Women's Rights in Islam Asmaa Shehata, 2023-11-20 The issue of Muslim women's rights never seems outdated and has become trendy in the post 9 11 environment That is the mainstream media and Western politicians often view Muslim women as victims of male patriarchy and frequently justify Western involvement in the Middle East and in other Muslim majority countries at least in part to rescue women Within this realm Nawal El Saadawi is a famous Egyptian writer whose writings focus on the struggle of Muslim women and are widely read in the Middle East and many Western societies as well Because of her bold feminist views on politics religions and gender she is described as the Simone de Beauvoir of the Arab world After the death of El Saadawi in 2021 a flurry of arguments and criticism in the Egyptian press and women's press around the world is created in which different social media platforms were filled with numerous comments and discussions of her writings and arguments Whereas some mourned El Saadawi and her dedication to women's issues others celebrated her death wishing her the worst punishment in the afterlife for what they described as her destructive thoughts This monograph genuinely analyzes her views on five controversial issues marriage polygamy divorce inheritance rights and veiling in light of Qur'anic exegeses offered by two classical scholars i.e. Muhammad ibn Jarir Al Tabari and Ismail ibn Umar Ibn Kathir and two contemporary Muslim feminists i.e. Amina Wadud and Azizah Al Hibri By taking a critical look at her views the book contributes not only to this ongoing debate but adds value to assessing El Saadawi's work and helps readers gain a greater understanding of her writings as well. It also enables readers to comprehend the current tension between feminism and Islam by understanding the perspectives of both sides. Dissident Writings of Arab Women Brinda J. Mehta, 2014-03-14. Dissident Writings of Arab Women: Voices Against Violence analyzes the links between creative dissidence and inscriptions of violence in the writings of a selected group of postcolonial Arab women. The female authors destabilize essentialist framings of Arab identity through a series of reflective interrogations and contesting literary genres that include novels, short stories, poetry, docudramas, interviews, and testimonials. Rejecting a purist literature for literature's sake ethic, they embrace a dissident poetics of feminist critique and creative resistance as they engage in multiple and intergenerational border crossings in terms of geography, subject matter, language, and transnationality. This book thus examines the ways in which the women's writings provide the blueprint for social justice by voicing protest and stimulating critical thought, particularly in instances of social oppression, structural violence, and political transition. Providing an interdisciplinary approach which goes beyond narrow definitions of literature as aesthetic praxis, to include literature's added value as a social, historical, political, and cultural palimpsest, this book will be a useful resource for students and scholars of North African Studies, Postcolonial Studies, Francophone Studies, and Feminist Studies.

Female Circumcision Author, Mary Nyangweso Wangila, 2015-03-04. A Kenyan woman theologian examines arguments for and against the controversial practice of female circumcision. Based on interviews with 50 Kenyan women representing Christianity, Islam, African Initiated Churches, and traditional religion, Wangila emphasizes the importance of understanding the gender relationships and cultural beliefs behind the practice and the important role played by religion. Wangila calls for eradication of the practice through carefully designed educational efforts sensitive to religious and cultural beliefs.

Contemporary Arab Thought Elizabeth Suzanne Kassab, 2025-04-29. In the last third of the twentieth century, the Arab intellectual and political scene polarized between totalizing doctrines: nationalist, Marxist, and religious, and radical critique. Arab thinkers were reacting to the disenchanting experience of postindependence and a widespread sense of malaise, as well as to authoritarianism, intolerance, injustice, failed development, and successive defeats by Israel. The foundational account of these responses, Contemporary Arab Thought, illuminates the relationship between cultural and political critique in the work of major Arab thinkers. Elizabeth Suzanne Kassab also connects Arab debates to the postcolonial issues of Latin America and Africa, revealing the shared struggles of different regions. Since its first publication in 2009, this book has stood as the foremost account of contemporary Arab debates on culture, philosophy, modernity, tradition, identity, and liberation. It is widely used in Middle Eastern studies courses and has become a classic in the field of Arab intellectual history. Contemporary Arab Thought now features an extensive new introduction that reconsiders post 1967 Arab intellectual history in light of the 2011 uprisings and the upheavals that have occurred over the intervening years Kassab critically reflects on the book's arguments and the responses it has provoked and she surveys the new preoccupations that have emerged in Arab debates since 2011 As crises again overtake the Middle East this landmark work continues to offer indispensable insight into the richness of contemporary Arab thought Religious
