Passionale MR 164 Lucija Krešić Nacevski, This edition presents and describes the oldest hagiographic codex in Croatia entitled Passionale MR 164 which is also the oldest codex contained in the Metropolitana library of the Archdiocese of Zagreb L Krešić describes the codex from a paleographic codicological linguistic and hagiographic standpoint Placing it within the cultural and historical coordinates of the early Middle Ages in Croatian territory Krešić suggests a possibility of its origins from the basilica Sant Apollinare Nuovo in Ravenna Having originated there in the second half or at the end of the 10th century according to the author the codex then migrated to Split Dalmatia then to Zagreb Passionale MR 164 was written in Latin Carolingian and Beneventan script typical of the Dalmatian coast Dalmatian Beneventan letter and as such represents a true paleographic encliridion The Formation of Papal Authority in Late Antique Italy Kristina Sessa, 2011-11-21 This book is the first cultural history of papal authority in late antiquity While most traditional histories posit a rise of the papacy and examine popes as politicians theologians and civic leaders Kristina Sessa focuses on the late Roman household and its critical role in the development of the Roman church from c 350 600 She argues that Rome's bishops adopted the ancient elite household as a model of good government for leading the church Central to this phenomenon was the classical and biblical figure of the steward the householder's appointed agent who oversaw his property and people As stewards of God Roman bishops endeavored to exercise moral and material influence within both the pope's own administration and the households of Italy's clergy and lay elites This original and nuanced study charts their manifold interactions with late Roman households and shows how bishops used domestic knowledge as the basis for establishing their authority as Italy's singular religious leaders The Gospel of Matthew John Nolland, 2005-11 Introduction The authorship of the Gospel The Gospel's sources How the author handled his sources From eyewitnesses to Matthew's sources The date of the Gospel of Matthew The provenance of the Gospel of Matthew What kind of document did Matthew think he was writing The state of the Gospel text Elements of Matthew's narrative technique Matthew's use of the OT Matthew's use of other Jewish tradition Commentary

 Fictions traces the intimate links between literature and the sciences of mind and soul from the age of Shakespeare to the rise of the novel It chronicles the emergence of new sciences of the passions between the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries and it argues that this history was shaped by rhetoric that contained the most extensively particularized discourse on the passions offering principles for moving and affecting the passions of others in concrete social scenes This rhetoric of the passions centered on narrative as the instrument of a non theoretical knowledge of the passions in their particularity predicated on an account of passion as an intimate relation between an impassioned mind and an impassioning world rhetoric offers a kind of externalist psychology formalized in the relation of passion to action and underwriting an account of narrative as a means of both moving passion and knowing it This volume describes the psychology of the passions before the discipline of psychology tracing the influence of rhetoric on theories of the passions from Francis Bacon to Adam Smith and using that history to read literary works by Shakespeare Milton Haywood Richardson and others Narrative offers a means of knowing and moving the passions by tracing them to the events and objects that generate them the history of narrative practices is thus a key part of the history of the psychology of the passions at a critical moment in its development

Soderlund, N. T. Wright, 1999 Nineteen New Testament scholars of international standing here offer fresh new insights to the ongoing interpretation of Romans Including essays on various exegetical theological and pastoral aspects of Paul's epistle this volume not only honors Gordon Fee's major contribution to New Testament scholarship but also presents the very best work available in a vital area of biblical research Rome's Holy Mountain Jason Moralee, 2018 Rome's Holy Mountain is the first book to chart the history of the Capitoline Hill in Late Antiquity from the third to the seventh centuries CE It investigates both the lived in and dreamed of realities of the hill in an era of fundamental political religious and social change Novel Practices Eugene Goodheart, It is inspiring to have a new collection of Eugene Goodheart's critical essays He is one of our best our most useful critics W B Yeats spoke of the need to hold reality and justice in a single thought Goodheart knows the need and works hard to fulfill it He never struts in the presence of the book he is reading but is always as if by nature and on principle attentive acute alive to the issues No writer could ask for a better reader or a more conscientious intelligence Denis Donoghue New York University An important debate in modern literary criticism concerns the exact relationship between the ancient epic and the novel Both the epic and the most ambitious modern novels are large scale attempts to present a comprehensive view of the world through the experience of a representative hero However in the older tradition the hero stood for the aspirations and highest ideals of his society The protagonist of the modern novel is usually at odds with that society whether as exile active rebel or antagonistic critic In Novel Practices the distinguished literary scholar Eugene Goodheart surveys a representative selection of modern novelists tracing how the epic impulse has been reshaped under the conditions of modernity Goodheart describes how George Eliot and James Joyce's comprehensive artistic creation enabled them to demonstrate a mastery of the world unattainable to their thwarted flawed or feckless heroes and heroines Works such as Middlemarch and Ulysses encyclopedic in their inclusiveness share an ambitious scope that is virtually synonymous with epic Goodheart shows that even in shorter works such as James's The Beast in the Jungle and Ford Maddox Ford's The Good Soldier the standard of the epic hero acts as an ironic subtext A chapter on Thomas Mann provides a European perspective enacting conflict between self and society through a dramatized contest of ideas Goodheart explores ambiguities of point of view as characteristic of modern uncertainty how much authority or reliability should the reader concede to the narrator What is the relationship between the narrator and the author These and related questions are addressed in chapters on Lawrence James Bellow Woolf and Roth which also deal with the place of literary biography in understanding fiction Goodheart s approach centers on fiction and although he takes cognizance of the critical theory of the past several decades he nevertheless emphasizes the centrality of the author and authorial intention Novel Practices will be essential reading for students of literature culture and intellectual history Eugene Goodheart is Edytha Macy Gross Professor of Humanities Emeritus at Brandeis University His books include Modernism and the Critical Spirit and Culture and the Radical Conscience both available from Transaction Rome's Last Citizen Rob Goodman, Jimmy Soni, 2012-10-16 This biography of Marcus Cato the Younger Rome s bravest statesman an aristocratic soldier a Stoic philosopher and staunch defender of sacred Roman tradition is rich with resonances for current politics and contemporary notions of freedom
