Comédie Humaine Honoré de Balzac,1897 A Passion for Golf Ann Ligouri,2007-05-04 More than thirty celebrities including Samuel L Jackson Yogi Berra Celine Dion and Matthew McConaughey reveal their favorite courses worst and best scores most embarrassing moments and how each finds time to indulge their passion Amateur golfers will relate to these stories of triumph disaster humiliation and ecstasy with this addictive sport from some of the most fascinating people in the world Gambling as an Addictive Behaviour Mark Dickerson,John O'Connor,2006-03-09 If thinking about addiction is going to change the study of excessive gambling is likely to be one of the richest sources of new ideas Jim Orford In this book the authors present research into gambling showing the psychological variables that govern the erosion or maintenance of self control over gambling behaviour These studies provide an empirical basis for a model of impaired control of gambling Impaired control in its broadest sense is considered to be the defining psychological construct of all the addictive behaviours and occupies a central position in conceptualising the addictive aspects of gambling Passion in Action Rowland Stout,2025-05-21 Developing a sophisticated and original approach to the nature of emotion this volume demonstrates that the way we feel about things is simultaneously a product of our reason and a force on it an aspect both of our agency and of our passivity As a force on the way we think about things emotions are passions and felt as such As a product of the way we think about things having emotions means we find values in our world Starting from a conception of what it is to be sensitive to reason Stout develops an account of emotional dispositions as manifested in forming and maintaining goals When these dispositions are active we feel like behaving in certain ways and this feeling characterizes the phenomenological aspect of emotional states Each type of emotion corresponds to a characteristic behavioural pattern Since emotional states are rational responses to features of our environment having an emotion means that we are treating our environment as meriting that emotional state i e as having value It follows that every emotion corresponds to a rational perspective a way of thinking about things The familiar problem of emotional recalcitrance where you know your emotional state is not rational but cannot stop feeling that way is resolved by showing how we may have rational perspectives on our rational perspectives Prisoners of Gambling Tessenyi Judit,2023-06-23 Maybe if you had found the right information about the passion for gambling in time This is the third time I am addressing the topic because I have more and more experience with the passion for gambling and fate is constantly bringing me together with more and more people who expect advice and help from me At the same time I am disturbed by the amount of theoretical reasoning that does not support addicts at any level to get solutions a handhold useful information because some of them publish results obtained in laboratory conditions behind the scientific background instead of meeting real addicts If those affected only get the comforting certainty after reading my book that they are not alone and that there is a solution several then I have not written in vain Unlike before I m switching to tseeing now because I want us to get closer to each other trust me to tell you everything I know about gambling addiction Palestine Notes and Other Papers John Wilhelm Rowntree,1906 A Woman of Thirty Honoré de Balzac,1899 The unconscious
