Leading for Powerful Learning Angela Breidenstein, Kevin Fahey, Carl Glickman, Frances Hensley, 2015-04-25

Supporting teacher learning is a complicated and challenging task. This much awaited book offers a practical research based framework for thinking about instructional leadership along with the necessary resources and tools for improving practice. The authors identify specific structures, formats and strategies that an instructional leader can use to support new and veteran principals and teacher leaders. They then discuss ways to think about which structures are most appropriate for particular settings, offering suggestions on the most effective way to work with these structures. This unique book combines theory with best practices to create a vision of how 21st century instructional leaders can improve education for all students. This practical book describes a unique adult learning framework. Includes a variety of tools and protocols that leaders can use to support teacher learning in schools, districts, departments and teams. Offers instructional leaders both theory and practice: the what to do and also the why and how. Addresses a broad spectrum of instructional leaders at the district, school and university level. Students everywhere deserve teachers and administrators who have read this book and who enact the ideas in it. It is a must read for principals, district level administrators, teacher leaders, instructional coaches and mentors, anyone charged with leading the learning of adults in their schools. Gene Thompson, Grove Educational Consultant and Board Member, School Reform Initiative. Leading for Powerful Learning is the book every school leader needs. It provides the essential tools for carrying out what is arguably the school leader's most difficult task: supporting the learning of the teachers with whom they work. The authors' insights and practical wisdom, drawn from their decades of experience in schools, will be useful not only to formal school leaders but to those serving as leaders in more informal ways. Tina Blythe, Harvard Graduate School of Education. Powerful Learning Communities, Oscar T. Lenning, Denise M. Hill, Kevin P. Saunders, Andria Stokes, Alisha Solan, 2023-07-03. Learning communities have been demonstrated to dramatically improve student outcomes by engaging students in their learning. This book constitutes a comprehensive guide for readers who want a broad strategic view of learning communities, enabling them to identify which type of LC best meets the learning needs of their students and the context and mission of their institution. It also provides the tools for planning, designing and implementing what the authors define as powerful LCs and for understanding the assessment implications of their decisions. The potential power of LCs is realized through effective facilitation, appropriate team building activities, linkages, planning and active collaboration that promotes learning of the group and the individual group members, all of which topics are covered in this volume. This book is organized around the three themes of setting the stage, designing an LC and building or enhancing a powerful LC and covers three types of learning communities: student, professional, faculty staff and institutional LCs concerned with student learning, providing a range of tools and forms to facilitate planning. The authors also address designing and maintaining hybrid and virtual LCs. This book is intended as a practical resource for anyone at any level in higher education who wants to champion, develop or redesign student or professional LCs or even explore broader initiatives to develop their institution into a learning organization. Administrators in academic and student affairs will find guidance for setting appropriate policies and allocating resources The book may also serve as a textbook for graduate courses in institutional leadership and policy studies curriculum and instruction student affairs or assessment evaluation Rebuilding Students' Learning Power Zaretta Hammond, 2025-07-29 Ensure all your students are ready to tackle rigorous content To understand the achievement gaps that persist in our schools despite years of equity initiatives we must look to the insidious legacy of segregated schools and the deliberate underdevelopment of diverse students cognitive abilities Uprooting this cognitive redlining requires we reimagine instruction for our most vulnerable learners so they can rebuild their brains learning muscles Rebuilding Students Learning Power outlines a five step process to coach students to strengthen their natural learning abilities while dismantling over scaffolding of instruction the number one contributor to cognitive redlining Additional features include A cognitive apprenticeship model that recenters the student as the primary actor in the classroom Guidance for administrators instructional coaches instructional leadership teams and teachers to collaborate in creating sustainable liberatory teaching practices A how to plan to build teacher capacity to coach students in becoming good information processors Building on the popular Ready for Rigor™ framework from her bestselling book Culturally Responsive Teaching and the Brain author Zaretta Hammond offers a practical roadmap for closing the knowing doing gap grounded in the science of learning This essential resource is for educators instructional coaches and school leaders who are committed to moving the needle on academic achievement in their districts Powering Up Students Graham Powell, Guy Claxton, 2019-05-31 In Powering Up Students The Learning Power Approach to high school teaching Guy Claxton and Graham Powell detail the small tweaks to daily practice that will help high school teachers boost their students learning dispositions and attitudes Foreword by John Hattie The Learning Power Approach LPA is a pedagogical formula which aims to develop all students as confident and capable learners ready willing and able to choose design research pursue troubleshoot and evaluate learning for themselves alone and with others in school and out This approach therefore empowers teachers to complement their delivery of content knowledge and skills with the nurturing of positive habits of mind that will better prepare students to flourish in later life Building upon the foundations carefully laid in The Learning Power Approach ISBN 9781785832451 the first book in the Learning Power series Guy Claxton and Graham Powell s Powering Up Students embeds the ideas of this influential method in the context of the high school It offers a thorough explanation of how the LPA s design principles apply to this level of education and by presenting a wide range of practical strategies and classroom examples illustrates how they can be put into action with different age groups and in different curricular areas especially relating to literacy and numeracy but also in specific subjects such as science history geography and design technology All teachers can foster the capacity of students to be for example curious attentive imaginative rational and reflective and Guy and Graham provide clear guidance on how this can be achieved Step by step they explore all aspects of pedagogy from how to make learning compelling and challenging to how best to make use of the environment for learning from how to coach students so that they become more independent and
