 Federation of ASEAN Economic Associations. Conference,1993 Livelihoods, Natural Resources, and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Helen Young,Lisa Goldman,2015-04-10 Sustaining and strengthening local livelihoods is one of the most fundamental challenges faced by post conflict countries By degrading the natural resources that are essential to livelihoods and by significantly hindering access to those resources conflict can wreak havoc on the ability of war torn populations to survive and recover This book explores how natural resource management initiatives in more than twenty countries and territories have supported livelihoods and facilitated post conflict peacebuilding Case studies and analyses identify lessons and opportunities for the more effective design of interventions to support the livelihoods that depend on natural resources from land to agriculture forestry fisheries and protected areas The book also explores larger questions about how to structure livelihoods assistance as part of a coherent integrated approach to post conflict redevelopment Livelihoods and Natural Resources in Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in this series address high value resources land water assessing and restoring natural resources and governance Indigenous Peoples' Land Rights under International Law Jérémie Gilbert, 2007-03-23 This book addresses the right of indigenous peoples to live own and use their traditional territories A profound relationship with land and territories characterizes indigenous groups but indigenous peoples have been and are repeatedly deprived of their lands This book analyzes whether the international legal regime provides indigenous peoples with the collective right to live on their traditional territories Through its meticulous and wide ranging examination of the interaction between international law and indigenous peoples land rights the work explores several burning issues such as collective rights self determination autonomy property rights and restitution of land In assessing the human rights approach to land rights the book delves into the notion of past violations and the role of human rights law in providing for remedies reparation and restitution It also argues that there is a new phase in the relationship between States and indigenous peoples in the making of territorial agreements Based on its analysis of indigenous peoples land rights under international law this book proposes an original theory as regards the legal status of indigenous peoples It explores how indigenous peoples have been the victims of the rules governing title to territory since the inception of international law and how under the current human rights regime indigenous peoples have now gained the status of actors of international law Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint
