Brokaw,Kai-Wing Chow,2005-03-07 Despite the importance of books and the written word in Chinese society the history of the book in China is a topic that has been little explored This pioneering volume of essays written by historians art historians and literary scholars introduces the major issues in the social and cultural history of the book in late imperial China Informed by many insights from the rich literature on the history of the Western book these essays investigate the relationship between the manuscript and print culture the emergence of urban and rural publishing centers the expanding audience for books the development of niche markets and specialized publishing of fiction drama non Han texts and genealogies and more The Sound of Culture Louis Chude-Sokei,2015-12-29 The Sound of Culture explores the histories of race and technology in a world made by slavery colonialism and industrialization Beginning in the late nineteenth century and moving through to the twenty first the book argues for the dependent nature of those histories Looking at American British and Caribbean literature it distills a diverse range of subject matter minstrelsy Victorian science fiction cybertheory and artificial intelligence All of these facets according to Louis Chude Sokei are part of a history in which music has been central to the equation that links blacks and machines As Chude Sokei shows science fiction itself has roots in racial anxieties and he traces those anxieties across two centuries and a range of writers and thinkers from Samuel Butler Herman Melville and Edgar Rice Burroughs to Sigmund Freud William Gibson and Donna Haraway to Norbert Wiener Sylvia Wynter and Samuel R Delany Victorian Conversion Narratives and Reading Communities Emily Walker

Heady,2016-03-03 Because Victorian authors rarely discuss conversion experiences separately from the modes in which they are narrated Emily Walker Heady argues that the conversion narrative became in effect a form of literary criticism Literary conventions in turn served the reciprocal function as a means of discussing the nature of what Heady calls the heart change Heady reads canonical authors such as John Henry Newman Charles Dickens Charlotte Bront George Eliot and Oscar Wilde through a dual lens of literary history and post liberal theology As Heady shows these authors question the ability of realism to contain the emotionally freighted and often jarring plot lines that characterize conversion In so doing they explore the limits of narrative form while also shedding light on the ways in which conversion narratives address and often disrupt the reading communities in which they occur

SpecLab Johanna Drucker,2009-08-01 Nearly a decade ago Johanna Drucker cofounded the University of Virginia s SpecLab a digital humanities laboratory dedicated to risky projects with serious aims In SpecLab she explores the implications of these radical efforts to use critical practices and aesthetic principles against the authority of technology based on analytic models of knowledge Inspired by the imaginative frontiers of graphic arts and experimental literature and the technical possibilities of computation and information management the projects Drucker engages range from Subjective Meteorology to Artists Books Online to the as yet unrealized Patacritical Demon an interactive tool for exposing the structures that underlie our interpretations of text Illuminating the kind of future such experiments could enable SpecLab functions as more than a set of case studies at the intersection of computers and humanistic inquiry It also exemplifies Drucker s contention that humanists must play a role in designing models of knowledge for the digital age models that will determine how our culture will function in years to come ... Charles Lamb,1909 A Guide to Early Printed Books and Manuscripts Mark Bland,2013-03-26 A Guide to Early Printed Books and Manuscripts provides an introduction to the language and concepts employed in bibliographical studies and textual scholarship as they pertain to early modern manuscripts and printed texts Winner Honourable Mention for Literature Language and Linguistics American Publishers Prose Awards 2010 Based almost exclusively on new primary research Explains the complex process of viewing documents as artefacts showing readers how to describe documents properly and how to read their physical properties Demonstrates how to use the information gleaned as a tool for studying the transmission of literary documents Makes clear why such matters are important and the purposes to which such information is put Features illustrations that are carefully chosen for their unfamiliarity in order to keep the discussion fresh

A History of Cambridge University Press: Volume 3, New Worlds for Learning, 1873-1972 David McKitterick,1992 The third and final volume of A History of Cambridge University Press covering 1873 1972 Beware of the Other Side\(s\) Heike Schwarz,2014-03-15 This interdisciplinary study examines the still vivid phenomenon of the most controversial psychiatric diagnosis in the United States multiple personality disorder now called dissociative identity disorder This syndrome comprehends the occurrence of two or more distinct identities that take control of a person s behavior paired with an inexplicable memory loss Synthesizing the fields of psychiatry and the dynamics of the disorder with its influential representation in American fiction the study researches how psychiatry and fiction mutually shaped a mysterious syndrome and how this reciprocal process created a genre fiction of its own that persists until today in a very distinct self referential mode

Contemporary Trauma Narratives Jean-Michel Ganteau, Susana Onega, 2014-06-27 This book provides a comprehensive compilation of essays on the relationship between formal experimentation and ethics in a number of generically hybrid or liminal narratives dealing with individual and collective traumas running the spectrum from the testimonial novel and the fictional autobiography to the fake memoir written by a variety of famous more neglected contemporary British Irish US Canadian and German writers Building on the psychological insights and theorizing of the fathers of trauma studies Janet Freud Ferenczi and of contemporary trauma critics and theorists the articles examine the narrative strategies structural experimentations and hybridizations of forms paying special attention to the way in which the texts fight the unrepresentability of trauma by performing rather than representing it The ethicality or unethicity involved in this endeavor is assessed from the combined perspectives of the non foundational non cognitive discursive ethics of alterity inspired by Emmanuel Levinas and the ethics of vulnerability This approach makes Contemporary Trauma Narratives an excellent resource for scholars of contemporary literature trauma studies and literary theory
