New York Architecture A History:

New York 1880 Robert A.M. Stern, Thomas Mellins, David Fishman, 1999-04-01 This is the fourth volume in architect and historian Robert A M Stern's monumental series of documentary studies of New York City architecture and urbanism The three previous books in the series New York 1900 New York 1930 and New York 1960 have comprehensively covered the architects and urban planners who defined New York over the course of the twentieth century In this volume Stern turns back to 1880 the end of the Civil War the beginning of European modernism to trace the earlier history of the city This dynamic era saw the technological advances and acts of civic and private will that formed the identity of New York City as we know it today The installation of water telephone and electricity infrastructures as well as the advent of electric lighting the elevator and mass transit allowed the city to grow both out and up The office building and apartment house types were envisioned and defined changing the ways that New Yorkers worked and lived Such massive public projects as the Brooklyn Bridge and Central Park became realities along with such private efforts as Grand Central Station Like the other three volumes New York 1880 is an in depth presentation of the buildings and plans that transformed New York from a harbor town into a world class metropolis A broad range of primary sources critics and writers architects planners city officials brings the time period to life and allows the city to tell its own complex story The book is generously illustrated with over 1 200 archival photographs which show the city as it was and as some parts of it still are New York Architecture Amanda Johnson, 2003 This newest title in the Universe architecture series is a popular survey and iconic history of New York City architecture A must have for architects students and New Yorkers the book includes an in depth study of twenty five of New York's most important buildings Organized chronologically the projects cover the major architectural periods in New York as affected by changes in the city's population economy politics and historic events The book examines such classic landmarks as Grand Central Station the Flatiron Building and Gracie Mansion such renowned skyscrapers as the Woolworth Building the Chrysler Building and the Empire State Building and recent architectural masterpieces such as the LVMH building completed a year ago

New York 1960 Robert A. M. Stern, Thomas Mellins, David Fishman, 1995 New York 1960 is a massive in depth study of the city during a period of unprecedented change This volume 1 344 pages with more than 1 000 detailed illustrations including new and period photographs is part of an ongoing series on the history of New York's architecture and urbanism Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved

A History of Housing in New York City Richard Plunz, 1990 Since its emergence in the mid nineteenth century as the nation's metropolis New York has faced the most challenging housing problems of any American city but it has also led the nation in innovation and reform Plunz traces New York's housing development from 1850 to the present exploring the housing of all classes discussing the development of types ranging from the single family house to the high rise apartment tower

A History of American Architecture Mark Gelernter, 2001 Why did the colonial Americans give over a significant part of their homes to a grand staircase Why did the

Victorians drape their buildings ornate decoration And why did American buildings grow so tall in the last decades of the 19th century This book explores the history of American architecture from prehistoric times to the present explaining why characteristic architectural forms arose at particular times and in particular places Seeking New York Tom Miller,2015 Based on the popular blog Daytonian in Manhattan Seeking New York investigates the back stories of Manhattan s architecture and monuments Alongside the expected account of architects dates and styles it reveals the human history of the buildings and statues the scandals the tribulations the joys and achievements the humanity indeed of the New Yorkers who lived within these walls Meet Dorothy Parker S J Perelman Talullah Bankhead and Irving Berlin at the Algonquin Round Table Maisie Plant who persuaded her husband to sell his Fifth Avenue palazzo to Cartier for 100 and a pearl necklace James and Abby Gibbons whose Chelsea home was one of the stations on the Underground Railroad by which fugitive slaves found their way from the South to Canada Perhaps you would rather not meet Jack the Rat who for a dime would bite the head off a live mouse for a quarter he d do the same to a rat or Ivan Poderjay who left his bride s apartment for their honeymoon with her body in a steamer trunk Here the ever changing face of Manhattan is captured through the structures and their stories
