Plowing The Dark A Novel:

Plowing the Dark Richard Powers, 2001-08-11 On the shores of Puget Sound a band of virtual reality researchers is building an empty white room that can become a jungle a painting or a cathedral In a war torn Mediterranean city an American is held hostage in another empty white room These two remote places will be linked by the power of the imagination

Plowing the Dark Richard Powers, 2024-07-02 From the Pulitzer Prize winning author of Playground Plowing the Dark is virtual reality composed in a language that will never go obsolete Kevin Berger The San Francisco Chronicle Book Review In a digital laboratory on the shores of Puget Sound a band of virtual reality researchers races to complete the Cavern an empty white room that can become a jungle a painting or a vast Byzantine cathedral In a war torn Mediterranean city an American is held hostage chained to a radiator in another empty white room What can possibly join these two remote places Only the shared imagination a room that these people unwittingly build in common where they are all about to meet Adie Klarpol a skilled but disillusioned artist comes back to life revived by the thrill of working with cutting edge technology Against the collapse of Cold War empires and the fall of the Berlin Wall she retreats dangerously into the cyber realities she has been hired to create On the other side of the globe Taimur Martin an English teacher recovering from a failed love affair is picked up off the streets in Beirut by Islamic fundamentalists and held in solitary captivity Superb Powers pulls off one of the most astonishing feats I've ever seen in literature daring unpredictable and emotionally powerful Steven Moore The Washington Post Book World A fiercely visual book the effect is spectacular The most visceral prose Powers has ever written Daniel Zalewski The New York Times Book Review I don't have the space to do justice to all the wonders of craftsmanship in Plowing the Dark This is the first emblematic novel of the 21st century a lesson and an inspiration Judy Doenges The Seattle Times

Plowing the Dark Proof Richard Powers, 2000-08 Memorious Discourse Christian Moraru, 2005 While other types of discourse cover up gloss over or play down what they have borrowed and therefore owe the postmodern eagerly acknowledges its textual and cultural debt Moreover it turns this indebtedness into an unexpected source of creativity and originality In his wide ranging discussion of contemporary writers and theorists Moraru notes that postmodernism characteristically re presents That is it actively remembers and to use a musical term reprises former representations These need not be infinite in number as in Borges but must be and usually are retrieved with sufficient obviousness Jacket

Metamorphoses of (New) Media Julia Genz, Ulrike K  chler, 2016-01-14 The current success story of new media and the ongoing digitalisation of our world provide an illuminating starting point for the discussion of the powerful revolutions in our media and media uses initiated by the introduction of a ny new medium how do new media evolve and how do they relate to established old media and media uses What does the rise of new media and media uses imply for other discourses And not least which methodological and theoretical approaches help us to understand these developments Metamorphoses of New Media offers an international and interdisciplinary range of studies on these questions In examining the effects of new media and media uses in fields such as social discourse transmediality and aesthetics the essays in this collection engage with a great variety of examples from political debate on Twitter to digital storytelling and the game like experience of DVDs What these diverse perspectives share however is an approach to Metamorphoses of New Media as an ongoing recursive process of change that initiates dialogue and casts light on existing discursive medial and aesthetic models

Pluralist Desires Philipp Löffler, 2015 Excavates the contemporary revival of 19th century cultural pluralism revealing how American novelists since the 1990s have appropriated the historical novel in the pursuit of selfhood rather than truth fundamentally repositioning the genre in American culture

Understanding Richard Powers Joseph Dewey, 2002 Dewey contends that while Powers's novels investigate the most pressing issues of the new millennium the novelist is most deeply interested in the same thematic argument that consumed Ralph Waldo Emerson and Emily Dickinson the problem of the self the deep and unshakable loneliness that has always been at the heart of the American literary imagination

Hybrid Fictions Daniel Grassian, 2015-09-11 Since the 1960s academics have theorized that literature is on its way to becoming obsolete or at the very least has lost part of its power as an influential medium of social and cultural critique This work argues against that misconception and maintains that contemporary American literature is not only alive and well but has grown in significant ways that reflect changes in American culture during the last twenty years In addition this work argues that beginning in the 1980s a new allied generation of American writers born from the late 1950s to the early 1970s has emerged whose hybrid fiction blend distinct elements of previous American literary movements and contain divided social cultural and ethnic allegiances The author explores psychological philosophical ethnic and technological hybridity The author also argues for the importance of and need for literature in contemporary America and considers its future possibilities in the realms of the Internet and hypertext

David Foster Wallace Neal Stephenson Douglas Coupland Sherman Alexie William Vollmann Michele Serros and Dave Eggers are among the writers whose hybrid fictions are discussed

Cognitive Fictions Joseph Tabbi, 2002 The first comprehensive look at the effect of new technologies on contemporary American fiction Bringing together cognitive science and literary analysis to map a new media ecology Cognitive Fictions limns an evolutionary process in which literature must find its place in an artificial environment partly produced and thoroughly mediated by technological means Joseph Tabbi provides a penetrating account of a developing consciousness emerging from the struggle between print and electronic systems of communication Central to Tabbi's work is the relation between the arrangement of communicating modules that cognitive science uses to describe the human mind and the arrangement of visual verbal and aural media in our technological culture He looks at particular literary works by Thomas Pynchon Richard Powers David Markson Lynne Tillman Paul Auster and others as both inscriptions of thought consistent with distributed cognitive models and as self creations out of the media environment The first close reading of contemporary American writing in the light of systems theory and cognitive science Cognitive Fictions makes needed sense of how the moment by moment operations of human thought find narrative form in a world increasingly defined by competing and often incompatible representations

