institutions that lie behind the contemporary urgency of world history Politics and Religion in the United Kingdom Steve Bruce, 2013-07-03 This important new volume seeks to provide significant contribution to our understanding of religion and politics demonstrating through comparisons with other countries the unusually complex nature of the interaction of religion and politics in the United Kingdom Bruce provides a detailed and comprehensive analysis of the field covering key topics including Religion and Violence in Northern Ireland A UK US comparison of the relationship between the church and the nation state Links between Protestantism and the rise of modern democracy The relationship between Methodism and Socialism The impact that ethnic minority status and religious values have on political alignment This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of religion politics and religious sociology The Sociology of War and Violence Siniša Malešević, 2010-06-10 War is a highly complex and dynamic form of social conflict This book demonstrates the importance of using sociological tools to understand the changing character of war and organised violence The author offers an original analysis of the historical and contemporary impact that coercion and warfare have on the transformation of social life and vice versa Although war and violence were decisive components in the formation of modernity most analyses tend to shy away from the sociological study of the gory origins of contemporary social life In contrast this book brings the study of organised violence to the fore by providing a wide ranging sociological analysis that links classical and contemporary theories with specific historical and geographical contexts Topics covered include violence before modernity warfare in the modern age nationalism and war war propaganda battlefield solidarity war and social stratification gender and organised violence and the new wars debate The Cold War and After Sean M. Cox, 2016-04-22 The study of indigenous religions has become an important academic field particularly since the religious practices of indigenous peoples are being transformed by forces of globalization and transcontinental migration This book will further our understanding of indigenous religions by first considering key methodological issues related to defining and contextualizing the religious practices of indigenous societies both historically and in socio cultural situations Two further sections of the book analyse cases derived from European contexts which are often overlooked in discussion of indigenous religions and in two traditional areas of study South America and Africa

Comparing Globalizations Thomas D. Hall, 2017-11-17 This work explores essential debates on globalization and world systems analysis It begins with a review of theoretical insights from world systems analysis and explains the evolution of its terminology The book subsequently seeks to answer several important questions When did globalization begin and what insights into contemporary globalization may be gained from older forms How does globalization differ in different places and how can different instances of globalization be compared Who is affected by globalization how are they affected and how do these effects vary if at all over time and space As world systems analysis and studies of globalization require interdisciplinary expertise the contributing authors draw on many fields including anthropology economics geography philosophy political science sociology and world history The book's overall goal is to facilitate the dialogue between approaches that at times seem to talk at cross purposes and to extend an invitation to scholars from many different areas to explore globalization

Globalism, Nationalism, Tribalism Paul James, 2006-04-20 Paul James has written a magnificent account of the world's current condition one that highlights the complexities and contradictions with which people communities and nations must contend and that does so in a compelling and creative style Stressing the interaction between global and local forces his writing style is lively and compelling as well as peppered with a wide range of citations from Woman's Day to the Cambodian Daily on the same page James N Rosenau University Professor of International Affairs The George Washington University Globalism Nationalism Tribalism establishes a new basis for understanding the changing nature of polity and community and offers unprecedented attention to these dominant trends Paul James charts the contradictions and tensions we all encounter in an era of increasing globalization from genocide and terrorism to television and finance capital Globalism is treated as an uneven and layered process of spatial expansion not simply one of disorder fragmentation or rupture Nor is it simply a force of homogenization Nationalism is taken seriously as a continuing and important formation of contemporary identity and politics James rewrites the modernism theories of the nation state without devolving into the postmodernist assertion that all is invention or surface gloss Tribalism is given the attention it has long warranted and is analyzed as a continuing and changing formation of social life from the villages of Rwanda to the cities of the West Theoretically adept and powerfully argued this is the first comprehensive analysis that brings these crucial themes of contemporary life together

Soft Boundaries Claire Detels, 1999-11-30 American education and culture are suffering from a terrible soul numbing imbalance in which there is an overemphasis on basic quantifiable skills and knowledge and a de emphasis of more creative areas of the humanities especially the arts and aesthetics Detels indicates that the marginalization of the arts and aesthetics in American education has been caused by a hard boundaried paradigm that has come to dominate American education According to this paradigm the arts are wrongly viewed and taught as separate unconnected disciplines of music visual arts dance and theater while their intimate connections to each other and to aesthetic experience and life in general are completely unrepresented The way out of this crisis is to change paradigms from a hard boundaried single minded valuation of specialization to a more soft boundaried curriculum that allows for specialized education in individual art forms as well as widespread interdisciplinary integration of the arts with each other and with general education at the K 12 and college levels Without such a change we will be unable to equip our students with the necessary skills to understand and communicate about the increasingly complex sensually immersive artistic media and forms of the future
