Connecting Comics to Curriculum Karen W. Gavigan, Mindy Tomasevich, 2011-09-29 Here is the essential guide for librarians and teachers who want to develop a quality curriculum-based graphic novel collection and use its power to engage and inform middle and high school students. Connecting Comics

to Curriculum Strategies for Grades 6-12 provides an introduction to graphic novels and the research that supports their use in schools. The book examines best curriculum practices for using graphic novels with students in grades 6-12, showing teachers and school librarians how they can work together to incorporate these materials across the secondary curriculum. Designed to be an essential guide to harnessing the power of graphic novels in schools, the book covers every aspect of graphic novel use in libraries and classrooms. It illuminates the criteria for selecting titles, explores collection development strategies, and suggests graphic novel tie-ins for subjects taught in secondary schools. Young Adult Literature Thomas W. Bean, Judith Dunkerly-Bean, Helen J. Harper, 2013-02-14 Teaching Young Adult Literature: Developing Students As World Citizens by Thomas W. Bean, Judith Dunkerly-Bean, and Helen Harper is a middle and secondary school methods text that introduces pre-service teachers in teacher credential programs and in-service teachers pursuing a Masters degree in Education to the field of young adult literature for use in contemporary contexts. The text introduces teachers to current research on adolescent life and literacy, the new and expanding genres of young adult literature, teaching approaches, and practical strategies for using young adult literature in English and Language Arts secondary classrooms and in Content Area Subjects e.g. History, and ongoing social, political, and pedagogical issues of English and Language Arts classrooms in relation to contemporary young adult literature. Using Graphic Novels in the English Language Arts Classroom William Boerman-Cornell, Jung Kim, 2020-10-01 Shortlisted for the UK Literacy Association's Academic Book Award 2021. There is an increasing trend in teachers using graphic novels to get their students excited about reading and writing, using both original stories and adaptations of classic works by authors such as Homer, Shakespeare, and the Brontës. However, there is surprisingly little research available about which pedagogies and classroom practices are proven to be effective. This book draws on cutting-edge research, surveys, and classroom observations to provide a set of effective methods for teaching with graphic novels in the secondary English language arts classroom. These methods can be applied to a broad base of uses, ranging from understanding literary criticism, critical reading, multimodal composition, to learning literary devices like foreshadowing and irony. The book begins by looking at what English language arts teachers hope to achieve in the classroom. It then considers the affordances and constraints of using graphic novels to achieve these specific goals, using some of the most successful graphic novels as examples, including Maus, Persepolis, The Nameless City, and American Born Chinese, and series such as Manga Shakespeare. Finally, it helps the teacher navigate through the planning process to figure out how to best use graphic novels in their own classroom. Drawing on their extensive teaching experience, the authors offer examples from real classrooms, suggested lesson plans, and a list of teachable graphic novels organized by purpose of teaching. Comics through Time M.
