

The Lives of Eve

exciting variety of plays drawing examples from marginalized groups as well as from the theatrical mainstream While fully engaged with the discourses of contemporary critical thought Sightlines remains focused on the material stuff of the theater grounding its discussion in the visual elements of costume movement and scenography And although focused specifically on performance the author's insistent interest in historical and political contexts also speaks to the broader concerns of cultural studies The book's recurrent concern with representations of Aboriginality particularly in the works of nonindigenous playwrights draws attention to racial politics as a perennial motif in postcolonial nations Its illumination of the relationships between patriarchy and imperialism is supported by an extensive discussion of plays by and about women This nomadic approach marks Sightlines as a groundbreaking study of recent Australian theater a provocative application of postcolonial theory to the embodied qualities of theatrical representation An impressive and ground breaking study that provides a coherent postcolonial approach to Australian drama Bill Ashcroft University of New South Wales Elegantly written and always beautifully lucid in its argument this is a very original work particularly in its marriage of performance theory and postcolonial analysis Deidre Coleman University of Sydney Helen Gilbert is Lecturer in Drama and Theatre Studies University of Queensland and co author with Joanne Tompkins of Post Colonial Drama Theory Practice Politics The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 An indispensable reference for the study of Australian literature Theatre Australia \(Un\)limited Geoffrey Milne, 2021-12-28 Theatre Australia Un limited tells a truly national story of the structures of post war Australian theatre its artists companies financial and policy underpinnings It gives an inclusive analysis of three waves of Australian theatrical activity after 1953 and the types of organisations which grew up to support and maintain them Subsidy repertoire patterns finances and administration theatre buildings companies festivals and notable productions of the commercial mainstream and alternative Australian theatre are examined state by state and changes to governmental policy analysed Theatrical forms comprise not only spoken word drama but also music theatre comedy theatre restaurant circus puppetry community theatre in several forms and new mixed media genres physical theatre circus visual theatre and contemporary performance Theatre Australia Un limited is the first comprehensive overview of the fortunes of Australian theatre as a national enterprise providing the industrial analysis of the three waves essential for the understanding of the New Wave and of contemporary drama Louis Nowra Veronica Kelly, 1987 The Rhetoric of Dystopia Christopher Carter, 2024-06-10 The Rhetoric of Dystopia develops an idea of emergent metalepsis that describes the uncanny moments where fictive texts anticipate material events blurring the boundary between the storyworld and the world of reception Christopher Carter treats dystopia as rhetoric that shapes collective identities while speeding across platforms and geopolitical borders at once critiquing and exemplifying the circulation of power relations through varied modes This rhetoric features rampant viruses authoritarian governments corporate behemoths corrupt educational and scientific institutions and brutal policing sometimes amplifying existing trends and sometimes merely documenting them

From Bong Joon ho to Reed Morano Octavia Butler to Richard McGuire artists proffer arguments whose gravity we often fail to register thus calling into question the uses of media literacy in an age of looming cataclysm Carter situates this rhetoric within scholarship on literacy built environments border policies global food production and the Anthropocene

Post-Colonial Drama Helen Gilbert, Joanne Tompkins, 2002-09-11 Post Colonial Drama is the first full length study to address the ways in which performance has been instrumental in resisting the continuing effects of imperialism It brings to bear the latest theoretical approaches from post colonial and performance studies to a range of plays from Australia Africa Canada New Zealand the Caribbean and other former colonial regions Some of the major topics discussed in Post Colonial Drama include the interactions of post colonial and performance theories the post colonial re stagings of language and history the specific enactments of ritual and carnival the theatrical citations of the post colonial body Post Colonial Drama combines a rich intersection of theoretical approaches with close attention to a wide range of performance texts Across the Lines, 2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries
