Second Promised Land Harry H. Hiller,2009 Explosive economic growth in resource rich Alberta has led to a stunning increase in its population In contrast to Ontario and British Columbia which have grown primarily through international migration Alberta has become a magnet for internal migrants contributing to population redistribution within Canada with significant national social and economic consequences Combining statistical analysis and ethnographic study Harry Hiller uncovers two waves of in migration to Alberta His innovative approach begins with the individual migrant and analyzes the relocation experience from origin to destination Through interviews with hundreds of migrants Hiller shows that migration is complex and dynamic shaped not just by what Alberta offers but also prompted by a process that begins in the region of origin that makes migration possible and helps determine whether migrants stay or return home By combining a social psychological approach with structural factors such as Alberta s transition from a regional hinterland province to its emerging role the global system discussions of gender The internet and folk culture Second Promised Land provides a multi dimensional and deeply human account of a contemporary Canadian phenomenon      Civilizing the West A.A. den Otter,1986 Alexander Galt and his son Elliott worked tirelessly to promote resource exploitation on Canada s vast western plains Their coal mines in Alberta gave birth to the city of Lethbridge      The Statesman's Year-Book S.

Peel's Bibliography of the Canadian Prairies to 1953 Ernest Boyce Ingles,Bruce Braden Peel,Norman Merrill Distad,2003-01-01 The Prairie Provinces cover Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba      The Prairie West as Promised Land R. Douglas Francis,Chris Kitzan,2007 Millions of immigrants were attracted to the Canadian West by promotional literature from the government in the late 19th century to the First World War bringing with them visions of opportunity to create a Utopian society or a chance to take control of their own destinies      The Canadian Prairies Gerald Friesen,1987-01-01 A history of the Canadian prairie provinces from the days of Native European contact to the 1980s

Improved Earth Rod Bantjes,2005-01-01 Improved Earth is a history of the making of abstract spaces of modernity in the setting of the Canadian prairies particularly rural Saskatchewan from 1869 to 1944 Rod Bantjes demonstrates how three interrelated projectsstate formation agrarian class formation and the transformation of the environmentwere conceived in spatial terms and employed competing visions of spatial possibility Bantjes proposes that the prairies be thought of as a site of modernity and makes a case for viewing prairie farmers as modernists who not only embraced but took an active role in the making of modernity Indeed many of the questions that excited the imaginations of prairie politicians and reformers are alive today the ecological and social value of localization in agricultural production the potentials for community maintained and linked by transportation and communications technologies and the possibilities of democratic decentralization within large translocal networks The first systematic treatment of the spatial dimensions of the colonization of the prairie west Improved Earth is a unique and thorough study certain to provoke new debates about the way space and time are imagined

Giffen,2004-10-18 In the 1940s the Manitoba Royal Commission on Adult Education investigated directions for the modernization of the province in the post war era of change It was charged particularly with looking at rural Manitoba s cultural educational and leadership opportunities in the wake of new technologies dwindling populations and altered political and social affiliations The commission engaged Jim Giffen then a young sociologist from the University of Toronto to undertake a detailed field study of three rural Manitoba towns in this context Giffen s extensive study examined the towns of Carman Elgin and Rosburn all significantly different in terms of their ethnic makeup and level of political and organizational sophistication He remained in the province for a year and a half at the end of which his report an analysis of education for leadership was considered too revealing for public release It remained in the Ontario Legislative Library until it was retrieved 50 years later by well known historian Gerald Friesen who has written an extensive postscript to the report As a snapshot of rural agricultural life in prairie Canada at a time of great change the study is invaluable Despite the differences in the three towns they retain some common characteristics that define a particular socio cultural view of the larger world Giffen looks at characteristics such as leadership in the community ethnic differences hierarchy of roles participation in organizations and aims and activities of young people Friesen s postscript provides a wider context to this study and an assessment of what these differences and commonalities meant to the province      The Statesman's Year-Book 1965-66

Empire of Dust David C. Jones, 2002 This re issue of the 1984 work includes a new preface The saga of the failed town of Alderson Alberta illustrates the greater story of drought and depopulation in the prairie dry belt of southwestern Alberta and eastern Saskatchewan from the turn of the century through the mid 1900s According to Jones a professor of history from Calgary the doomed farmer exodus from the core of the continent part of a massive North American tragedy was encouraged by boosterism lightning expansion and miscalculation A substantial appendix lists population data and crop prices Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Diverse Histories of American Sociology Anthony Blasi, 2005-06-01 This volume presents views of American sociology from minority groups and important intellectual movements that did not merge into the mainstream Coinciding with the centenary of the American Sociological Association it provides little known background information to the development of the field A first section highlights tensions between impartial scientific sociology and scientific social reform A second section uncovers the experiences of female African American and Latino pioneers in the field as well as a sociologist from a religious minority A third section traces the organizational history of the field including gendered racial regional and outsider perspectives A final section focuses on several neglected trajectories With this volume American sociology can be seen in its full context

Perspectives on the Social Sciences in Canada Tom N. Guinsberg, Grant L. Reuber, 1974-12-15 The papers included in this volume were originally presented at a conference to commemorate the opening of the Social Science Centre at the University of Western Ontario in 1973 Participants were asked to take stock of the development of their disciplines in Canada to assay the contours of current endeavours and to comment upon avenues of future research Their efforts mark what is believed to be the first collective assessment of the social sciences in Canada The contributors include Nathan Keyfitz on sociology C B Macpherson on political science H G Johnson on economics Ramsay Cook on history and M Rokeach on the place of values in Canadian social science Commentaries on the papers are also included Each author has addressed himself to one or more of the following matters the degree to which the disciplines as practised in Canada are linked to or differentiated from their practice elsewhere the benefits and drawbacks of a nationalistic approach to scholarship in the social sciences the contributions of Canadian scholarship to the study of society in general and Canadian society in particular the interaction among the social sciences in Canada and the need for inter disciplinary studies and the unfulfilled agenda of Canadian social science The assessments thus delineate the peculiar problems of the social sciences in Canada as well as some of the overall problems within and among the disciplines themselves
