio vocal form of theatre and what it can reveal of the auditory self Staging Creolization Emily Sahakian, 2017-07-20 In Staging Creolization Emily Sahakian examines seven plays by Ina C saire Maryse Condé Gerty Dambury and Simone Schwarz Bart that premiered in the French Caribbean or in France in the 1980s and 1990s and soon thereafter traveled to the United States Sahakian argues that these late twentieth century plays by French Caribbean women writers dramatize and enact creolization the process of cultural transformation through mixing and conflict that occurred in the context of the legacies of slavery and colonialism Sahakian here theorizes creolization as a performance based process dramatized by French Caribbean women's plays and enacted through their international production and reception histories The author contends that the syncretism of the plays is not a static fixed creole aesthetics but rather a dynamic process of creolization in motion informed by history and based in the African derived principle that performance is a space of creativity and transformation that connects past present and future Mise En Scene French Theatre Now Annie Sparks, Annie Stephenson, David Bradby, 2014-05-29 A invaluable survey of French theatre since 1968 Mise en Scene is a book in two parts The first half is a probing look at French theatre now providing an historical and critical survey of drama and theatre in France since 1968 It explores playwrights such as Samuel Beckett Marguerite Duras Michel Vinaver and Bernard Marie Kolt's and directors of international reputation such as Peter Brook Robert Wilson Roger Planchon Antoine Vitez Patrice Chereau and Ariane Mnouchkine The second part of Mise en Scene features a comprehensive listings guide to major theatre companies institutions festivals training schools and invaluable A-Z profiles of contemporary playwrights and directors from France
