Passionate Sociology:

Passionate Sociology Ann Game, Andrew Metcalfe, 1996-06-20 Offering a major challenge to established textbooks and pointing to inspiring new ways of approaching sociology this book presents a notable shift in introductory sociology Too often the subject is taught as a dry and detached system of thought and practice Passion is regarded as something to avoid or to treat with inherent suspicion By asking questions about sociology and its relation to passion the authors seek to revitalize the subject The book introduces and develops a number of themes such as identity knowledge magic desire power and everyday life It argues that students should analyze these themes through practices including reading writing speaking storytelling and organizing The authors aim to introduce students to sociology by a controlled engagement with practical sociological ideas and ways of seeing In this way they hope that readers will participate in the creative possibilities of sociology

Passionate Sociology Ann Game, 1996 What is passionate sociology Does sociology merit passion Too often sociology is taught as a detached system of thought and practice Passion is regarded as something to be avoided or treated with suspicion Now at last we have a book that frankly argues for passion as being necessary for sociology The text is not simply about passionate sociology it demonstrates passionate sociology Gender, Health and Healing Gill Bendelow, Mick Carpenter, Caroline Vautier, Simon Williams, 2012-09-10 What do we mean by gender and how does this relate to health How is biology best understood What does a focus on the division of labour bring to our understanding of health work Is gender equity in health possible How have developments such as the resurgence of emotions and the new genetics affected these and other social relations at the turn of the century These are just some of the questions addressed in Gender Health and Healing in which a whole range of issues are brought together and connected to emerging concerns in contemporary life such as the new genetics and transformations in biomedical knowledge and practices It offers a challenging assessment of gender relations and embodied practices across the public private divide using health and healing as paradigmatic examples This thought provoking volume lies at the intersection of gender studies the sociology of health and healing health policy the critical analysis of scientific knowledge and the current debates around the body health and emotions Bringing together new and leading scholars in the field it provides a unique critical overview of contemporary debates in health care for an interdisciplinary readership

Passionate Politics Jeff Goodwin, James M. Jasper, Francesca Polletta, 2009-03-09 Emotions are back Once at the center of the study of politics emotions have receded into the shadows during the past three decades with no place in the rationalistic structural and organizational models that dominate academic political analysis With this new collection of essays Jeff Goodwin James M Jasper and Francesca Polletta reverse this trend reincorporating emotions such as anger indignation fear disgust joy and love into research on politics and social protest The tools of cultural analysis are especially useful for probing the role of emotions in politics the editors and contributors to Passionate Politics argue Moral outrage the shame of spoiled collective identities or the joy of imagining a new and better society are not automatic responses to events Rather they are related to moral institutions felt obligations and rights and information about expected effects all of which are culturally and historically variable With its look at the history of emotions in social thought examination of the internal dynamics of protest groups and exploration of the emotional dynamics that arise from interactions and conflicts among political factions and individuals Passionate Politics will lead the way toward an overdue reconsideration of the role of emotions in social movements and politics generally Contributors Rebecca Anne Allahyari Edwin Amenta Collin Barker Mabel Berezin Craig Calhoun Randall Collins Frank Dobbin Jeff Goodwin Deborah B Gould Julian McAllister Groves James M Jasper Anne Kane Theodore D Kemper Sharon Erickson Nepstad Steven Pfaff Francesca Polletta Christian Smith Arlene Stein Nancy Whittier Elisabeth Jean Wood Michael P Young Passionate Sociology Game Metcalfe Staff, 1996-11

