Web Without a Weaver- on the Becoming of Knowledge Camilla Hald, 2011-07 The dissertation describes the processes surrounding the production of investigative knowledge within the Danish Police based on in depth analyses of how investigators seek out discover and produce knowledge that can assist in the production of evidence for identification and prosecution The central question informing the dissertation is the question of how knowledge comes about and how such processes of knowledge can be studied anthropologically The dissertation develops a theoretical frame for the study of knowledge which addresses the becoming of knowledge as the effect of the interaction of heterogeneous parts producing knowledge as a complex whole This is done by investigating how tacit and embodied forms of knowledge experience or craft knowledge as well as more abstract forms and fields e g natural medical or forensic sciences or legal and technical procedures contribute to and impact the creation of knowledge of a particular crime The central point of argumentation of the dissertation is that the becoming of knowledge cannot be ascribed to one part Knowledge creation must be analysed and theorised as a result of the complex interaction between investigator environment objects technology theory procedure etc and the structures of possibility individual parts contribute to the workings of the whole It is this interaction and the space which arises from it that this dissertation seeks to investigate analyse and theorise Alien Chic Neil

Badmington,2004-08-13 From The War of the Worlds Mars Attacks Mission to Mars and Independence Day Neil Badmington explores our relationship with aliens and how thinkers such as Descartes Barthes Freud Lyotard and Derrida have conceptualised what it means to be human and post human

Beyond the Lines Sarah E. Parkinson,2023-01-15 Beyond the Lines explores the social underpinnings of rebel adaptation and resilience How do rebel groups cope with crises such as repression displacement and fragmentation What explains changes in militant organizations structures and behaviors over time Drawing on nearly two years of ethnographic research Sarah E Parkinson traces shifts in Palestinian militant groups internal structures and practices during the civil war of 1975 to 1990 and foreign occupations of Lebanon She shows that most militants approach asymmetrical warfare as a series of challenges centered around information and logistics characterized by problems such as supplying constantly mobile forces identifying collaborators disrupting rival belligerents operations and providing essential services like healthcare Effective negotiation of these challenges contributes to militant organizations resilience and survival In this context the foundation of rebel resilience lies with militants ability to repurpose their everyday social networks to organizational ends In the Lebanese setting Beyond the Lines demonstrates how regionalized differences in Israeli Syrian and Lebanese deployment of violence triggered distinct social network responses that led to divergent organizational outcomes for Palestinian militants

Enslaved Archives Maria R. Montalvo,2024-07-16 Explores the relationship between the production of enslaved property and the production of the past in the antebellum United States It is extraordinarily difficult for historians to reconstruct the lives of individual enslaved people Records where they exist are often fragmentary biased or untrue In Enslaved Archives Maria R Montalvo investigates the legal records including contracts and court records that American antebellum enslavers produced and preserved to illuminate enslavers capitalistic motivations for shaping the histories of enslaved people The documentary archive was not simply a by product of the business of slavery but also a necessary tool that enslavers used to exploit the people they enslaved Building on Montalvo s analysis of more than 18 000 sets of court records Enslaved Archives is a close study of what we can and cannot learn about enslaved individuals from the written record By examining five lawsuits in Louisiana Montalvo deconstructs enslavers cases the legal arguments and rhetorical strategies they used to produce information and shape perceptions of enslaved people

Commodifying enslaved people was not simply a matter of effectively exploiting their labor. Enslavers also needed to control information about those people. Enslavers' narratives carefully manipulated, prone to omissions and sometimes false, often survive as the only account of an enslaved individual's life. In working to historicize the people at the center of enslavers' manipulations, Montalvo outlines the possibilities and limits of the archive, providing a glimpse of the historical and contemporary consequences of commodification. Enslaved Archives makes a significant intervention in the history of enslaved people, legal history, and the history of slavery and capitalism by adding a qualitative dimension to the analysis of how enslavers created and maintained power.

Our Social World Jeanne H. Ballantine, Keith A. Roberts, Kathleen Odell Korgen, 2019-01-02 The authors are proud sponsors of the 2020 SAGE Keith Roberts Teaching Innovations Award, enabling graduate students and early career faculty to attend the annual ASA pre-conference teaching and learning workshop. Our Social World: Introduction to Sociology inspires students to develop their sociological imaginations to see the world and personal events from a new perspective and to confront sociological issues on a day-to-day basis. Organized around the Social World model, a conceptual framework that demonstrates the relationships among individuals, the micro-level organizations, institutions, and subcultures, the meso-level, and societies and global structures, the macro-level, the authors use this framework to help students develop the practice of using three levels of analysis and to view sociology as an integrated whole rather than a set of discrete subjects. The Seventh Edition includes new coverage of climate change, the influence of robots and artificial intelligence on workers, race relations in the Trump era, transgender identity and gender fluidity, sexual harassment in the workplace, and the MeToo movement, declining marriage rates, the impact of tracking for students at all academic achievement levels, smoking as an example of health and inequality in the U.S., gun violence, and the student movement to control access to guns, social media, and Russian interference in the 2016 election. The Medieval Changeling Rose A. Sawyer, 2023 The first comprehensive study of medieval changelings and associated attitudes to the health and care of children in the period The changeling a monstrous creature swapped for a human child by malevolent powers is an enduring image in the popular imagination dubbing a child a changeling is traditionally understood as a way to justify the often violent rejection of a disabled or ailing infant Belief in the reality of changelings is famously attested in Stephen of Bourbon's disapproving thirteenth century account of rites at the shrine of Saint Guinefort the Holy Greyhound where sick children were brought to be cured However the focus on the St Guinefort rituals has meant some scholarly neglect of the wealth of other sources of knowledge including mystery plays and medical texts and the nuances with which the changeling motif was used in this period This interdisciplinary study considers the idea of the changeling as a cultural construct through an examination of a broad range of medical miracle and imaginative texts as well as the lives of three more conventional Saints Stephen Bartholomew and Lawrence who in their infancy were said to have been replaced by a demonic changeling The author highlights how people from all walks of life were invested in both creating and experiencing the images texts and artefacts depicting these changelings and examines societal tensions regarding infants and children their health their care and their position within the familial unit
