Man-Made Future Iain Boyd Whyte, 2006-12-19 This anthology of essays by a group of distinguished scholars investigates post 1945 city planning in Britain not from a technical viewpoint but as a polemical visual and educational phenomenon shifting the focus of scholarly interest towards the often neglected emotional and aesthetic aspects of post war planning Each essay is grounded in original archival research and sheds new light on this critical era in the development of modern town planning This collection is a valuable resource for architectural social and urban historians as well as students and researchers offering new insights into the development of the mid twentieth century city

Deleuze Dictionary Revised Edition Adrian Parr, 2010-09-13 This is the first and only dictionary dedicated to the work of Gilles Deleuze It provides an in depth and lucid introduction to one of the most influential figures in continental philosophy It defines and contextualises more than 150 terms that relate to Deleuze s philosophy and explains the main intellectual influences on Deleuze as well as the influence Deleuze has had on subjects such as feminism cinema postcolonial theory geography and cultural studies In this revised edition there are expanded entries on architecture cinema and psychoanalysis key areas where interest in Deleuze has grown in recent years

Agency Florian Kossak, Doina Petrescu, Tatjana Schneider, Renata Tyszczyk, Stephen Walker, 2009-12-04 While the potential of agency is most frequently taken to be the power and freedom to act for oneself for the architectural community this also involves the power and responsibility to act as intermediaries on behalf of others Presenting current thinking from practitioners and scholars from around the world this book asks for a more active relationship between the humanities the architectural profession and society Considering issues of architectural research as an agency of transformation this book explores how humanities research can better contribute towards understanding current architectural needs Emerging Landscapes Davide Deriu, Krystallia Kamvasinou, 2016-05-06 Emerging Landscapes brings together scholars and practitioners working in a wide range of disciplines within the fields of the built environment and visual arts to explore landscape as an idea an image and a material practice in an increasingly globalized world Drawing on the synergies between the fields of architecture and photography this collection takes a multidisciplinary approach combining practice based research with scholarly essays It explores and critically reassesses the interface between representation the imaginary and symbolic shaping of the human environment and production the physical and material changes wrought on the land At a time of environmental crisis and the end of nature shifting geopolitical boundaries and economic downturn Emerging Landscapes reflects on the state of landscape and its future mapping those practices that creatively address the boundaries between possibility opportunity and action in imagining and shaping landscape

Vertical Stephen Graham, 2016-11-08 A revolutionary reimagining of the cities we live in the air above us and what goes on in the earth beneath our feet Today we live in a world that can no longer be read as a two dimensional map but must now be understood as a series of vertical strata that reach from the satellites that encircle our planet to the tunnels deep within the ground In Vertical Stephen Graham rewrites the city at every level how the geography of inequality politics and identity is determined in terms of above and below Starting at the edge of earth's atmosphere and in a series of riveting studies descending through each layer Graham explores the world of drones the city from the viewpoint of an aerial bomber the design of sidewalks and the hidden depths of underground bunkers He asks why was Dubai built to be seen from Google Earth How do the super rich in S o Paulo live in their penthouses far above the street Why do London billionaires build vast subterranean basements And how do the technology of elevators and subversive urban explorers shape life on the surface and subsurface of the earth Vertical will make you look at the world around you anew this is a revolution in understanding your place in the world

New Directions in Sustainable Design Adrian Parr, Michael Zaretsky, 2010-10-09 This book brings together new and emerging perspectives on sustainability Combining a series of well know authors in contemporary philosophy with established practitioners of sustainable design it develops a coherent theoretical framework for how a philosophy of sustainability might engage with the growing practice of sustainable design
