Past As Prologue I:

The Plot to Kill a Queen Deborah Hopkinson, 2023-10-17 Publishers Weekly calls this utterly charming deftly crafted mystery about an intrepid young girl's quest to foil a plot to assassinate Queen Elizabeth I worthy of a standing ovation Emilia Bassano is a girl who relishes the music of words Although she plays the lute and writes poetry Emilia nurtures a dream to hear her words come alive on stage Emilia wants to write soliloquies for heroes and kings and queens of old fashion fierce villains to make audiences howl and try her hand at comedy and romance Most of all she wants to create unforgettable women characters On one of her trips to the theater an unfortunate series of events leaves her penniless with no way of watching the show That is until a boy by the name of Will Shakespeare helps her sneak in to see the play They realize they're both aspiring playwrights and Emilia convinces Will to join her in her efforts to win a playwriting competition at the palace of Queen Elizabeth I However when Emilia accidentally uncovers a plot to kill the queen she is given the job of traveling to the castle where Mary Queen of Scots is being held captive to discover who is responsible for the plan to murder Queen Elizabeth and to thwart it Can Emilia and her friends stop the plans of a disguised murderer on the loose This delightful mystery is a marvel of incisive wit and extraordinary craft from the beloved award winning author Deborah Hopkinson Breaking down elements of drama and spycraft this carefully researched jam packed read offers insight into layers of historical power and influence while humorously rendering asides on feminism and social issues of the period It's a bustling theatrical romp worthy of a standing ovation Publishers Weekly starred review

The Ghostly and the Ghosted in Literature and Film Lisa B. Kröger, Melanie Anderson, 2013-03-14 The Ghostly and the Ghosted in Literature and Film Spectral Identities is a collection of essays expanding the concepts of ghost and haunting beyond literary tools used to add supernatural flavor to include questions of identity visibility memory and trauma and history Using a wide scope of texts from varying time periods and cultures including fiction and film this collection explores the phenomenon of social ghosts What does it mean for example to be invisible to be a ghost particularly when that ghost is representative of a person or group living on the margins of society Why do specific types of ghosts tend to haunt certain cultures and or places What is it about a people's history that invites these types of hauntings The essays in this book like pieces of a puzzle approach the larger questions from diverse individual perspectives but taken together they offer a richly detailed composite discussion of what it means to be haunted

Twenty-first Century Learning by Doing Judith Meloy, 2012-12-24 Qualitative research has emerged from a twentieth century paradigm war at the doctoral level to become a significant and real opportunity for undergraduate masters and doctoral students at colleges and universities around the world ESL researchers first generation college students and individuals identifying themselves as quants are discovering the capacity of their own thinking as they learn about and simultaneously undertake qualitative research for their theses This book is the result of a general query it is composed almost entirely of the thoughts concerns and wisdom of sixty nine current and recently defended doctoral students across the process of learning about and choosing to do qualitative research for the dissertation The correspondents thinking serves as a thoughtful companion to the process of learning by doing This book is not a how to book Rather it is a series of candid thoughtful and insightful reflections re presented in a variety of formats e g whole letters interviews etc This is also not a book to read from beginning to end readers can begin anywhere with a particular correspondent who is introduced at the beginning or with a particular topic using the tables of content or subject indices Finally this book is not a textbook providing readers with correct answers and the way to do things although much of what the correspondents have to offer will keep learners new to qualitative research from having to reinvent the wheel Twenty first Century Learning by Doing evidences the vulnerability and power of both the human heart and intellect as each grapples with complexities and ambiguities that epitomize the work learning and doing qualitative research is Shakespeare, Romeo and Juliet, and Civic Life Silvia Bigliazzi,Lisanna Calvi,2015-09-16 This volume introduces civic Shakespeare as a new and complex category entailing the dynamic relation between the individual and the community on issues of authority liberty and cultural production It investigates civic Shakespeare through Romeo and Juliet as a case study for an interrogation of the limits and possibilities of theatre and the idea of the civic The play s focus on civil strife political challenge and the rise of a new conception of the individual within society makes it an ideal site to examine how early modern civic topics were received and reconfigured on stage and how the play has triggered ever new interpretations and civic performances over time The essays focus on the way the play reflects civic life through the dramatization of issues of crisis and reconciliation when private and public spaces are brought to conflict but also concentrate on the way the play has subsequently entered the public space of civic life Set within the fertile context of performance studies and inspired by philosophical and sociological approaches this book helps clarify the role of theatre within civic space while questioning the relation between citizens as spectators and the community The wide ranging chapters cover problems of civil interaction and their onstage representation dealing with urban and household spaces the boundaries of social relations and legal economic political and religious regulation and the public dimension of memory and celebration This volume articulates civic Romeo and Juliet from the sources of genre to contemporary multicultural performances in political contact zones and civic Shakespeaces exploring the Bard and this play within the context of communal practices and their relations with institutions and civic interests *Too Good to be True? Who Promised You a Rose Garden? Julianne Cooper, 2015-07-24 This is the story of a little girl from rural Virginia who thinks she can change education in America Raised in an era before feminism political correctness and multiculturalism Julianne Cooper tells the story of her passage from farm girl to university professor to education visionary In 2010 Cooper and her founding team designed an education system to energize the next generation toward individual achievement resurrecting traditions both family and national recreating the American dream and a belief in God who holds it altogether Then they built a school to prove it Follow Cooper as she learns lessons that will later become the curriculum for a private secondary school Liberty Harbor Academy

