The Making of a Pastor/Chaplain Barbara Helen Maisonneuve-Wilson, 2013-12 CAUTION This book may introduce you to the stark realities of a modern day pilgrim who seeks the fuller life at the feet of Jesus No pat answers No attempt to resolve the mysterious interface between God's will and his willingness to let us muddle through the mess of life The author tells the simple but engaging story of her struggles aspirations frustrations and satisfaction of walking with Jesus the best that she could Don't be annoyed at her humanity accept it as a humble gift and insight into your own experience Barb brings us fascinating insights into the different stages of her faith's development and a challenge to reflect upon our own Certainly good food for great thoughts Rev Stephen W Chaloner B Th M T S Regional Director PAOC Africa As I read through this book I kept thinking that this evolution should be read and even studied as a reflection which is necessary for a person entering the ministry As Wilson shares her life family and ministry events and memories she has taken the opportunity to openly expose her experiences centered against the backdrop of the seven life stages of recurrent development 1 in the context of her Faith walk The transparency is refreshing when in my reading I found that generally speaking clergies have a hard time sharing openly their life experiences Wilson in her book encourages pastors ministers and clergies to come clean as we live and preach and teach in our respective contexts By the storytelling of her life and faith development she has given the reader a glimpse of her faith and relationship with Jesus Christ and how this relates to family friends community and ministry interaction with other people thus allowing the reader to face life with hope I would recommend anyone entering a ministry in any context to read this book in order to gain an appreciation of what shapes a ministry and some ways of processing our lived experiences and forgiving ourselves for our sins and shortcomings Thank you Barbara for giving us your readers insights from a distance in the Making of a Pastor Chaplain 1 Robert Kegan The Evolving Self Problem and Process in Human Development Phillip J Robillard Minister of Faith Community in downtown Toronto Ontario Sometimes we may take the events of our lives for granted and we may be lulled into leaving well enough alone even though deep down we have a sense that something is missing or not quite right At other times we may thirst for a greater depth of meaning in what we are about As we examine our lives we may become more aware of experiences good or bad associated with past present or foreseen events What we may be less aware of in the moment is the part we can play in shaping our personal experience of whatever takes place into a more satisfying life journey This book illustrates how the author Barbara Wilson reflected deeply on pivotal life events which if left unexamined would have diminished greatly the personal meaning she was able to harvest in her journey through life She believed in and exercised her inner capacity to move beyond the erstwhile story line of the world into which she was born by re visioning and re shaping experienced events into a living story with satisfactory space both for personal meaning making and for enabling her to live her preferred values Her candid reflection on events in her life many of them painful others full of joy as well as her insightful evaluations of these stepping stones and her courageous choices for new directions will inspire and motivate many to take a second look at how they too can answer for themselves the pivotal questions Am I satisfied with my life experience Who do I want to be now Who do I want to become How do I reshap

Surviving Ministry Michael E. Osborne, 2016-05-06 Being a pastor has its rewards and pleasures But churches can be unsafe places They are filled with broken imperfect people Many ministers of the gospel walk into a church naive about the potential hazards of their vocation They are vulnerable to difficult people unresolved conflict incompatible visions hidden agendas mission drift and sin their own and that of others Other pastors feel trapped in a ministry hurricane and don't know what to do They feel like failures They're thinking about leaving the ministry They are looking for help and hope not from an expert detached from the real world of ministry but from someone who has suffered through church hurricanes and lived to share the story Moreover they need to know they are not alone Surviving Ministry How to Weather the Storms of Church Leadership includes the author's own story as well as true stories from other pastors who have been in the eye of the hurricane Discouraged ministers looking for biblical practical gospel centered advice for storm proofing their churches homes and hearts have found a friend Surviving Ministry will equip them to stay resilient before during and after seasons of difficulty

To Be Cared For Nathaniel Roberts, 2016-04-26 To Be Cared For offers a unique view into the conceptual and moral world of slum bound Dalits untouchables in the South Indian city of Chennai Focusing on the decision by many women to embrace locally specific forms of Pentecostal Christianity Nathaniel Roberts challenges dominant anthropological understandings of religion as a matter of culture and identity as well as Indian nationalist narratives of Christianity as a foreign ideology that disrupts local communities Far from being a divisive force conversion integrates the slum community Christians and Hindus alike by addressing hidden moral fault lines that subtly pit residents against one another in a national context that renders Dalits outsiders in their own land

The Congregationalist, 1901 The Duty of Pastors John Owen, 2015-07-01 The Duty of Pastors was written to help both ordinary churchgoers and called out leaders of the church understand their vital ministry roles John Owen believed that both of these groups of people play a vital role in promoting a healthy church environment He believed that the people in the pew shouldn't fear but rather embrace their ministry role just as their church leaders are called to embrace theirs This book helps both groups clearly understand and apply basic biblical principles so that local churches grow closer to the Lord closer to each other and stand out as a light in the darkness wherever they may be
