Lee William Cummings moved to Troy, Pennsylvania in 1929 to found L.W. Cummings & Son Lumber Company. Because there was no electricity in Troy at that time, he built his mill close to a road and stream and used steam engines for power. Logs were skidded with horses and lumber was shipped on rail cars. Roy W. Cummings, Sr. joined his father in 1942. Roy W. Cummings Jr. joined his father in 1968 and they continued to expand the business under the name of Cummings Lumber Company, Inc. Today Scott Cummings the founder's great grandson directs the company. The lumber company prospered through the years thanks to their undying commitment to provide customers with quality products and service. For four generations, that commitment to quality has become a Cummings family tradition.