Emotion and Social Theory Simon Williams, 2001-02-27 The emotions have traditionally been marginalized in mainstream social theory This book demonstrates the problems that this has caused and charts the resurgence of emotions in social theory today Drawing on a wide variety of sources both classical and contemporary Simon Williams treats the emotions as a universal feature of human life and our embodied relationship to the world He reflects and comments upon the turn towards the body and intimacy in social theory and explains what is important in current thinking about emotions In his doing so readers are provided with a critical assessment of various positions within the field including the strengths and weaknesses of poststructuralism and postmodernism for examining The Passionate Society Lisa Hill, 2006-01-13 Adam Ferguson 1723-1816 was a major figure of the Scottish Enlightenment whose thought was in many respects original and distinctive This book is a study of his ideas and of the intellectual forces that shaped them Though somewhat overlooked in the nineteenth century Ferguson was rescued from obscurity in the first half of the twentieth century by scholars interested in the origins of sociology and early critiques of modernity Ferguson's interest in the mechanics of social life and especially social change led him to many groundbreaking insights In fact he is sometimes identified as the Father of Modern Sociology In addition to exploring whether or not he merits this title this study examines the whole of Ferguson's thought as a system and includes his moral and faculty psychology historiography theology politics and social science Ferguson is distinguished by his deep appreciation of the complexity of the human condition his study of society is based on the belief that it is not only reason but the unseen unplanned sub rational and visceral forces that keep the human universe in motion Ferguson's appreciation of this fact and his ability to make social science of it is his major achievement Stoic Philosophy and Social Theory Will Johncock, 2020-05-28 This book puts recently re-popularized ancient Stoic philosophy in discussion with modern social theory and sociology to consider the relationship between an individual and their environment Thirteen comparative pairings including Epictetus and mile Durkheim Zeno and Pierre Bourdieu and Marcus Aurelius and George Herbert Mead explore how to position individualism within our socialized existence Will Johncock believes that by integrating modern perspectives with ancient Stoic philosophies we can question how internally separate from our social environment we ever are This tandem analysis identifies new orientations for established ideas in Stoicism and social theory about the mind being present self preservation knowledge travel climate change the body kinship gender education and emotions

The Emotional Self Deborah Lupton,1998-06-18 This addition to a growing number of texts which approach emotions and emotionality from a social constructionist perspective is well written scholarly accessible and interesting There is both breadth and depth to this work Feminism and Psychology This broad ranging and accessible book brings together social and cultural theory with original empirical research into the nature of the emotional self in contemporary western societies The emphasis of the analysis is on the emotional self as a dynamic project that is continually shaped and reshaped via discourse embodied sensations memory personal biography and interactions with others and objects Using an interdisciplinary approach

Babygirl, You've Got This! April-Louise Pennant,2024-02-22 How do Black women experience education in Britain Within British educational research about Black students gender distinctions have been largely absent male dominated or American centric Due to the lack of attention paid to Black female students relatively little is known about how they understand and engage with the education system or the influences which shape their long term strategies and decision making in order to gain educational success This book will illustrate the educational experiences and journeys of Black British women graduates and considers the influence of the intersections of race gender ethnicity culture and social class on their educational journeys April Louise Pennant uniquely documents the entire educational journey from primary school to university within both predominantly white PW and predominantly global majority PGM educational institutions in order to examine the various accessibility financial and academic hurdles which face Black girls and women The book combines theoretical frameworks such as Critical Race Theory Bourdieu s Theory of Practice and Black Feminist epistemology alongside the personal accounts of the author and a range of Black British women graduates Through analysis of the strategies choices and decisions made by Black British women in their educational journeys the book ultimately provides insights into how to navigate the education system effectively and provides alternatives to normalized understandings of educational success

Feeling Power Megan Boler,2004-11-23 First published in 1999 Megan Boler combines cultural history with ethical and multicultural analyses to explore how emotions have been disciplined suppressed or ignored at all levels of education and in educational theory FEELING POWER charts the philosophies and practices developed over the last century to control social conflicts arising from gender class and race The book traces the development of progressive pedagogies from civil rights and feminist movements to Boler s own recent studies of emotional intelligence and emotional literacy Drawing on the formulation of emotion as knowledge within feminist psychobiological and post structuralist theories Boler develops a unique theory of emotion missing from contemporary educational discourses

Beyond Bauman Michael Hviid Jacobsen,2016-10-26 Bringing together leading interpreters of Zygmunt Bauman s sociology this volume thinks with and beyond Bauman s work in order to show its continued relevance as a theory in its own right as an object of criticism and as a stepping stone towards a fuller understanding of contemporary society The volume deals with some proposed omissions and absences in Bauman s sociology with chapters comparing Bauman s ideas to those of other prominent social thinkers as well as chapters devoted to teasing out some problems and pitfalls in his work Paying attention to central concepts and themes of Bauman s thought authors engage with various aspects of his work considering potential deficiencies in his ethical perspective his neglect of the religious dimensions of modernity his lack of consideration for ethnicity and gender his overlooking the importance of socialisation in liquid modernity and his problematic argument for individual choice and freedom in a world that is increasingly closed down by consumer capitalism Beyond Bauman aspires to show that despite Bauman s status as a key sociological thinker there are also certain deficiencies in his work demand critical discussion It will be of use to scholars of sociology contemporary society social theory and modernity

