Balancing Nature and Commerce in Gateway Communities Jim Howe, Edward T. McMahon, Luther Propst, 2012-06-22 Increasing numbers of Americans are fleeing cities and suburbs for the small towns and open spaces that surround national and state parks wildlife refuges historic sites and other public lands With their scenic beauty and high quality of life these gateway communities have become a magnet for those looking to escape the congestion and fast tempo of contemporary American society Yet without savvy planning gateway communities could easily meet the same fate as the suburban communities that were the promised land of an earlier generation This volume can help prevent that from happening The authors offer practical and proven lessons on how residents of gateway communities can protect their community's identity while stimulating a healthy economy and safeguarding nearby natural and historic resources. They describe economic development strategies, land use planning processes and conservation tools that communities from all over the country have found effective. Each strategy or process is explained with specific examples and numerous profiles and case studies clearly demonstrate how different communities have coped with the challenges of growth and development. Among the cities profiled are Boulder, Colorado; Townsend and Pittman, Tennessee; Gettysburg, Pennsylvania; Tyrrell County, North Carolina; Jackson Hole, Wyoming; Sanibel Island, Florida; Calvert County, Maryland; Tuscon, Arizona; and Mount Desert Island, Maine. Balancing Nature and Commerce in Gateway Communities provides important lessons in how to preserve the character and integrity of communities and landscapes without sacrificing local economic well-being. It is an important resource for planners, developers, local officials and concerned citizens working to retain the high quality of life and natural beauty of these cities and towns. Coconino National Forest, 1987 Coconino National Forest (N.F.), Proposed Plan, 1987 A Surrealist Stratigraphy of Dorothea Tanning's Chasm Catriona McAra, 2016-11-10. In A Surrealist Stratigraphy of Dorothea Tanning's Chasm Catriona McAra offers the first critical study of the literary work of the celebrated American painter and sculptor Dorothea Tanning, 1910-2012. McAra fills a major gap in the scholarship repositioning Tanning's writing at the centre of her entire creative oeuvre and focusing on a little-known short story, Abyss, a gothic flavoured desert adventure which Tanning worked on intermittently throughout her creative life, finally publishing it in 2004 as Chasm. A Weekend McAra performs a major reassessment of the visual and literary principles upon which the surrealist movement was initially founded. Combining a groundbreaking methodological approach with reference to cultural theory and feminist aesthetics as well as Tanning's unpublished journals and notes, McAra reveals Tanning as a key player in contemporary art practice as well as in the historical surrealist milieu.
