Natural History Societies and Civic Culture in Victorian Scotland Diarmid A. Finnegan,2016-09-12 The relationship between science and civil society is essential to our understanding of cultural change during the Victorian era Science was frequently packaged as an appropriate form of civic culture inculcating virtues necessary for civic progress In turn civic culture was presented as an appropriate context for enabling and supporting scientific progress Finnegan s study looks at the shifting nature of this process during the nineteenth century using Scotland as the focus for his argument Considerations of class religion and gender are explored illuminating changing social identities as public interest in science was allowed even encouraged beyond the environs of universities and elite metropolitan societies Reports and Transactions - Cardiff

Botanists And Horticulturalists Including plant collectors, flower painters and garden designers Ray

Desmond,2020-12-23 Over the past four centuries botanists and gardeners in the British Isles have gathered maintained and propagated many varying species of plants Their work has been documented in innumerable books and articles which are often difficult to trace The Dictionary of British and Irish Botanists and Horticulturalists represents a time saving reference source for those who wish to discover more about the lives and achievements of the horticulturalists listed The dictionary s utility comes not only from indicating the major publications of the named authors but also the location of their herbaria and manuscripts The previous 1977 edition of the Dictionary has for many years been a much used source of information for botanists botanic artists and archivists In this revised edition the scope has been expanded to include among its 13 000 entries flower painters in addition to botanical artists over 1400 entries and for the first time garden designers Finally the Dictionary should have international appeal since so many botanists and gardeners worked on collective plants overseas in particular in North America and the British Commonwealth Each entry gives wherever possible details of dates and places of birth and death educational qualifications professional posts honours and awards publications location of plant collections manuscripts drawings and portraits Its main function however is to provide further biographical references to books and periodicals Comprehensive classified indices facilitate access by professions and activities countries and plant interests
