Freud and the Politics of Psychoanalysis Jose Brunner,2018-01-16 Freud and the Politics of Psychoanalysis is a sympathetic critique of Freud s work tracing its political content and context from his early writings on hysteria to his late essays on civilization and religion Brunner s central claim is that politics is a pervasive and essential component of all of Freud s discourse since Freud viewed both the psyche and society primarily as constellations of power and domination Brunner shows that when read politically Freud s discourse can be seen to unite mechanics and meaning into a plausible fruitful and internally consistent theory of the mind therapy family and society Part one deals with the medical and political background of Freud s work It explains how Freud postulated mental principles that were the same for all races and nations The second part is concerned with the logic and language of Freud s theory of the mind Brunner also details how Freud introduced dynamics of dominance and subjugation into the very core of the psyche Part three addresses dynamics of power in the clinical setting which Freud forged out of a curious blend of authoritarian and liberal elements Brunner focuses on how this setting creates an arena for verbal politics He also examines various social factors that influenced the therapeutic practice of psychoanalysis such as class gender and education Part four

A Dark Trace Herman Westerink, 2009 Figures of the Unconscious No 8 Sigmund Freud in his search for the origins of the sense of guilt in individual life and culture regularly speaks of reading a dark trace thus referring to the Oedipus myth as a myth about the problem of human guilt In Freud's view this sense of guilt is a trace a path that leads deep into the individual's mental state into childhood memories and into the prehistory of culture and religion Herman Westerink follows this trace and analyzes Freud's thought on the sense of guilt as a central issue in his work from the earliest studies on the moral and guilty characters of the hysterics via later complex differentiations within the concept of the sense of guilt and finally to Freud's conception of civilization's discontents and Jewish sense of guilt The sense of guilt is a key issue in Freudian psychoanalysis not only in relation to other key concepts in psychoanalytic theory but also in relation to Freud's debates with other psychoanalysts including Carl Jung and Melanie Klein
