Porter,Gregory P. Fewster,2013-09-05 In Paul and Pseudepigraphy an international group of scholars engage open questions in the study of the Apostle Paul and those documents often deemed pseudepigraphal This volume addresses many traditional questions including those of method and the authenticity of several canonical Pauline letters but they also reflect a desire to think in new ways about persistent questions surrounding pseudepigraphy The focus on pseudepigraphy in relationship to Paul affords a unique opportunity to address this innovative inclination not readily available in studies of New Testament pseudepigraphy in general Regarding these concerns new approaches are introduced traditional evidence is reassessed and some new suggestions are offered In addition to Pauline letters treatments of related non canonical Pauline pseudepigraphs are included in discussion

The Corinthian Correspondence Frank W.

Hughes,Robert Jewett,2021-10-19 In The Corinthian Correspondence Frank W Hughes and Robert Jewett argue that there were eight original letters by the Apostle Paul to the church in Corinth In the first part of the book they use literary and redaction criticism to show the reasons for the partition theory of 1 and 2 Corinthians Analyzing each of the eight letters and letter fragments using rhetorical criticism they show how the original Corinthian letters were edited and reshaped into 1 and 2 Corinthians in the New Testament After reflections on the rhetoric of these letters and the historical meaning of the reshaping of the images of Paul a final chapter traces the consequences of the reshaping of the Corinthian correspondence and the adoption of the bound book codex instead of the original papyrus scrolls Several figures help the reader understand the redactional process and a new translation of the eight reconstructed Corinthian letters is provided

Rectification

('justification') in Paul, in Historical Perspective, and in the English Bible Richard Kingsley Moore,2002 The Pauline Corpus in Early Christianity Benjamin P. Laird,2022-12-01 The Pauline Corpus in Early Christianity Its Formation Publication and Circulation offers a comprehensive and wide ranging examination of the canonical development of the collection of writings associated with the Apostle Paul The volume considers a number of clues from the New Testament writings ancient literary conventions related to the composition and collection of letters and a variety of early witnesses to the early state of the corpus such as biblical manuscripts canonical lists and the testimony of writers As a conclusion to these inquiries Laird argues that at least three major archetypal editions of the Pauline corpus those containing 10 13 and 14 letters appear to have been collected and edited as early as the first century These major archetypal editions Laird concludes circulated simultaneously for many years until editions containing 14 letters became nearly universally recognized by the fourth century The volume serves as a valuable resource of information for those engaged in the study of the early state of the New Testament canon and offers a fresh perspective on the process that led to the formation of the Pauline corpus A commentary on the pastoral epistles John N. D. Kelly,1978 Leadership and Lifestyle Steve Walton,2000-08-03 This study contributes to debate about the portraits of Paul in Acts and his epistles by considering Paul s Miletus speech Acts 20 18b 35 and identifies and compares major themes in Luke and Paul s views of Christian leadership Comparisons with Jesus speeches in Luke show how Lukan the speech is and with 1 Thessalonians how Pauline it is The speech calls the Ephesian elders to service after Paul s departure to Jerusalem focusing on faithful fulfilment of leadership responsibility suffering attitudes to wealth and work and the death of Jesus Paul models Christian leadership for the elders Parallels in Luke highlight his view of Christian leadership modelled by Jesus and taught to his disciples and modelled by Paul and taught to the elders Study of 1 Thessalonians identifies a remarkably similar portrait of Christian leadership The Miletus speech is close in thought presentation and vocabulary to an early indubitably Pauline letter Abingdon New Testament
