A Passion in the Desert Honoré de Balzac, Sheba Blake, 2018-02-01 During Napoleon's campaign in Egypt a French soldier becomes separated from his regiment and finds himself wandering lost in the desert. Just when he was about to give up all hope he makes an unlikely friend.

Honoré de Balzac (20 May 1799 – 18 August 1850) was a French novelist and playwright. The novel sequence La Comédie Humaine, which presents a panorama of post-Napoleonic French life, is generally viewed as his magnum opus. Owing to his keen observation of detail and unfiltered representation of society, Balzac is regarded as one of the founders of realism in European literature. He is renowned for his multi-faceted characters; even his lesser characters are complex, morally ambiguous, and fully human. Inanimate objects are imbued with character, as well as the city of Paris, a backdrop for much of his writing, takes on many human qualities. His writing influenced many famous writers, including the novelists Émile Zola, Charles Dickens, Gustave Flaubert, Jack Kerouac, and Henry James; filmmakers Akira Kurosawa and Eric Rohmer; as well as important philosophers such as Friedrich Engels. Many of Balzac's works have been made into films and they continue to inspire other writers.

Desert Passions Hsu-Ming Teo, 2012-11-15 The Sheikh E M Hull's best-selling novel that became a wildly popular film starring Rudolph Valentino kindled sheik fever across the Western world in the 1920s. A craze for all things romantically Oriental swept through fashion, film, and literature, spawning imitations and parodies without number. While that fervor has largely subsided, tales of passion between Western women and Arab men continue to enthrall readers of today's mass-market romance novels. In this groundbreaking cultural history, Hsu Ming Teo traces the literary lineage of these desert romances and historical bodice-rippers from the twelfth to the twenty-first century and explores the gendered cultural and political purposes that they have served at various historical moments. Drawing on high literature, erotica, and popular romance fiction and films, Teo examines the changing meanings of Orientalist tropes such as crusades and conversion abduction by Barbary pirates sexual slavery the fear of renegades the Oriental despot and his harem the figure of the powerful Western concubine and fantasies of escape from the harem She analyzes the impact of imperialism decolonization sexual liberation feminism and American involvement in the Middle East on women's Orientalist fiction Teo suggests that the rise of female authored romance novels dramatically transformed the nature of Orientalism because it feminized the discourse made white women central as producers consumers and imagined actors and revised reversed or collapsed the binaries inherent in traditional analyses of Orientalism

A passion in the desert, by honore de balzac Honoré de Balzac, 1898 Queer Exoticism Judith S. Kaufman, Tamara Powell, 2020-06-01 Queer Exoticism Examining the Queer Exotic Within joins the growing bibliography of queer postcolonial and queer race studies The authors assembled here examine the queer tendency to visit decidedly different and unusual subjects of desire in an effort partially at least to find oneself The identity quest that is inherent in the search for the exotic often results in something quite the opposite of foreign since it forms and articulates that which is ourselves Thus experiencing the exotic becomes a path to self knowledge not unlike the work of therapy wherein the examination of elements that appear at first peculiar or unfamiliar end up opening channels to self discovery In this way the gaze outward turns inward to exhibit an inner exoticism that at times is at once always and already inner and outer These essays also focus on various questions of imperialism race exoticism along with other aspects of the exotic Going beyond Said's sense of orientalism this volume examines the otherness of oneself and the notion of desire for the Other as something different from purely an act of domination and colonization thereby refusing perceptions of ascendancy Inasmuch as they represent various geographic and cultural groups the studies lend themselves to a variety of different methodologies and analytical approaches
