Public Spectacles:

Public Spectacles of Violence Rielle Navitski, 2017-05-18 In Public Spectacles of Violence Rielle Navitski examines the proliferation of cinematic and photographic images of criminality bodily injury and technological catastrophe in early twentieth century Mexico and Brazil which were among Latin America's most industrialized nations and later developed two of the region's largest film industries Navitski analyzes a wide range of sensational cultural forms from nonfiction films and serial cinema to illustrated police reportage serial literature and fan magazines demonstrating how media spectacles of violence helped audiences make sense of the political instability high crime rates and social inequality that came with modernization In both nations sensational cinema and journalism influenced by imported films forged a common public sphere that reached across the racial class and geographic divides accentuated by economic growth and urbanization Highlighting the human costs of modernization these media constructed everyday experience as decidedly modern in that it was marked by the same social ills facing industrialized countries The legacy of sensational early twentieth century visual culture remains felt in Mexico and Brazil today where public displays of violence by the military police and organized crime are hypervisible

Public Spectacles in Roman and Late Antique Palestine Zeev Weiss, 2014-03-24 Wishing to ingratiate himself with Rome Herod the Great built theaters amphitheaters and hippodromes to bring pagan entertainments of all sorts to Palestine Zeev Weiss explores how the indigenous Jewish and Christian populations responded as both spectators and performers to these cultural imports which left a lasting imprint on the region

Public Spectacles, Personal Pleasures Allen Hockley, Kristin L. Spangenberg, John T. Carpenter, 2006

The Spectacle of Criminal Justice Rosie Smith, 2022-03-29 Delving into how institutions of justice as well as public expressions of justice such as rage and grief are played out in the media Smith helps us understand how this represents a shift away from historical community displays of punishment towards a media sanitised public engagement with the implementation of control and justice

Science and Spectacle in the European Enlightenment Bernadette Bensaude-Vincent, Christine Blondel, 2008 The essays in this volume consider the interplay of science and spectacle in eighteenth century Europe describing the variety of public demonstrations of science in sites ranging from academies and laboratories to shops and streets

Deliberation Naturalized Ana Tanasoca, 2020-08-13 Democratic theory's deliberative turn has hit a dead end It is unable to find a good way to scale up its small scale formally organized deliberative mini publics to embrace the entire community Some turn to deliberative systems for a way out but none have found in that a credible way of deliberatively involving the citizenry at large Deliberation Naturalized offers an alternative way out one we have been using all along The key sites of democratic deliberation are citizens everyday political conversations networked across the community Informal networked deliberation is how all citizens actually deliberate together directly or indirectly That is how public opinion emerges in civil society Networked deliberation satisfies the classic deliberative desiderata of inclusion equality and reciprocity albeit differently than standard mini publics

Reconceptualizing democratic deliberation in those terms highlights some real threats to the networked mode of deliberative democracy such as polarization message repetition and pluralistic ignorance Deliberation Naturalized assesses the extent of each of those threats and proposes ways of protecting real existing deliberative democracy against them By focusing on the mechanisms underpinning everyday democratic deliberation among ordinary citizens Deliberation Naturalized offers a truly novel approach to deliberative democracy

The Civic Spectacle Mera J. Flaumenhaft, 1994-08-23 In this exploration of four plays by Aeschylus Euripides Machiavelli and Shakespeare Mera Flaumenhaft argues that by revising well known myths or histories each playwright reshapes the community for which he writes Emphasizing the context in which the plays have been read and performed she examines the moral and political effects of each drama and its production from the role of classical tragedy in MAINTAINING the classical city to the role of the modern history play in forming and maintaining the nation state Flaumenhaft demonstrates how the playwright's presentation of political themes within each drama relates to his view of the broadly political function of theater in his society

Public Forgetting Bradford Vivian, 2015-10-13 Forgetting is usually juxtaposed with memory as its opposite in a negative way it is seen as the loss of the ability to remember or ironically as the inevitable process of distortion or dissolution that accompanies attempts to commemorate the past The civic emphasis on the crucial importance of preserving lessons from the past to prevent us from repeating mistakes that led to violence and injustice invoked most poignantly in the call of Never again from Holocaust survivors tends to promote a view of forgetting as verging on sin or irresponsibility In this book Bradford Vivian hopes to put a much more positive spin on forgetting by elucidating its constitutive role in the formation and transformation of public memory Using examples ranging from classical rhetoric to contemporary crises like 9 11 Public Forgetting demonstrates how contrary to conventional wisdom communities may adopt idioms of forgetting in order to create new and beneficial standards of public judgment concerning the lessons and responsibilities of their shared past

Propaganda and Public Relations in Military Recruitment Brendan Maartens, Thomas Bivins, 2020-11-19 This book represents the first international investigation of military recruitment advertising public relations and propaganda Comprised of eleven case studies that explore mobilisation work in Africa the Americas Asia and Europe it covers more than a hundred years of recent history with chapters on the First and Second World Wars the Cold War and the present day The book explores such promotion in countries both large and small and in times of both war and peace with readers gaining an insight into the different strategies and tactics used to motivate men women and occasionally even children to serve and fight in many parts of the world Readers will also learn about the crucial but little known role of commercial advertising public relations and media professionals in the production and distribution of recruitment promotion This book the first of its kind to be published will explore that role and in the process address two questions that are central to studies of media and conflict how do militaries encourage civilians to join up and are they successful in doing so It is a multi disciplinary project intended for a diverse academic audience including postgraduate students exploring aspects of war propaganda and public opinion and researchers working across the domains of history communications studies conflict studies psychology and philosophy Private and Public Lies Andrew Turner,James Kim On Chong-Gossard,Frederik Vervae,2010-08-18 Graeco Roman literary works historiography and even the reporting of rumours were couched as if they came in response to an insatiable desire by ordinary citizens to know everything about the lives of their leaders and to hold them to account at some level for their abuse of constitutional powers for personal ends Ancient writers were equally fascinated with how these same individuals used deceit as a powerful tool to disguise private and public reality The chapters in this collection examine the themes of despotism and deceit from both historical and literary perspectives over a range of historical periods including classical Athens the Hellenistic kingdoms late republican and early imperial Rome late antiquity and Byzantium
