

Assets in the investment portfolios of pension funds

- Typical assets in the investment portfolios of pension funds include stocks, bonds and real property due to their low correlation and diversification potential (Hoesli, Lekander, Witkiewicz 2004; Quan, Titman 1999; Seiler, Webb, Myer 1999).
- In those countries where pension funds are not forbidden by legal regulations to invest in the real estate market, real estate is a component of investment portfolios, although its share varies.
