ritual beginning with the critiques of ritual found in the Old Testament prophetic books and surveying attitudes toward ritual down to modern times Drawing on the fields of anthropology and sociology as well as his decade of work in the field Klingbeil presents a comprehensive reading strategy for biblical ritual texts In addition he explores connections between ritual studies and theological research This ground breaking study promises to generate discussion about biblical ritual and provides an excellent introduction to this growing field of study for students and scholars

The Saving Cross of the Suffering Christ Benjamin R. Wilson, 2016-07-25 What is the place of the cross in the thought of the third evangelist This book seeks to show the central significance of the death of Jesus for Luke's understanding of 1 how salvation is accomplished and 2 what it means for Jesus to be the messiah Whereas previous authors have helpfully attended to individual motifs within Luke's account of the passion this book takes more of a wide angle approach to the topic moving from the very first allusions to Jesus rejection at the beginning of Luke's gospel all the way through to the retrospective references to Jesus death that occur throughout the speeches of Acts By focusing on the inter relationship of the various parts that form the whole of the Lukan portrayal of Jesus death Wilson proposes fresh solutions to several of the intractable exegetical disputes related to the place of the cross in Lukan theology thereby helping to situate Lukan soteriology within the broader context of Jewish and Christian belief and practice in the first century

Making Sense of Taste Carolyn Korsmeyer, 2014-01-17 Taste perhaps the most intimate of the five senses has traditionally been considered beneath the concern of philosophy too bound to the body too personal and idiosyncratic Yet in addition to providing physical pleasure eating and drinking bear symbolic and aesthetic value in human experience and they continually inspire writers and artists In Making Sense of Taste Carolyn Korsmeyer explains how taste came to occupy so low a place in the hierarchy of senses and why it is deserving of greater philosophical respect and attention Korsmeyer begins with the Greek thinkers who classified taste as an inferior bodily sense she then traces the parallels between notions of aesthetic and gustatory taste that were explored in the formation of modern aesthetic theories She presents scientific views of how taste actually works and identifies multiple components of taste experiences Turning to taste's objects food and drink she looks at the different meanings they convey in art and literature as well as in ordinary human life and proposes an approach to the aesthetic value of taste that recognizes the representational and expressive roles of food Korsmeyer's consideration of art encompasses works that employ food in contexts sacred and profane that seek to whet the appetite and to keep it at bay her selection of literary vignettes ranges from narratives of macabre devouring to stories of communities forged by shared eating context giving readers an enhanced appreciation of its place in the Jewish religious experience This volume includes a comprehensive timeline glossary and bibliography Religious Studies and Theology Helen Katharine Bond, Helen R. Bond, Seth D. Kunin, Francesca Murphy, 2003-05 Though they are intimately related most textbooks cover either religious studies or theology leaving students lacking in exposure to one or the other of these associated disciplines Religious Studies and Theology An Introduction offers a comprehensive introduction to both subjects in one inclusive volume The text is written in an accessible style and is meant for beginning students and all those interested in learning about these fields It is divided into six sections including Theories of Religion World Religions Biblical Studies Practical Theology Systematic Theology and The Philosophy of Religion The volume also contains a guide for further reading as well as boxes to explain key terms Offering thorough and cutting edge coverage of all aspects of these fields it is the only introduction to the whole of religious studies and theology in a single volume format Contributors Douglas J Davies Seth D Kunin Hugh Goddard Martin A Mills Matthew Wood F Michael Perko Paul Ellingworth Ken Aitken Helen K Bond John Swinton Henry R Sefton Francesca Aran Murphy and Derek Cross

Table and Temple David L. Stubbs, 2020-09-17 In most modern discussions of the Eucharist the Jewish temple and its services of worship do not play a large role They are often mentioned in passing but little work is done in grounding organizing or explicating the connections between these things and the Eucharistic celebration In Table and Temple David Stubbs sheds light on the reasons for this neglect and shows the important role the temple and its worship played in the imagination of Jesus and his disciples about what was to become a central Christian practice He then explores the five central meanings of the temple and its main services of worship demonstrating their relationship to the five central meanings of the Christian Eucharist These central meanings of the temple itself the daily weekly and monthly sacrifices and the three pilgrim feasts are linked to the history of salvation Stubbs distills them to 1 the real presence of God and God's Kingdom among God's people 2 thanksgiving for creation and providence 3 remembrance of past deliverance 4 covenant renewal in the present and 5 a hopeful celebration of the feast to come They provide a solid ground upon which to organize contemporary Christian Eucharistic imagination and practice Such a solid ground not only expands our theology and enriches contemporary practice it can also bring greater ecumenical unity to this central Christian rite

Religious Responses to Pandemics and Crises Sravana Borkatky-Varma, Christian A. Eberhart, Marianne Bjelland Kartzow, 2023-08-01 Religious Responses to Pandemics and Crises explores various dimensions of the interrelations between the individual community and religion. With their global scope, the contributions to this volume represent reflections on the rich and multifaceted spectrum of human responses in a variety of different religions and cultures to the current SARS 2 COVID 19 pandemic and similar crises in the past. The contributions are organized in three thematic parts focusing on strategies, rituals, and past and present responses to pandemics and crises. They reflect on the intersection of personal or communal responses and state mandated policies relative to SARS 2 COVID 19 while outlining different strategies to cope with the pandemic crisis. Timely questions explored include: How do individuals connect with or disconnect from religious and spiritual communities during times of personal and collective crises including pandemics? How do religious practices such as rituals bridge individuals and communities? How do religious texts from past and present highlight and represent crises and pandemics? Dynamic and multidisciplinary in its inquiry, this volume is an outstanding resource for scholars of religion, theology, anthropology, social sciences, ritual theory, sex and gender studies, and contemporary medical science.

Prioritizing People in Ethical Decision-Making and Caring for Cultural Heritage Collections Nina Owczarek, 2023-06-27 While historically focusing on the object, the study of ethics in conservation has expanded to consider the human aspect of conservation work. This book offers a flexible framework to guide decision making in line with this development, offering an inclusive, compassionate approach to collections care. This edited volume contributes theories and international examples for advancing conservation practice and providing best practice for the field that centers people in conservation of cultural heritage and collections care. The first part examines the ethical theory that underpins conservation decision making by challenging outdated norms, introducing updated methods, and demonstrating new ways to approach collections care. The second part considers the challenges of human-centered ethics in conservation practice, while the final part provides real world examples and case studies of these best practices in action, including successful challenges to colonial authority. By presenting both theoretical and practical aspects of prioritizing people, this volume establishes the need for rethinking conservation approaches while demonstrating how to do so effectively. Combining theory and practice, Prioritizing People in Ethical Decision Making and Caring for Cultural Heritage Collections is valuable reading for conservation professionals, including collections managers, conservators, curators, and registrars. It will also benefit students working in Cultural Heritage Conservation, Museum studies, and Heritage Studies, as well as those taking courses in Art History and Anthropology.
