Passion Of The Right Angled Man:

Heresy and the Ideal David Baker, 2000-04-01 At its center Heresy and the Ideal is based on Baker's sense of Romantic poetics especially on how contemporary poets have applied altered or rejected certain Romantic principles He uses the Romantic trope to measure the tension between passion and reason and between the problems of literary transcendence and the obligations of social engagement BOOK JACKET Southbound Ernest Suarez, T. W. Stanford, Amy Verner, 1999 There's a real flowering I think of southern poetry right now assembling at the edges of everything This observation by Pulitzer Prize winning poet Charles Wright reflects upon the continuing vibrancy and importance of the southern poetic tradition Although the death of James Dickey in 1997 left southern poetry without a recognizably dominant voice an array of other vibrant voices continue to be heard and recognized Southbound Interviews with Southern Poets provides a glimpse of the many poets who promise to keep southern poetry vital into the twenty first century Selections from Manuscripts James Hinton, 1856

Index of American Periodical Verse 1981 Rafael Catalá, James D. Anderson, 1995-06-06 The Index of American Periodical Verse is an important work for contemporary poetry research and is an objective measure of poetry that includes poets from the United States Canada and the Caribbean as well as other lands cultures and times It reveals trends in the output of particular poets and the cultural influences they represent The publications indexed cover a broad cross section of poetry literary scholarly popular general and little magazines journals and reviews Men of Our Time Fred Moramarco, Al Zolynas, 1992-10-01 In this groundbreaking volume Fred Moramarco and Al Zolynas bring together a comprehensive and widely representative selection of poetry reflecting both the diversity and commodity of male experience in the United States today Since the beginning of the contemporary phase of the women's movement in the 1960s various anthologies devoted to the poetry of women have articulated and defined a distinctive sensibility attuned to the particularities of a woman's life in our time Although much has been written recently about the male role in our society as well the discussion generally has assumed a sociopsychological or mythic perspective Poetry Moramarco and Zolynas believe can reveal most about the nature of male life today especially the enormous changes men have experienced in recent years As the editors state in their introduction A quiet revolution has been taking place in men's poetry over the past few decades as men have been chronicling the history of their hearts and have been examining those relationships central to their being in the world their connections to their fathers and mothers their own sense of fatherhood and of being sons and brothers their marriages divorces and other aspects of their love lives as well as the ways they conceive of maleness and femaleness The poems collected in Men of Our Time 257 from more than 170 poets include a wide mix of ethnic and racial perspectives that reflect the multicultural tenor of American life They reveal men's most intimate feelings about the loss of childhood sexual anxieties and fantasies aging self sufficiency and dependency and the perennial quest for a masculine identity Above all the poems are unapologetically grounded in a distinctly male experience or imagination Men of Our Time reclaims a poetry that is connected to and expressive of men's lives in the closing decade of the twentieth century

The Grand Old Man and the Great Tradition Luisa Bienati, Bonaventura Ruperti, 2020-08-06 In 1995 on the thirtieth anniversary of Tanizaki Jun ichir's death Adriana Boscaro organized an international conference in Venice that had an unusually lasting effect on the study of this major Japanese novelist Thanks to Boscaro's energetic commitment Venice became a center for Tanizaki studies that produced two volumes of conference proceedings now considered foundational for all scholarly works on Tanizaki In the years before and after the Venice Conference Boscaro and her students published an abundance of works on Tanizaki and translations of his writings contributing to his literary success in Italy and internationally The Grand Old Man and the Great Tradition honors Boscaro's work by collecting nine essays on Tanizaki's position in relation to the great tradition of Japanese classical literature To open the collection Edward Seidensticker contributes a provocative essay on literary styles and the task of translating Genji into a modern language Gaye Rowley and Ibuki Kazuko also consider Tanizaki's Genji translations from a completely different point of view documenting the author's three separate translation efforts Aileen Gatten turns to the influence of Heian narrative methods on Tanizaki's fiction arguing that his classicism far from being superficial reflects a deep sensitivity to Heian narrative Tzevetana Kristeva holds a different perspective on Tanizaki's classicism singling out specific aspects of Tanizaki's eroticism as the basis of comparison The next two essays emphasize Tanizaki's experimental engagement with the classical literary genres Amy V Heinrich treats the understudied poetry and Bonaventura Ruperti considers a 1933 essay on performance arts Taking up cinema Roberta Novelli focuses on the novel Manji exploring how it was recast for the screen by Masumura Yasuz The volume concludes with two contributions interpreting Tanizaki's works in the light of Western and Meiji literary traditions Paul McCarthy considers Nabokov as a point of comparison and Jacqueline Pigeot conducts a groundbreaking comparison with a novel by Natsume S seki
