Nature In Our Culture A Study In The Anthropology And The Sociology Of Knowing:

Nature in Our Culture Friedrich W. Sixel, Baldev R. Luther, 2001-11-21 Nature in Our Culture shows that today's environmental problems are not a consequence of an incorrect science but of the evolution of Western society Friedrich W Sixel acknowledges that the dominant culture that has evolved in modernity serves primarily the dominance of that culture An egoistic instrumentalism forces the modern individual to view everything in terms of its usefulness Sixel argues that only a culture that resurrects in itself its own Nature ness will rectify our presently problematic Nature Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 2002 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Anthropology and Nature Kirsten Hastrup, 2013-08-15 On the basis of empirical studies this book explores nature as an integral part of the social worlds conventionally studied by anthropologists The book may be read as a form of scholarly edgework resisting institutional divisions and conceptual routines in the interest of exploring new modalities of anthropological knowledge making The present interest in the natural world is partly a response to large scale natural disasters and global climate change and to a keen sense that nature matters matters to society at many levels ranging from the microbiological and genetic framing of reproduction over co species development to macro ecological changes of weather and climate Given that the human footprint is now conspicuous across the entire globe in the oceans as well as in the atmosphere it is difficult to claim that nature is what is given and permanent while people and societies are ephemeral and simply derivative features This implies that society matters to nature and some natural scientists look towards the social sciences for an understanding of how people think and how societies work The book thus opens up a space for new forms of reflection on how natures and societies are generated The Production of Educational Knowledge in the Global Era , 2008-01-01 What impact does globalization have on the production of educational knowledge and on the way scholars envisage education systems and education in general Western education systems are being transformed and their role redefined in light of the processes of globalization education targets are being reshaped in response to global economic needs education systems are rated according to international rankings and education itself has been packaged into a commodity that can be commercialized worldwide In addition globalization prompts more intimate contact with different types of societies cultures and knowledge that defy our universal foundations and research tools Has educational knowledge developed in a way that enables us to disentangle the new education configurations In order to respond to this question this edited volume addresses four major challenges to understand the denationalization of education and the need to re conceptualize this transformation to uncover the agents and the tools of educational globalization such as the knowledge producers international organizations and role of statistics to explore the implications of the emerging international educational institutions and international curricula to understand non western education and integrating it into western educational knowledge These challenges are located at the core of the production of educational knowledge and are treated from a variety of viewpoints sociological quantitative and qualitative scholarship ethnographic accounts socio historical perspectives and philosophical reflections This book contributes to critical thinking about globalization and educational knowledge and at the same time opens our spirits to the theoretical opportunities and educational enrichment that the globalization era offers This is a compelling collection for anthropologists sociologists educational researchers and anyone who seeks to understand the need of new modes of thinking about education in the global era CONTRIBUTORS Robert Arnove Aaron Benavot Eyal Ben Ari Roser Cuss Yossi Dahan Roger Dale Oren Lallo Julia Lerner Orna Naftali Julia Resnik Susan Robertson Philip Wexler and Yossi Yonah