Earth's Marrow ROBERT SHERRETTA,2017-07-06 A Journey into the Underworld and a Fight for Freedom Told through the eyes of an immigrant fleeing the wars and revolutions of Europe this tale follows him and his colleagues across the Atlantic and into the coal mines of West Virginia where they encounter the harshest working conditions known to man and evil forces exploiting their labors Their destiny arrives as they are forced into another conflict beyond their own control and choosing Antitrust Law Journal ,1986 Buddhaksetraparisodhana Charles DiSimone,Nicholas Witkowski,2024-11-25 Buddhaksetraparisodhana is a volume in honor of the Buddhologist and Philologist Paul M Harrison George Edwin Burnell Professor of Religious Studies at Stanford University The contributions of twenty nine of his colleagues students and friends from across the globe are dedicated to his academic interests and represent a cross section of the disciplines that have been so heavily influenced by Paul Harrison s scholarship in the past decades Buddhist Studies Indology Sinology Tibetology and Art History Adapting Endings from Book to Screen Armelle Parey,Shannon Wells-Lassagne,2019-09-09 This book offers a new perspective on adaptation of books to the screen by focusing on endings new light is shed on this key facet of film and television studies The authors look at a broad range of case studies from different genres eras countries and formats to analyse literary and cinematic traditions technical considerations and ideological issues involved in film and television adaptations The investigation covers both the ideological implications of changes made in adapting the final pages to the screen as well as the aesthetic stance taken in modifying or on the contrary maintaining the ending of the source text By including writings on both film and television adaptations this book examines the array of possibilities for the closure of an adapted narrative focusing both on the specificities of film and different television forms miniseries and ongoing television narratives and at the same time suggesting the commonalities of these audiovisual forms in their closing moments Adapting Endings from Book to Screen will be of interest to all scholars working in media studies film and television studies and adaptation studies Oceanside Michelle Mankin,2018-04-03 Oscar night Rock star legend Ashland Keys should be on top of the world but the blond blue eyed SoCal surfer is disillusioned with fame done with drugs bored with the groupies and sick of all the fake f ckery A rising star Fanny Bay is nominated for best original song in the same category as the Dirt Dogs band but the novel redhead with the corkscrew curls and the slight Canadian accent would prefer to chart a course with a different destination Hollywood is not for her He s full of regrets darkness and secrets She s full of hope and light and has mysteries of her own He s her reserved hero She s his gypsy rose He s water She s fire Together they don t make sense But he s what she s always wanted and she just might be everything he needs Liquor Store Theatre Maya Stovall,2020-10-09 For six years Maya Stovall staged Liquor Store Theatre a conceptual art and anthropology video project included in the Whitney Biennial in 2017 in which she danced near the liquor stores in her Detroit neighborhood as a way to start conversations with her neighbors In this book of the same name Stovall uses the project as a point of departure for understanding everyday life in Detroit and the possibilities for ethnographic research art and knowledge creation Her conversations with her neighbors which touch on everything from economics aesthetics and sex to the political and economic racism that undergirds Detroit's history bring to light rarely acknowledged experiences of longtime Detroiters In these exchanges Stovall enacts an innovative form of ethnographic engagement that offers new modes of integrating the social sciences with the arts in ways that exceed what either approach can achieve alone The Art of Choosing Sheena Iyengar, 2010-04-01 Every day we make choices Coke or Pepsi Save or spend Stay or go Whether mundane or life altering these choices define us and shape our lives Sheena Iyengar asks the difficult questions about how and why we choose Is the desire for choice innate or bound by culture Why do we sometimes choose against our best interests How much control do we really have over what we choose Sheena Iyengar's award winning research reveals that the answers are surprising and profound In our world of shifting political and cultural forces technological revolution and interconnected commerce our decisions have far reaching consequences Use The Art of Choosing as your companion and guide for the many challenges ahead The Past as Prologue Everett Ruess Crosby, Charles Richard Webb, 1973 Collectanea Anglo-poetica: Or, a Bibliographical and Descriptive Catalogue of a Portion of a Collection of Early English Poetry, with Occasional Extracts and Remarks Biographical and Critical Thomas Corser, 1873

Embracing the Melody of Term: An Psychological Symphony within Past As Prologue I

In some sort of consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of quick interaction, the melodic beauty and mental symphony developed by the written word frequently diminish into the back ground, eclipsed by the relentless noise and disturbances that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, located within the pages of Past As Prologue I an enchanting fictional value brimming with raw emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a wonderful musician of language, this interesting masterpiece conducts viewers on a mental trip, skillfully unraveling the concealed melodies and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths with this emotional assessment, we can investigate the book is key harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing design, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
