an ecological and pantheistic concept of deity and reality that is metaphysically novel and in need of constructive philosophical theological and scholarly engagement Philosophical theology is in an age concerned with re conceiving nature in terms of agency chaos complexity ecological networks and organicism both an active possibility and a remarkably valuable academic feminist and religious endeavour

Wrestling with Nature Peter Harrison, Ronald L. Numbers, Michael H. Shank, 2011-06 When and where did science begin Historians have offered different answers to these questions some pointing to Babylonian observational astronomy some to the speculations of natural philosophers of ancient Greece Others have opted for early modern Europe which saw the triumph of Copernicanism and the birth of experimental science while yet another view is that the appearance of science was postponed until the nineteenth century Rather than posit a modern definition of science and search for evidence of it in the past the contributors to Wrestling with Nature examine how students of nature themselves in various cultures and periods of history have understood and represented their work The aim of each chapter is to explain the content goals methods practices and institutions associated with the investigation of nature and to articulate the strengths limitations and boundaries of these efforts from the perspective of the researchers themselves With contributions from experts representing different historical periods and different disciplinary specializations this volume offers a fresh perspective on the history of science and on what it meant in other times and places to wrestle with nature