Women in Relationships with Bisexual Men Maria Pallotta-Chiarolli, 2016-03-08 Framed by a comprehensive review of international research literature and film this book is an intimate journey into the experiences and insights of 79 Australian women in relationships with bisexual men It takes us into the daily lives sexual intimacies and families of MOREs mixed orientation relationships that span the gamut from extremely oppressive experiences with bi misogynist men to extremely liberating with bi profeminist men Aged 19 to 65 the women are in monogamous open and polyamorous relationships with bisexual identifying and or bisexual behaving men The women themselves are bisexual lesbian heterosexual while others refuse to categorize their own sexualities The book addresses the discovery or disclosure of the man s bisexuality how the relationships work and where they flounder how the partners negotiate and establish new rules and boundaries to maintain their relationship and the impact of class rural urban setting ethnicity indigeneity race religion and education on these relationships But this book isn t only about MOREs The research revelations and reflections in this book tell us much about current and shifting global constructions and understandings of intimate relationships sexual desires and love and the socio cultural representations and labeling of genders and sexualities

Timespace Jon May, Nigel Thrift, 2003-08-29 Timespace undermines the old certainties of time and space by arguing that these dimensions do not exist singly but only as a hybrid process term The issue of space has perhaps been over emphasised and it is essential that processes of everyday existence such as globalisation and environmental issues and also notions such as gender race and ethnicity are looked at with a balanced time space analysis The social and cultural consequences of this move are traced through a series of studies which deploy different perspectives structural phenomenological and even Buddhist in order to make things meet up The contributors provide an overview of the history of time and introduce the concepts of time and space together across a range of disciplines The themes discussed are of importance for cultural geography sociology anthropology cultural and media studies and psychology

Rational Choice Theory Margaret S. Archer, Jonathan Q. Tritter, 2013-04-03 Rational Choice Theory is flourishing in sociology and is increasingly influential in other disciplines Contributors to this volume are convinced that it provides an inadequate conceptualization of all aspects of decision making of the individuals who make the decisions of the process by which decisions get made and of the context within which decisions get made The critique focuses on the four assumptions which are the bedrock of rational choice rationality the theory's definition of rationality is incomplete and cannot satisfactorily incorporate norms and emotions individualism rational choice is based upon atomistic individual decision makers and cannot account for decisions made by couples groups or other forms of collective action process the assumption of fixed well ordered preferences and perfect information makes the theory inadequate for situations of change and uncertainty aggregation as methodological individualists rational choice theorists can only view structure and culture as aggregates and cannot incorporate structural or cultural influences as emergent properties which have an effect upon decision making The critique is grounded in discussion of a wide range of social issues including race marriage health and education

The Ethnological Imagination Fuyuki Kurasawa, 2004 Fuyuki Kurasawa unearths what he terms the ethnological imagination a substantial countercurrent of thought that interprets and contests Western modernity's existing social order through comparison and contrast to a non Western other Kurasawa traces and critiques the writings of some of the key architects of this way of thinking Jean Jacques Rousseau Karl Marx Max Weber Emile Durkheim Claude Levi Strauss and Michel Foucault In the work of these thinkers Kurasawa finds little justification for two of the most prevalent claims about social theory the wholesale postmodern dismissal of the social theoretical enterprise because of its supposedly intractable ethnocentrism and imperialism or on the other hand the traditionalist and historicist revival of a canon stripped of its intercultural foundations Kurasawa's book defends a cultural perspective that eschews both the false universalism of end of history scenarios and the radical particularism embodied in the vision of the clash of civilizations It contends that the ethnological imagination can invigorate critical social theory by informing its response to an increasingly multicultural world a response that calls for a reconsideration of the identity and boundaries of the West

The Lost Ethnographies Robin James Smith, Sara Delamont, 2019-01-07 This volume explores ethnographic projects that were planned but never happened and reports on the methodological lessons researchers can learn as well as how they can gain fresh energy and social science insight from apparent rejection
