The field of archaeology continues to face a major crisis of interpretation The traditional view is that the basic business of archaeology is to reconstruct the history of cultures and civilizations through their material productions Olivier challenges this view with a new approach to archaeological remains based on the works of French theorists such as Foucault de Certeaux and Derrida with insight from Darwin and Freud His thesis is that archaeology does not study the past itself but rather what materially remains of the past in our present Olivier also develops an interpretation of material culture based on Aby Warburg s and Walter Benjamin s work in the anthropology of art With wider implications for history and all social sciences The Dark Abyss of Time is a major contribution to the theory of time memory heritage and archaeology This flawless translation makes Olivier s elegantly written work available in English for the first time

The Gospel of John Rudolf Bultmann, 2014-08-15 As the first volume in the Johannine Monograph Series The Gospel of John A Commentary by Rudolf Bultmann well deserves this place of pride Indeed this provocative commentary is arguably the most important New Testament monograph in the twentieth century perhaps second only to The Quest of the Historical Jesus by Albert Schweitzer In contrasting Bultmann s and Schweitzer s paradigms however we find that Bultmann

s is far more technically argued and original commanding hegemony among other early Christianity paradigms Ernst Haenchen has described Bultmann's commentary as a giant oak tree in whose shade nothing could grow and indeed this reference accurately describes its dominance among Continental Protestant scholarship over the course of several decades

Comparative Postcolonialism in the Works of V.S. Naipaul and Toni Morrison Alshaymaa Mohamed

Ahmed,2022-07-07 Comparative Postcolonialism in the Works of V S Naipaul and Toni Morrison Fragmented Identities begins with an overview of its theoretical framework highlighting the intersectional relationship between postcolonial literature and comparative literature Tracing selected novels by Naipaul and Morrison the book takes as a starting point Fanon s three phase journey of the decolonizing process In the first phase of mimicry Naipaul s and Morrison s earlier novels represent the assimilation of indigenous people into dominant hegemonic cultures The second phase is envisioned as the re narration or re interpretation of the past and old legends of indigenous culture Morrison succeeds in asserting that her ancestors past is the only way to celebrate a cultural identity but Naipaul tends to criticize and neglect his past and his original indigenous culture The third phase marks the emergence of a revolutionary literature in which Naipaul and Morrison guide their people to hybridity as a new way of becoming and resisting the hegemonic dichotomies in dominant societies

Fragments of Modernity (Routledge Revivals) David Frisby,2013-09-13 Fragments of Modernity first published in 1985 provides a critical introduction to the work of three of the most original German thinkers of the early twentieth century In their different ways all three illuminated the experience of the modern urban life whether in mid nineteenth century Paris Berlin at the turn of the twentieth century or later as the vanguard city of the Weimar Republic They related the new modes of experiencing the world to the maturation of the money economy Simmel the process of rationalization of capital Kracauer and the fantasy world of commodity fetishism Benjamin In each case they focus on those fragments of social experience that could best capture the sense of modernity The Embroidered Armour Roberto Peregalli,2013-04-23 The Embroidered Armour examines the Greek Mysteries mythology and legends that heralded a revolution in thinking between the time of Homer and Plato which gave birth to the Western cultural tradition In investigating ancient Greek concepts concerning the relationship between seeing and knowing Roberto Peregalli presents an eloquent demonstration of the modernity of ancient Greek wisdom Public Memory, Race, and Ethnicity G. Mitchell Reyes,2010-06-09 Scholars across the humanities and social sciences who study public memory study the ways that groups of people collectively remember the past One motivation for such study is to understand how collective identities at the local regional and national level emerge and why those collective identities often lead to conflict Public Memory Race and Ethnicity contributes to this rapidly evolving scholarly conversation by taking into consideration the influence of race and ethnicity on our collective practices of remembrance How do the ways we remember the past influence racial and ethnic identities How do racial and ethnic identities shape our practices of remembrance Public Memory Race and Ethnicity brings together nine provocative critical investigations that address these questions and others regarding the role of public memory in the formation of racial and ethnic identities in the United States The book is organized chronologically Part I addresses the politics of public memory in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries focusing on how immigrants who found themselves in a strange new world used memory to assimilate on the interplay of ethnicity and patriarchy in early monumental representations of Sacagawea and on the use of memory and forgetting to negotiate labor and racial tensions in an industrial steel town Part II attends to the dynamics of memory and forgetting during and after World War II examining the problems of remembrance as they are related to Japanese internment the strategies of remembrance surrounding important events of the Civil Rights Movement and the institutional use of memory and tradition to normalize whiteness and control human behavior Part III focuses on race and remembrance in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries analyzing Walter Mosley s use of memory in his literary work to challenge racial norms President George W Bush s strategies of remembrance in his 2006 address to the NAACP and the problems of memory and racial representation in the aftermath of the Katrina disaster Taken together the essays in this volume often speak to each other in remarkable ways and one can begin to see in their progression the transformation of race relations in America since the nineteenth century