The Metanarrative Hall of Mirrors Garrett Stewart, 2022-03-10 With its laser focus on the verbal and visual infrastructure of narrative The Metanarrative Hall of Mirrors is the first sustained comparative study of how image patterns are tracked in prose and cinema In film examples ranging from Citizen Kane through Apocalypse Now to Blade Runner 2049 then on to Christopher Nolan's 2020 Tenet Garrett Stewart follows the shift from celluloid to digital cinema through various narrative manifestations of the image from freeze frames to computer generated special effects By bringing cinema alongside literature Stewart discovers a common tendency in contemporary storytelling in both prose and visual narrative from the ongoing trend of mind game films to the often puzzling narrative eccentricities of such different writers as Nicholson Baker and Richard Powers including the latter's eerie mirroring of reader empathy in his 2021 Bewilderment The New York Times Book Reviews 2000 New York Times Staff, 2001 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context dating and sources character analysis comic elements and verbal conceits evidence of authorship performance analysis and feminist interpretations Alongside theater reviews production photographs and critical commentary the volume also includes essays written by practicing theater artists who have worked on the play An index by name literary work and concept rounds out this valuable resource

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James's The Ambassadors to McCarthy's The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distill the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Literary Rooms Katharina Christ-Pielensticker, 2021-03-26 The four prose texts discussed in Literary Rooms position themselves in a literary tradition which highlights the manifold purposes the private room may serve it is a mirror of the inhabitant a context in which to position the self a place of and motor for identity quests a rich metaphor and a second skin around the inhabitant's physical body Even in times of increasing globalization and urbanization the room continues to root the inhabitant it serves as a retreat from the world and as a place in which to renegotiate questions of belonging gender class and ethnicity At the same time the room is inevitably porous and constantly oscillates between inclusion and exclusion The literary texts examined in this book are each highly fragmented and gesture towards a fragmentation of the contemporary world out of which they have grown as well as towards an abundance of fragmented self images Linking the approaches of narratology globalization and spatial criticism Literary Rooms argues that in order to account for the spatial properties of the room discourses developed during the spatial turn need to be extended and reevaluated The Novel of Human Rights James Dawes,2018-09-12 James Dawes defines a new dynamic American literary genre which takes as its theme a range of atrocities at home and abroad This vibrant and modern genre incorporates key debates within the human rights movement in the U S and in turn influences the ideas and rhetoric of that discourse Twynne Companion to Contemporary Literature in English from the Editors of the Hollins Critic Richard H. W. Dillard,Amanda Cockrell,2003 This new title offers a unique collection of critical essays on writers of poetry and fiction of the past 25 years This two volume anthology provides detailed updated entries on approximately 100 American Canadian British and Irish writers including Maya Angelou John Ashbery Mary Gaitskill Ted Hughes Toni Morrison Michael Ondaatje Thomas Pynchon and Anne Tyler Rewiring the Real Mark C. Taylor,2013-01-22 Digital and electronic technologies that act as extensions of our bodies and minds are changing how we live think act and write Some welcome these developments as bringing humans closer to unified consciousness and eternal life Others worry that invasive globalized technologies threaten to destroy the self and the world Whether feared or desired these innovations provoke emotions that have long fueled the religious imagination suggesting the presence of a latent spirituality in an era mistakenly deemed secular and posthuman William Gaddis Richard Powers Mark Danielewski and Don DeLillo are American authors who explore this phenomenon thoroughly in their work Engaging the works of each in conversation Mark C Taylor discusses their sophisticated representations of new media communications information and virtual technologies and their transformative effects on the self and society He focuses on Gaddis s The Recognitions Powers s Plowing the Dark Danielewski s House of Leaves and DeLillo s Underworld following the interplay of technology and religion in their narratives and their imagining of the transition from human to posthuman states Their challenging ideas and inventive styles reveal the fascinating ways religious interests affect emerging technologies and how in turn these technologies guide spiritual aspirations To read these novels from this perspective is to see them and the world anew Contemporary Fiction and the Ethics of Modern Culture J. Karnicky,2007-03-05 This book argues for the ethical relevancy of contemporary fiction at the beginning of the twenty first century Through reading novels by such writers as David Foster Wallace Richard Powers and Irvine Welsh this book looks at how these works seek to transform the ways that readers live in the world Writing Travel John Zilcosky,2008-11-13 Interest in travel writing has grown rapidly within the disciplines of postcolonial and cultural studies however recent scholarship has failed to place travel writing within the larger literary tradition Writing Travel assembles a superb collection of essays that demonstrate how travel attempts to reconfigure the world and in so doing to become a metaphor for imagination subjectivity and representation itself Examining a broad range of texts and travellers from across the world the contributors discuss canonical authors such as Homer Goethe and Baudelaire alongside lesser known writers such as Theodor Herzl Hans Erich Nossack and William Gibson This theoretically rich volume draws connections between travel and narrative and provides powerful insights into the relationship between travel and the spoken act of storytelling as well as the more ambivalent act of story writing An engaging collection of essays by first rate scholars Writing Travel is an illuminating exploration of the history of travel writing its influence on other literary genres and the origins of narrative
