Passing Of Starr Faithful:

The Passing of Starr Faithfull Jonathan Goodman, 1996 This work winner of the Crime Writers Association's Gold Dagger Award provides an account of the international scandal and media activity surrounding the death of Starr Faithfull in 1931. Granted access to the police dossier the author arrives at an unexpected yet credible conclusion. Blood & Ink Albert Borowitz, 2002 The interplay between crime fact and crime fiction can be detected back to literature's earliest beginnings. True crime has long been the basis of many plots of memorable literature from Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter to Jean Genet's play The Maids there has often been blood on the page. The Boston Police Strike of 1919 Willard M. Oliver, 2023-09-15 At 5:45 p.m. on September 9, 1919 Boston was effectively without a police force leaving the city victim to four days of crime, looting and violence. Ordered to disband their newly organized police union the officers voted to walk off their posts in protest leading to the greatest tragedy in American policing the Boston Police Strike of 1919. This is a compelling account of the historical antecedents that led to the strike and its complex political and societal ramifications. Through meticulous research Oliver explores the perspectives and motivations of all involved from the police officers attempting to unionize to the city's leaders trying to retain command and control of its patrolmen. The Emotional Life of the Great Depression John Marsh, 2019 A new take on the Great Depression that offers a fresh perspective on the 1930s by expanding the canon of Great Depression emotions beyond despair and fear and by mining a wonderfully eclectic archive of sources. The Political Life of Reverend Roland D. Sawyer Tyler L. Wolanin, 2024-05-29 Roland D. Sawyer was a Western Massachusetts state legislator who over a half century in politics tackled some of the state's thorniest issues. The Political Life of Reverend Roland D. Sawyer by Tyler L. Wolanin offers insight into legislative politics in Massachusetts as the state underwent political and economic transitions urbanization and unrest. Though Sawyer never attained high office his longevity and influence allowed him to shape the policy debate on issues such as voting and elections prohibition and criminal justice reform. As a minister former socialist sometime radical and cog in the machine Sawyer instigated investigations and impeachments lost elections saw a friend become president had half of his district flooded to make a reservoir and fell into and out of favor with some of the most famous power players in Massachusetts history. Emerging from this book Sawyer is portrayed as one of the most interesting Massachusetts political figures from the first half of the twentieth century. Bloody Versicles Jonathan Goodman, 1993 An updated and enlarged edition of an annotated collection originally published more than 20 years ago Bloody Versicles serves as two books in one an anthology of ribald moralistic sad yet amusing and entertaining verse relating to specific crimes and a small encyclopedia of select criminals and their wrongdoings. Some of the crhymes such as Lizzie Borden took an axe are famous but most are familiar only to students of particular cases. They have been selected from sources in the United States England and Scotland Australia and France and are representative of all major categories of offenses with murder inspiring the largest section. Crime, Gender, and Sexuality in Criminal Prosecutions Louis A. Knafla, 2002-07-30 Knafla and his contributors explore the common problems and issues that emerge from the study of class and gender in criminal prosecutions ranging from late medieval Europe to the early 20th century. The chapters demonstrate that conceptions of crime and criminal behavior are influenced decisively by the roles of class, gender, and later race as societies evolve in search of continuity and conformity. The seven chapters in this volume, together with a major book review essay and critical reviews of sixteen major works in the area, reinforce the series as a major forum for exploring new directions in criminal justice research as it relates to issues and problems of class, gender, and race in their historical, criminological, legal, and social aspects. The chapters explore common themes and issues that emerge from the study of class and gender through policing and criminal prosecutions in the local community to growing attempts of the new nation-state to gain control of the prosecutorial system. Trevor Dean and Lee Beier examine prosecutorial energy in local communities of 15th and 16th century Europe and see instruments of peace agreement and war prosecution and conviction as worthy institutions of social control. Andrea Knox studies the prosecution of Irish women, finding that they were prominent as perpetrators of crime as well as victims. Antony Simpson shows how sexual indiscretions developed the law of blackmail in the 18th century, influencing subtle changes in gender roles. David Englander's study of Henry Mayhew reinterprets the role of class in the criminal prosecutions of the 19th century, while Arvind Verma and Philippa Levine extend the roles of class and gender that had been developed in the criminal justice system into the imperial colonies of south-east and east Asia in the 19th and early 20th centuries. An important resource for scholars, students, and researchers involved with legal, political, social, and women's history, criminal justice studies, sociology, and criminology, and criminal law.

Tracks to Murder Jonathan Goodman, 2005 Prize-winning English crime historian Jonathan Goodman visited a number of cities where notorious murders occurred as he embarked on a 6000-mile train trip across the United States. As a true crime book, Tracks to Murder is witty and informative and enriches the classic American murder cases by placing them within their original settings. As a travel book, it presents the seasoned reflections of a cultivated English writer on American manners and morals observed during his transcontinental journey.

A Book of Memories William H. Hildebrand, Dean H. Keller, Anita Dixon Herington, 1993 An oversized 9 25x12 25 photographic narrative that combines historical overviews of higher education trends, political climates, and social and cultural movements with anecdotal reminiscences of campus life. Hundreds of mostly b/w captioned photographs selected from the University Archives enhance the narrative.

Bitch Elizabeth Wurtzel, 2012-10-17 From the author of the bestselling Prozac Nation comes one of the most entertaining feminist manifestos ever written. In five brilliant extended essays, she links the lives of women as demanding and disparate as Amy Fisher, Hillary Clinton, Margaux Hemingway, and Nicole Brown Simpson. Wurtzel gives voice to those women whose lives have been misunderstood, who have been dismissed for their beauty, their madness, their youth. Bitch is a brilliant tract on the history of manipulative female behavior. By looking at women who derive their power from their sexuality, Wurtzel offers a trenchant cultural critique of contemporary
