Publicprivate Spheres:

A Private Sphere Zizi A. Papacharissi, 2013-04-23 Online technologies excite the public imagination with narratives of democratization The Internet is a political medium borne of democracy but is it democratizing Late modern democracies are characterized by civic apathy public skepticism disillusionment with politics and general disinterest in conventional political process And yet public interest in blogging online news net based activism collaborative news filtering and online networking reveal an electorate that is not disinterested but rather fatigued with political conventions of the mainstream This book examines how online digital media shape and are shaped by contemporary democracies by addressing the following issues How do online technologies remake how we function as citizens in contemporary democracies What happens to our understanding of public and private as digitalized democracies converge technologies spaces and practices How do citizens of today understand and practice their civic responsibilities and how do they compare to citizens of the past How do discourses of globalization commercialization and convergence inform audience producer citizen consumer personal political public private roles individuals must take on Are resulting political behaviors atomized or collective Is there a public sphere anymore and if not what model of civic engagement expresses current tendencies and tensions best Students and scholars of media studies political science and critical theory will find this to be a fresh engagement with some of the most important questions facing democracies today

Women, Space and Utopia 1600-1800 Nicole Pohl, 2017-05-15 The first full length study of women s utopian spatial imagination in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries this book explores the sophisticated correlation between identity and social space The investigation is mainly driven by conceptual questions and thus seeks to link theoretical debates about space gender and utopianism to historiographic debates about the gendered social production of space As Pohl s primary aim is to demonstrate how women writers explore the complex gender politics of space specific attention is given to spaces that feature widely in contemporary utopian imagination Arcadia the palace the convent the harem and the country house The early modern writers Lady Mary Wroth and Margaret Cavendish seek to recreate Paradise in their versions of Eden and Jerusalem the one yearns for Arcadia the other for Solomon s Temple Margaret Cavendish and Mary Astell redefine the convent as an emancipatory space dismissing its symbolic meaning as a confining and surveilled architecture The utopia of the country house in the work of Delarivier Manley Sarah Scott and Mary Hamilton will reveal how women writers resignify the traditional metonym of the country estate The study will finish with an investigation of Oriental tales and travel writing by Ellis Cornelia Knight Lady Mary Montagu Elizabeth Craven and Lady Hester Stanhope who unveil the seraglio as a location for a Western specifically masculine discourse on Orientalism despotism and female sexuality and offers their own utopian judgment

Ethical Traceability and Communicating Food Christian Coff, David Barling, Michiel Korthals, Thorkild Nielsen, 2008-06-12 The theme of this book evolved from the idea of linking three concepts around food traceability ethics and informed choice We believe that the current development and implementation of traceability in the agri food sector offers an interesting way not only of handling food safety but also of addressing and communicating ethical issues arising from current food production practices Practices in the agri food sector worry food consumers as we all are since we need to eat and drink to stay alive But how can consumers act upon their concerns Paradoxically although consumers are bombarded with information on food from the media the food industry food authorities NGOs and interest groups details about how foods are actually produced is often hard to find Much of the information available is superficial conflicting or partial and it is hard for consumers seeking to make informed food choices to know which information to trust The consumers we interviewed for this project felt that information about food products was withheld and manipulated Traceability which provides a record of the history and journey of a given food and which is increasingly used in the food sector for legal and commercial reasons has the potential to communicate a more authentic picture of how food is produced

British Society 1680-1880 Richard Price,1999-10-28 Richard Price here offers a sweeping interpretation of modern British history He challenges the dominant assumption that the nineteenth century marked the beginning of modern Britain British Society argues on the contrary that nineteenth century British society was the extension of an earlier era whose main themes first appeared in the late seventeenth century and which continued to shape the social economic and political history of the country until the end of the nineteenth century This book casts light on the main themes of economic political and social history and offers alternative interpretations on questions and issues that are central to the history of modern Britain It follows in the great tradition of works such as Briggs s Age of Improvement and Perkin s Origins of Modern English Society and will be of enormous interest to all students and scholars of the period

Theatre of the Rule of Law Stephen Humphreys,2010-11-11 Theatre of the Rule of Law presents a sustained critique of global rule of law promotion an expansive industry at the heart of international development post conflict reconstruction and security policy today While successful in articulating and disseminating an effective global public policy rule of law promotion has largely failed in its stated objectives of raising countries out of poverty and taming violent conflict Furthermore in its execution this work deviates sharply from the rule of law as commonly conceived To explain this Stephen Humphreys draws on the history of the rule of law as a concept examples of legal export during colonial times and a spectrum of contemporary interventions by development agencies and international organisations Rule of law promotion is shown to be a kind of theatre the staging of a morality tale about the good life intended for edification and emulation but blind to its own internal contradictions

Tournaments of Value Anne Meneley,1996-01-01 Meneley explores the deep reliance of Middle Eastern men on their female kin to establish maintain and indeed increase the family s honour in the eyes of the wider community by engaging in the exchange of hospitality

Privatisation, Education and Social Justice Geoffrey Walford,2017-10-02 Privatisation in and of education is a process that takes many different forms and is deeply controversial While the shift in who pays is certainly an important dimension of privatisation there have also been changes in the management provision and delivery of schooling In most of the economically developed world discussion about the privatisation of education is now several decades old and yet new forms of privatisation are still being developed and old forms being applied to new situations This book examines the concept and nature of privatisation and explores the impacts of privatisation in terms of social justice The authors extend various arguments about the processes and provide new research and critique Some believe that privatisation can lead to increasing social justice for the poor while others argue the exact opposite This volume contributes to theoretical conceptions of social justice and education as well as providing up to date research results This book was originally published as a special issue of Oxford Review of Education Gender Autonomy in Western Europe R.

Singh,1998-05-11 Rina Singh s book compares seventeen Western European countries in the area of women s involvement in the public sphere participation and policies affecting it and private sphere roles and policies affecting it The interaction between the two spheres is analysed to determine where countries lie in the process towards gender autonomy ultimately the ability of each sex to make free lifestyle choices to participate in both or either the public and private spheres in a way that neither penalises nor rewards the choices in material and or social terms Four models of gender autonomy are proposed
