Passin Through:

Just Passin' Thru Winton Porter, 2009-12-01 Like a well crafted stage play Just Passin Thru delivers one suspenseful scene after another But in this historic setting a store on the Appalachian Trail called Mountain Crossings the characters who show up are no fictional creations They are the real life stars of the author s new life as a backpack purging canteen selling hostel running bandage taping lost child finding argument settling romance fixing chili making man of many faces Like any good drama there are the good guys and gals and the weirdos too Some show up once and that s enough and some appear again and again Some are friends and some dangerous But all are united by two things the author s story capturing talent and whatever it is that lures them to attempt or conquer a 2 200 mile path that climbs and plummets from Georgia to Maine

Allan Dwan and the Rise and Decline of the Hollywood Studios Frederic Lombardi, 2013-03-05 It could be said that the career of Canadian born film director Allan Dwan 1885 1981 began at the dawn of the American motion picture industry Originally a scriptwriter Dwan became a director purely by accident Even so his creativity and problem solving skills propelled him to the top of his profession He achieved success with numerous silent film performers most spectacularly with Douglas Fairbanks Sr and Gloria Swanson and later with such legendary stars as Shirley Temple and John Wayne Though his star waned in the sound era Dwan managed to survive through pluck and ingenuity Considering himself better off without the fame he enjoyed during the silent era he went on to do some of his best work for second echelon studios notably Republic Pictures Sands of Iwo Jima and such independent producers as Edward Small Along the way Dwan also found personal happiness in an unconventional manner Rich in detail with two columns of text in each of its nearly 400 pages and with more than 150 photographs this book presents a thorough examination of Allan Dwan and separates myth from truth in his life and films

The Griffith Project, Volume 9 Paolo Cherchi Usai, 2019-07-25 No other silent film director has been so extensively studied as D W Griffith However only a small group of his more than 500 films has been the subject of a systematic analysis and the vast majority of his other works stills await proper examination For the first time in film studies the complete creative output of Griffith from Professional Jealousy 1907 to The Struggle 1931 will be explored in this multi volume collection of contributions from an international team of leading scholars in the field

Passin' Through Louis L'Amour, 1985 Mr Passin still had rope burns from a noose that didn t do its job Now there will be hell to pay

Our Country/Whose Country? Richard Abel, 2023 The concept of settler colonialism offers an invaluable lens to reframe early westerns and travel pictures as re enactments of the United States repressed past Westerns in particular propose a remarkable vision of white settlers westward expansion that reveals a transformation in what American Progress came to mean Initially these films tracked settlers moving westward across the Appalachians Great Plains and Rockies Their seizure of empty land provoked continual resistance from Indigenous peoples and Mexicans pioneers suffered extreme hardships but heroic male figures usually scattered or wiped out those aliens Some films indulged in nostalgic empathy for the Indian as a

Vanishing American In the early 1910s westerns became increasingly popular In Indian pictures Native Americans ranged from devious savages victims of white violence and Noble Savages to in between figures caught between cultures and mixed descent peoples partnered for security or advantage Mexicans took positions across a similar spectrum In cowboy and cowgirl films ordinary whites became heroes and heroines fighting outlaws and bandits like Broncho Billy underwent transformation into good badmen The mid to late 1910s saw a shift as Indian pictures and cowgirl films faded and male figures embodied by movie stars dominated popular series In different ways William S Hart and Harry Carey reinvented the good badman as a stoic if troubled figure of white masculinity In cowboy films of comic romance Tom Mix engaged in dangerous stunts and donned costumes that made him a fashionable icon In parodies Douglas Fairbanks subverted the myth of American Progress sporting a nonchalant grin of effortless self confidence Nearly all of their films assumed firmly settled white communities rarely threatened by Indians or Mexicans Masked as Manifest Destiny the expropriation of the West seemed settled once and for all Our Country Whose Country offers a rich and expansive examination of the significance of early westerns and travel pictures in the ideological foundations of our country

Soil and Water Conservation Structures Fred W. Blaisdell,Harry Hunt Converse,Herman F. Mayes,W. M. Bugbee,Bryon S. Miller,Albert H. Graves,1976 Kane Moss C. D. Tuttle,2015-07-24 Charged by their elders to hunt down the band of ruthless murderers that raided their village a small posse of six set out on a blood hunt Little did they know that the trail of destruction and murder would lead them from their burned village in Wyoming across unsettled lands to Mexico Severely outnumbered they relentlessly pursue the raiders with a fierceness passed down from their mountain folk ancestors One of the posse members is a woman with a burning desire come hell or high water to take revenge on those that killed her brother and sister Through false leads blunders and marauding Indians they manage to catch up to the raiders in the lawless village of Ojinaga Here they find they are also up against the Mexican Rurales The odds of success are overwhelmingly against them as Kane Moss and his small posse faces the intemperate and ruthless Klatchard Bordiaz a much feared vicious killer and gang leader The Call of the Cumberlands Charles Neville Buck,1913 Riding the Dark Frontier II Thirteen O'Clock Press,2016-10-05 Legends abound of The American Wild West

