Selected Essays Virginia Woolf, 2009-10-15 A good essay must draw its curtain round us but it must be a curtain that shuts us in not out According to Virginia Woolf the goal of the essay is simply that it should give pleasure It should lay us under a spell with its first word and we should only wake refreshed with its last One of the best practitioners of the art she analysed so rewardingly Woolf displayed her essay writing skills across a wide range of subjects with all the craftsmanship substance and rich allure of her novels This selection brings together thirty of her best essays including the famous Mr Bennett and Mrs Brown a clarion call for modern fiction She discusses the arts of writing and of reading and the particular role and reputation of women writers She writes movingly about her father and the art of biography and of the London scene in the early decades of the twentieth century Overall these pieces are as indispensable to an understanding of this great writer as they are enchanting in their own right

Selected Essays, 1934-1943 Simone Weil, 2015-12-22 Introducing the Selected Works of Simone Weil Weil's many essays written over her short life cover a very wide range of topics This important collection contains several that have been long unavailable There is deep integrity in this diverse collection Many are directed to social and political topics written in Weil's distinctive way of commenting on contemporary issues through historical writing Weil wrote in her great work The Need for Roots that humans beings need roots in the universe this rootedness comes through their lived history Often Weil is treated as if she were constantly trying to posit timeless truths but as these essays make evident Weil offers to her readers a sense of truth as we discover it and live with it in our concrete historical circumstances This analogical and historical thinking is particularly clear in the several essays that come from her last days while working for the Free French in London during which she meditated on the philosophical renewal of France after the war
