Playthings Of The Private House:

Playthings ,1929 Training of an English Gentleman Yolanda Celbridge,2010-07-31 Innocent Roger is embroiled in a world of lustful secrets His voyeuristic host and his wife their daughter and their maid all conspire to humiliate him by imposing severe corporal punishment However his virility satisfies the County Ladies and earns their respect becoming the true mark of an English Gentleman The Nineteenth-Century Child and Consumer Culture Dennis

Denisoff,2016-12-05 During the rise of consumer culture in the nineteenth century children and childhood were called on to fulfill a range of important roles In addition to being consumers themselves the young functioned as both goods to be used and consumed by adults and as proof that middle class materialist ventures were assisting in the formation of a more ethical society Children also provided necessary labor and raw material for industry This diverse collection addresses the roles assigned to children in the context of nineteenth century consumer culture at the same time that it remains steadfast in recognizing that the young did not simply exist within adult articulated cultural contexts but were agents in their formation Topics include toys and middle class childhood boyhood and toy theater child performers on the Victorian stage gender sexuality and consumerism imperialism in adventure fiction the idealization of childhood as a form of adult entertainment and self flattery the commercialization of orphans and the economics behind formulations of child poverty Together the essays demonstrate the rising investment both children and adults made in commodities as sources of identity and human worth Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce,1969 Toys and Playthings John Newson,Elizabeth Newson,2017-12-06 John and Elizabeth Newson were well known for their studies of child rearing which have combined a rigorous research methodology with sympathetic insights into family life and a lively approach to scientific reporting Path breaking brilliant seminal outstanding fascinating enthralling and enchanting are some of the adjectives used by critics to describe their previous books They now turn their attention to toys the pegs on which children hang their play a study for which they are uniquely qualified Not only had they long experience in normal child development they had been actively involved for many years in research and training in remedial play for disabled children their research unit was a major influence in the phenomenal development of the toy libraries self help movement they designed for and advised the toy industry and they had their own family run specialist toyshop With this background it is not surprising that their book on toys and playthings is both informative and entertaining on many different fronts Richly observant it follows the child s development in play from using the mother or father as the first and best toy through the exploratory and manipulative sequences to the use of toys in ritual symbolic or contemplative ways Against this detailed understanding of ordinary children s growth points in play the Newsons and their collaborators examine the special needs of disabled children with a firm emphasis on how parents can help What is more in providing an intensely practical guide for the parents and teachers of the disabled child they draw out comparative insights which are enlightening and absorbing for those whose children do not have such urgent problems Once again the Newsons share with the reader the viewpoints and preoccupations of research workers in the field There is indeed a continual sense of work in progress and nowhere more than in the chapter on using toys for developmental assessment where the reader is given a hot line to a laboratory i e playroom notes used in their own research unit at the time in a welcome move away from the rigid test bound assessment of special children The book is enriched by the authors sharp awareness that the history of playthings has a far longer perspective than the history of child psychology They are not basically interested in educational toys as such but in all the objects made or found on which the child hones his skill his reasoning powers his imagination his emotions or his sense of humour Fairground baubles joke toys and poppy head dolls are as much a part of this book as bricks sorting boxes and teddy bears In the Newsons own words We hope that people who simply like toys as objects will find something in this book to interest them we suspect indeed that liking toys will be what all readers whatever their reason for opening the book have in common The Greenwood Encyclopedia of World Popular Culture Gary Hoppenstand,2007 An encyclopedia describes all aspects of world culture broken down into six regional categories discussing the art dance fashion food pastimes periodicals recreation and transportation of each region

Consuming Agency in Fairy Tales, Childlore, and Folkliterature Susan Honeyman,2013-04-15 In this book Honeyman looks at manifestations of youth agency and representations of agency produced for youth as depicted in fairy tales childlore and folk literature investigating the dynamic of ideological manipulation and independent resistance as it can be read or expressed in bodies first through social puppetry and then through coercive temptation our consumption replacing the more obvious strings that bind us Reading tales like Popeye Hansel Gretel and Pinocchio Honeyman concentrates on the agency of young subjects through material relations especially where food signifies the invisible strings used to control them in popular discourse and practice modeling efforts to come out from under the hegemonic handler and take control at least of their own body spaces and ultimately finding that most examples indicate less power than the ideal holds The Teaching of Religion Roderick Aloysius MacEachen,1921 Herald of Health; Devoted to the Culture of the Body and Mind ,1873
