Natural Helping Networks Alice H. Collins, Diane L. Pancoast, 1976 Social Support Networks James K. President's Commission on Mental Health,1978 Child Mental Health Practice from the Ecological Perspective Richard L. Munger,1991 The ecological perspective is a contextual approach which works at the interface between families and the broader ecology or ecosystem of the child the approach is not new but has not been widely adopted due to the lack of illustrative material available for practitioners Through an approach more descriptive and explanatory than empirical the author shows the clinician or other child care professional why the child s environment is crucial and provides techniques to draw people in the child s environment into the healing process Support Networks in a Caring Community J.A. Yoder,J.M.L. Jonker,R.A.B. Leaper,2012-12-06 The historic Binnenhof seat of the Dutch government in The Hague provided the setting January 1985 for a conference in which participants from eleven countries met to consider the theme Support networks in a caring community research and policy fact and fiction At the outset conference leadership provided by Professors J M L Jonker The Netherlands and R A B Leaper United Kingdom urged the conferees not to allow their enthusiasm for informal support networks to combine with the pervasive awareness of the failures of welfare states into a simplistic stance of advocacy with a consequent appeal to politicians to direct state funds accordingly Legitimate criticisms of the responses of welfare states to the needs of citizens were to be seen as the context for discussion not the substance of conference deliberations More specifically if it is now apparent to many people that governmental assistance of individuals with social needs can lead to an undesirable dependency on the part of increasingly passive citizens that awareness does not lend logical support to an ideological position that governmental expenditures are pernicious per se to be replaced as rapidly as possible by a return to reliance on self family friends and associations that are developed voluntarily and financed by those who are sufficiently interested
