Gilding the Market Susan Mosher Stuard, 2011-06-03 In the fourteenth century garish ornaments bright colors gilt and military effects helped usher in the age of fashion in Italy Over a short span of years important matters began to turn on the cut of a sleeve Fashion influenced consumption and provided a stimulus that drove demand for goods and turned wealthy townspeople into enthusiastic consumers Making wise decisions about the alarmingly expensive goods that composed a fashionable wardrobe became a matter of pressing concern especially when the market caught on and became awash in cheaper editions of luxury wares Focusing on the luxury trade in fashionable wear and accessories in Venice Florence and other towns in Italy Gilding the Market investigates a major shift in patterns of consumption at the height of medieval prosperity which more remarkably continued through the subsequent era of plague return of plague and increased warfare A fine sensitivity to the demands of le pompe that is the public display of private wealth infected town life The quest for luxuries affected markets by enlarging exchange activity and encouraging retail trades As both consumers and tradesmen local goldsmiths long distance traders bankers and money changers played important roles in creating this new age of fashion In response to a greater public display of luxury goods civic sumptuary laws were written to curb spending and extreme fashion but these were aimed at women youth and children leaving townsmen largely unrestricted in their consumption With erudition grace and an evocative selection of illustrations some reproduced in full color Susan Mosher Stuard explores the arrival of fashion in European history Material Culture and Queenship in 14th-century France Marguerite Keane, 2016-05-18 In Material Culture and Queenship in 14th century France The Testament of Blanche of Navarre 1331 1398 Marguerite Keane considers the object collection of the long lived fourteenth century French queen Blanche of Navarre the wife of Philip VI d 1350 This queen s ownership of works of art books jewelry reliquaries and textiles among others and her perceptions of these objects is well documented because she wrote detailed testaments in 1396 and

1398 in which she described her possessions and who she wished to receive them Keane connects the patronage of Blanche of Navarre to her interest in her status and reputation as a dowager queen as well as bringing to life the material adornment and devotional interests of a medieval queen and her household The Clement Bible at the Medieval Courts of Naples and Avignon Cathleen A. Fleck, 2017-07-05 As a biography of the fourteenth century illustrated Bible of Clement VII an opposition pope in Avignon from 1378-94 this social history traces the Bible's production in Naples c 1330 through its changing ownership and meaning in Avignon c 1340-1405 to its presentation as a gift to Alfonso King of Aragon c 1424 The author's novel approach based on solid art historical and anthropological methodologies allows her to assess the object's evolving significance and the use of such a Bible to enhance the power and prestige of its princely and papal owners Through archival sources the author pinpoints the physical location and privileged treatment of the Clement Bible over a century The author considers how the Bible's contexts in the collection of a bishop several popes and a king demonstrate the value of the Bible as an exchange commodity The Bible was undoubtedly valued for the aesthetic quality of its 200 luxurious images Additionally the author argues that its iconography especially Jerusalem and visionary scenes augments its worth as a reflection of contemporary political and religious issues Its images offered biblical precedents its style represented associations with certain artists and regions in Italy and its past provided links to important collections Fleck's examination of the art production around the Bible in Naples and Avignon further illuminates the manuscript's role as a reflection of the court cultures in those cities Adding to recent art historical scholarship focusing on the taste and signature styles in late medieval and Renaissance courts this study provides new information about workshop practices and techniques In these two court cities the author analyzes styles associated with different artists different patrons and even with different rooms of the rulers' palaces offering new findings relevant to current scholarship not only in art history but also in court and collection studies Dictionary of Enamelling Erika Speel, 2018-10-26 First Published in 1998 The Dictionary of Enamelling is the first book to provide a comprehensive guide to this most diverse of the decorative arts Indispensable for anyone interested in the evolution of enamelling technique the book includes some 400 entries covering every aspect of its history There are entries on key pieces individual enamellers designers schools techniques and the major achievements are described in every era The knowledge and insight of Erika Speel's account are supported and enhanced by a brilliantly researched collection of 200 illustrations 100 in colour portraying the most dazzling and important pieces a unique visual record of enamelling history The Dictionary of Enamelling will be invaluable to people who collect study create and enjoy enamels Western Decorative Arts: Volume 1 National Gallery of Art (U.S.), Rudolf Distelberger, 1993 This volume is one of several that examines the National Gallery of Art's distinguished collection of decorative arts The second volume will be published in 1996 The group treated here is composed primarily of works acquired from the Widener Collection and amplified by holdings acquired from the Kress family Included are more than eighty Medieval Renaissance and later historic objects in a wide variety of media

The Culture of Food in England, 1200-1500 C. M. Woolgar, 2016-01-01 In this revelatory work of social history C M Woolgar shows that food in late medieval England was far more complex varied and more culturally significant than we imagine today Drawing on a vast range of sources he charts how emerging technologies as well as an influx of new flavors and trends from abroad had an impact on eating habits across the social spectrum From the pauper s bowl to elite tables from early fad diets to the perceived moral superiority of certain foods and from regional folk remedies to luxuries such as lampreys Woolgar illuminates desire necessity daily rituals and pleasure across four centuries

Out of Bounds Pamela A. Patton, Maria Alessia Rossi, 2023-10-03 Where are the limits of medieval art as a field of study What happens when conventionally trained art historians disregard the chronological geographical or cultural parameters that both direct and protect their scholarship Beginning with Thelma K Thomas and Alicia Walker s acute assessment of the need for a medieval art history for now the essays in Out of Bounds ask what happens when the study of medieval art disregards boundaries that it once obeyed The volume focuses on questions surrounding the production of knowledge and on how scholarly investigation beyond the conventional thematic boundaries of medieval art history is changing demonstrating how the field can address the ethics of scholarship today by positing a global turn in response to growing demands for socially responsible medieval studies Collectively the contributors demonstrate how going out of bounds can transform modern understanding of the people traditions and relationships that gave rise to medieval works As such this book argues for the necessity of reshaping scholarly discourse about the nature and significance of medieval art and generates fresh scholarly interpretations and important new critical tools for teaching and researching the Middle Ages The contributors to this volume are Suzanne Conklin Akbari Michele Bacci Jill Caskey Eva Frojmovic Sarah M Gu rin Christina Maranci Alice Isabella Sullivan Thelma K Thomas Michele Tomasi and Alicia Walker

A Feast for the Eyes Christina Normore, 2015-05-01 To read accounts of late medieval banquets is to enter a fantastical world where live lions guard nude statues gilded stags burst into song and musicians play from within pies We can almost hear the clock sound from within a glass castle taste the fire breathing roast boar and smell the rose water cascading in a miniature fountain Such vivid works of art and performance required collaboration among artists in many fields as well as the participation of the audience A Feast for the Eyes is the first book length study of the court banquets of northwestern Europe in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries Christina Normore draws on an array of artworks archival documents chroniclers accounts and cookbooks to re create these events and reassess the late medieval visual culture in which banquets were staged Feast participants she shows developed sophisticated ways of appreciating artistic skill and attending to their own processes of perception thereby forging a court culture that delighted in the exercise of fine aesthetic judgment Challenging modern assumptions about the nature of artistic production and reception A Feast for the Eyes yields fresh insight into the long history of multimedia work and the complex relationships between spectacle and spectators

Irish and Scottish Art, c. 900-1900 Heather Pulliam, Rachel Moss, 2024-11-30 As evidenced by the famed Book of Kells and monumental high crosses Scotland and Ireland have long shared a distinctive artistic tradition The story of how this tradition developed and flourished for another millennium through survival adaptation and revival is less well known Some works were preserved and repaired as relics objects of devotion believed to hold magical powers Respect for the past saw the creation of new artefacts through the assemblage of older parts or the creation of fakes and facsimiles Meanings and values attached to these objects and to places with strong early Christian associations changed over time but their Celtic and or Gaelic character has remained to the forefront of Scottish and Irish national expression Exploring themes of authenticity imitation heritage conservation and nationalism these interdisciplinary essays draw attention to a variety of understudied artworks and illustrate the enduring link that exists between Scottish and Irish cultures

Heraldry, Pageantry and Social Display in Medieval England Peter R. Coss, Maurice Keen, 2003 Discussion of display through a range of artefacts and in a variety of contexts family and lineage social distinction and aspiration ceremony and social bonding and the expression of power and authority Medieval culture was intensely visual Although this has long been recognised by art historians and by enthusiasts for particular media there has been little attempt to study social display as a subject in its own right And yet display takes us directly into the values aspirations and indeed anxieties of past societies In this illustrated volume a group of experts address a series of interrelated themes around the issue of display and do so in a way which avoids jargon and overly technical language Among the themes are family and lineage social distinction and aspiration ceremony and social bonding and the expression of power and authority The media include monumental effigies brasses stained glass rolls of arms manuscripts

"Agency, Visuality and Society at the Chartreuse de Champmol " Sherry C.M. Lindquist, 2017-07-05 Grounded in archival sources this interdisciplinary study explores the profound historical significance of the mausoleum of the Valois Dukes of Burgundy the Chartreuse de Champmol Although the monument is well known as the site of pivotal works of art by Claus Sluter Melchior Broederlam Jean de Beaumetz and others until now art historians have not considered how these works functioned at the center of a complex social matrix Sherry Lindquist here considers the sacred subjects of the various sculptures and paintings not merely as devotional tools or theological statements but as profoundly influential social instruments that negotiated complex interactions of power Lindquist's sophisticated discussion coordinates analysis of primary sources with the most up to date scholarship in the field of art history not only with respect to late medieval Burgundian art but also to more theoretical questions pertaining to reception