but many secrets remain The stories in this collection expose The Weird West the tales of monsters astonishing creatures and marvelous phenomenon that have not yet been told Ride the Dark Frontier in this landscape of fantasy and horror where danger and wonder await behind every turn of the trail      Montana Territory Charles G. West,2020-07-28 From Spur Award winning author Charles G West comes a blistering tale of the American West where guns are the law good men are outnumbered and sudden death is a way of life MASSACRE IN MONTANA Raised among the Blackfoot John Hawk is a valuable asset to the US Army As a military scout at Fort Ellis he is able to cross the line between two worlds and help keep the peace But when he disobeys a direct order from his commander Hawk is immediately dismissed from his post That was the army s first mistake The second was losing track of a small mule train en route to Helena At the request of his former lieutenant Hawk leaves his cabin on the Boulder River to help find the missing party The mule train it appears was ambushed by a savage gang of outlaws Most of the travelers were murdered Only a few survived to tell the tale And now it s up to Hawk to stalk the killers across the lawless Montana territory alone No backup No calvary No mercy Rarely has an author painted the great American West in strokes so bold vivid and true Ralph Compton      The Call of the Cumberlands Charles Neville Buck,2019-09-25 Reproduction of the original The Call of the Cumberlands by Charles Neville Buck      Above Isla Morley,2014-03-04 Abducted and locked in an abandoned missile silo by a mad survivalist a Kansas teen endures loneliness and despair while struggling to raise a baby in isolation before escaping into a world more changed than she anticipated

Exempt from Fear Nick Wright,2012-08-29 Following the Civil War our re united nation was booming a railroad had stitched it together and men of all kinds flooded west by the thousands Among them boys in blue who had dreamed of homesteading and boys in gray escaping the Souths postwar anarchy The West was wildjust the place for a generation of restless young men who had survived the most bitter war in the countrys history It was a place where a man might lose himself and some did When a man went west he went with a clean slate In this unrestrained setting Exempt From Fear continues Nick Wrights fictional saga of his great grandfather Timothy Barnes as he leads a handful of dedicated men from his former CSA Ranger command in confrontations not only with enemies from their past but with newly discovered foes as well The only failure to mar their wartime record has returned to haunt them Once again they must join forces to protect their friends and the fascinating group of women to whom they were attracted from villains seeking easy money and others seeking revenge They stood shoulder to shoulder throughout the War and survived They believed in standing tall in the face of trouble in being their own man and to never let down a friend These men were not trouble hunters but when faced with it they knew what to do      Black Sheep Ray "BEN" Studevent,2021-05-04 A captivating memoir of a biracial boy growing up in Washington D C abandoned by his birth parents and lovingly raised by a woman with deep emotional scars from her upbringing in the segregated South The unforgettable memoir Black Sheep opens with a middle aged Ray Studevent returning to Washington D C to his momma Lemell Studevent She didn t give birth to him but she is the woman who raised him She is the woman who stood by him through thick and thin She is the woman who saved his life But now in her late 80s Lemell is lost to her Alzheimer s disease On most days she has no idea who she is no recollection of the remarkable life she has lived Every once in a while she remembers small fragments of people places and things but she doesn t know how all of these pieces fit together At night she is often haunted by nightmares of growing up in the segregated South of evil men with blue eyes peering through slits in their hooded robes Frightened by Ray this stranger this white man with his piercing blue eyes she threatens to shoot him Trying not to get swept up in his own buried decades old feelings of abandonment Ray knows he must work to regain her trust as he thinks back to how far they both have come Ray Studevent grew up between two worlds Born to a white heroin addicted mother and a black violent alcoholic father the odds were stacked against him from day one When his parents abandoned him at the age of five after living in a world no child should experience he was saved from the foster care system by his father s uncle Calvin who offered him stability and a loving home When Calvin tragically died two years later it was up to his widow Lemell to raise Ray But this was no easy task Lemell grew up in the brutality of segregated Mississippi emotionally scarred and justifiably resenting white people Now she must confront these demons as she raises a mixed race child white on the outside black on the inside on the eastern side of the Anacostia River the blackest part of the blackest city in America This is a time of heightened racial tension not long after the assassination of Dr Martin Luther King Jr and the D C race riots There are guidelines if you are black different rules if you are white but only mixed messages for mixed race children who must fight for acceptance as they struggle to find their identity As Dr My Haley the widow of Roots author Alex Haley wrote in the Foreword for Black Sheep Ray s pathway to manhood came not through the people who taught him what to do but through the woman who taught him how to be even as she learned for herself how to be At a time when we are all reexamining the complex issues of race identity disenfranchisement and belonging this compelling true story shows us what is possible when we trust our hearts and follow the path of love Die with the

Outlaws William W. Johnstone,J.A. Johnstone,2020-04-28 Johnstone Country Cross at Your Own Risk On the lawless frontiers of the American West there is one rule every outlaw should remember Never cross a mountain man like Matt Jensen Not if you want to keep breathing DIE WITH THE OUTLAWS No gun No horse No water or food And worse yet No idea how he ended up in the middle of a desert with a bullet in his leg and a bump on his head That s the sorry situation Matt Jensen wakes up to dazed and confused until he slowly pieces together what happened The last thing he remembers He agreed to help out a friend of Duff MacCallister s A pretty lady and her husband at a horse ranch He also recalls their cross country trip through hell to deliver the horses safely to market That s when the outlaws showed up That s when the shooting began That s when everything went dark But now Matt Jensen is alive and well and living for revenge No time to lose No holding back And before it s all over no trigger happy horsethief left standing Live Free Read Hard www.williamjohnstone.net Visit us at www.kensingtonbooks.com Short Grass George Washington Ogden,1927
