Marion L. Soards, 2015-01-29. The goal of this redaction-critical investigation is to determine what in Luke 22 is special to Luke, to assess its origin, and to uncover Luke's purpose in using this material. Unlike earlier studies, Soards concentrates on lines of thought that link the chapter with the Gospel as a whole. The author's conclusion is that though Luke did not use a single coherent source other than Mark for this chapter, his diverse material was chosen in order to advance Luke's distinctive interests in Christology eschatology and ecclesiology Christologically Jesus is shown as in charge of the Passion events and as the realization of a divine plan eschatologically the Passion is portrayed as inaugurating the era of the Last Days ecclesiology Jesus's attitude to his disciples functions as instruction for Luke's readers about their role in God's plan

New Romantic Cyborgs Mark Coeckelbergh, 2017-02-24 An account of the complex relationship between technology and romanticism that links nineteenth century monsters automata and mesmerism with twenty first century technology's magic devices and romantic cyborgs Romanticism and technology are widely assumed to be opposed to each other Romanticism understood as a reaction against rationalism and objectivity is perhaps the last thing users and developers of information and communication technology ICT think about when they engage with computer programs and electronic devices And yet as Mark Coeckelbergh argues in this book this way of thinking about technology is itself shaped by romanticism and obscures a better and deeper understanding of our relationship to technology Coeckelbergh describes the complex relationship between technology and romanticism that links nineteenth century monsters automata and mesmerism with twenty first century technology's magic devices and romantic cyborgs Coeckelbergh argues that current uses of ICT can be interpreted as attempting a marriage of Enlightenment rationalism and romanticism He describes the romantic dialectic when this new kind of material romanticism particularly in the form of the cyborg as romantic figure seems to turn into its opposite He shows that both material romanticism and the objections to it are still part of modern thinking and part of the romantic dialectic Reflecting on what he calls the end of the machine Coeckelbergh argues that to achieve a more profound critique of contemporary technologies and culture we need to explore not only different ways of thinking but also different technologies and that to accomplish the former we require the latter
