Toleration in Comparative Perspective Vicki A. Spencer, 2017-10-24 Toleration in Comparative Perspective is a collection of essays that explores conceptions of toleration and tolerance in Asia and the West It tests the common assumption in Western political discourse and contemporary political theory that toleration is a uniquely Western virtue Toleration in modern Western philosophy is understood as principled noninterference in the practices and beliefs of others that one disapproves of or at least dislikes Although toleration might be seen today as a quintessential liberal value precedents to this modern concept also existed in medieval times while Indigenous American stories about welcome challenge the very possibility of noninterference The modern Western philosophical concept of toleration is not always easily translated into other philosophical traditions but this book opens a dialogue between various traditions of thought to explore precisely the ways in which overlap and distinctions exist What emerges is the existence of a family of resemblances in approaches to religious and cultural diversity from a program of pragmatic noninterference in the Ottoman Empire to deeper notions of acceptance and inclusiveness amongst the Newar People in the Kathmandu Valley The development of an Islamic ethic of tolerance the Daoist idea of all inclusiveness and Confucian ideas of broad mindedness respect and coexistence to the idea of the one in the many in Hindu thought are examined along with sources for intolerance tolerance and toleration in Pali Buddhism early modern Japan and contemporary India      Fear in the Middle of a Vast Field and Other Stories Mustafa

What Is Man? And Other Stories Mark Twain, 2021-07-03 What Is Man is a short story by American writer Mark Twain published in 1906 It is a dialogue between a Young Man and an Old Man regarding the nature of man The title refers to Psalm 8:4 which begins what is man that you are mindful of him It involves ideas of determinism and free will as well as of psychological egoism The Old Man asserts that the human being is merely a machine and nothing more driven by the singular purpose to satisfy his own desires and achieve peace of mind The Young Man objects and asks him to go into particulars and furnish his reasons for his position The work appears to be a genuine and earnest debate of his opinions about human nature rather than satirical Twain held views similar to that of the Old Man prior to writing What is Man However he seems to have varied in his opinions of human freedom
