I don't remember the key
I used it years ago
And I wonder if my memory Resembles those passwords long forgotten
Maybe I cannot feel yesterday anymore
Just as much as I can't feel tomorrow

Passwords Alastair Reid, 1959      Human Aspects of Information Security and Assurance Steven Furnell, Nathan Clarke, 2021-07-07 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 15th IFIP WG 11 12 International Symposium on Human Aspects of Information Security and Assurance HAISA 2021 held virtually in July 2021 The 18 papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 30 submissions They are organized in the following topical sections attitudes and perspectives cyber security education and people and technology      PASSWORD Dr. Kamal Kumar, 2021-03-06 There is no narrator in the Password novel It is a journey from outside to inside and from inside to outside She is with him in this journey But in being with you a big world opens up The landscape of a larger society stands out This is a love story But the characters of love are located in two different corners There is no ideological emotional equilibrium in them But even then there is love in which there is no expectation This novel has been written in an email and message This is a different experiment At the level of language thought sentiment and creation the writer has introduced post modern literature Therefore this novel is unique      International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications, 2003 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets      S Poetry Patrick Burns, 2012-01-07 S Poetry starts with the basics of the S language of which R is a dialect It then goes on to more advanced issues including good programming techniques Many of the deficiencies that are pointed out have now been fixed in R and S The parts that are most helpful include the glossary and the chapter on higher dimensional arrays The genopt function which is R compliant and available on the Burns Statistics website though not particularly a nice example of programming is one of the most useful functions      Songs in Dark Times Amelia M. Glaser, 2020-11-24 A probing reading of leftist Jewish poets who during the interwar period drew on the trauma of pogroms to depict the suffering of other marginalized peoples Between the world wars a generation of Jewish leftist poets reached out to other embattled peoples of the earth Palestinian Arabs African Americans Spanish Republicans in Yiddish verse Songs in Dark Times examines the richly layered meanings of this project grounded in Jewish collective trauma but embracing a global community of the oppressed The long 1930s Amelia M Glaser proposes gave rise to a genre of internationalist modernism in which tropes of national collective memory were rewritten as the shared experiences of many national groups The utopian Jews of Songs in Dark Times effectively globalized the pogroms in a bold and sometimes fraught literary move that asserted continuity with anti Arab violence and black lynching As communists and fellow travelers the writers also sought to integrate particular experiences of suffering into a borderless narrative of class struggle Glaser resurrects their poems from the pages of forgotten Yiddish communist periodicals particularly the New York based Morgn Frayhayt Morning Freedom and the Soviet literary journal Royte Velt Red World Alongside compelling analysis Glaser includes her own translations of ten poems previously unavailable in English including Malka Lee's God's Black Lamb Moysh Nadir's Closer and Esther Shumiatsky's At the Border of China These poets dreamed of a moment when we could mean we workers rather than we Jews Songs in Dark Times takes on the beauty and difficulty of that dream in the minds of Yiddish writers who sought to heal the world by translating pain
