Parttime Faculty Higher Education At A Crossroads Asheeric Higher Education Research Report No 3 1984:

Profiles of Faculty in Higher Education Institutions Susan Higley Russell, 1991 Profiles of Faculty in Higher Education Institutions, 1988 Susan Higley Russell, 1991 Resources in education, 1991 The Professoriate Anthony Welch, 2005-05-13 This indispensable guide provides a unique insight into the academic profession at a time of major change. It is organized both thematically and geographically with attention given to regions rarely covered such as China and Latin America. For the first time here is a book that critically assesses the condition of the professoriate at a time of momentous change when the profession is fracturing along fault lines.

Collective Bargaining in Higher Education and the Professions, 1986 The American Academic Profession Stephen Steinberg, 2017-11-30 This book covers well the issues and problems of the U S academic profession in the second half of the twentieth century. Contemporary Science: The tale of the American academic profession that large company of men and women unprecedented in its size and diversity needs to be written. A large historical literature on America's colleges and universities exists but much of it is unashamedly hagiographic. On the other hand more critical works see American universities as being in dire need of massive reform. This charge is not sustained by the contributors to The American Academic Profession who hope to shatter the code of silence that passes for discretion by focusing on the forces that have conspired to create the American academic profession. Graubard includes contributions from important scholars around the world. How the Academic Profession is Changing by Arthur Levine. Small Worlds Different Worlds: The Uniqueness and Troubles of American Academic Professions by Burton R Clark. The Elusive Academic Profession: Complexity and Change by Francis Oakley. Uncertainties in the Changing Academic Profession by Walter E Massey. Stewards of Opportunity: America's Public Community Colleges by Patrick M Callan. Public Universities as Academic Workplaces by Patricia J Gumpert. Survival of the Fittest: Postgraduate Education and the Professoriate at the Fin de Sibcle by R M Douglas. Reflections on the Culture Wars by Eugene Goodheart. A Blow Is Like an Instrument by Charles Bernstein. The Science Wars and the Future of the American Academic Profession by Jay A Labinger. The Scientist as Academic by Cheryl B Leggon. The Place of Knowledge in the American Academic Profession by Sheldon Rothblatt. Border Crossings: Organizational Boundaries and Challenges to the American Professoriate by Theodore R Mitchell. The Development of Information Technology in American Higher Education by Martin Trow. and An International Academic Crisis: The American Professoriate in Comparative Perspective by Philip G Altbach. The American Academic Profession is not sanguine about what is currently happening in higher education or what it imagines the future portends. It simply asks the question: Can a society truly understand its universities and colleges when it has moved too quickly from uncritical admiration to uniformed and ungenerous complaint? This volume intends to dispel some long persistent myths in favor of objective truth. It is a must for anyone interested in academic problems for those who work in higher education and for everyone interested in American ideas, traditions and social and intellectual history. Stephen R Graubard is editor of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and its journal Daedalus and professor of history emeritus at Brown University Faculty Work and the Public Good Genevieve G. Shaker, 2015-04-28 At a time when faculty roles are under great scrutiny and faculty work itself has an uncertain future this book offers a new approach to examining academic professionalism This collection of essays applies a philanthropic lens to contemporary debates and considers academic work completed out of a moral responsibility to the public good It provides a counterpoint to narrow conceptions of appropriate faculty work as limited to the production of credit hours and research dollars and offers evidence that faculty can have a wider role both within and beyond the ivory tower By examining faculty members many contributions not only to students but to society at large Faculty Work and the Public Good provides an alternate perspective on America's colleges and universities that will help preserve and expand professorial contributions to the public good Although not all faculty are philanthropically inclined highlighting those who are will help preserve valuable aspects of faculty work and encourage more such contributions to society This volume is an essential read for higher education policymakers trustees and administrators students and scholars of higher education and philanthropy and individual faculty concerned about their profession Contributors Ann E Austin J Herman Blake Dwight F Burlingame Denise Mott DeZolt Sean Gehrke Audrey J Jaeger Adrianna Kezar Jia G Liang Elizabeth Lynn Michael Moody Emily L Moore Thomas F Nelson Laird Jason F Perkins William M Plater Gary Rhoades R Eugene Rice John Saltmarsh Lorilee R Sandmann Paul Shaker Marty Sulek William G Tierney Richard C Turner The contributors to this volume provide unique insights into this under appreciated but significant dimension of academic work and culture Jack H Schuster professor emeritus education and public policy senior research fellow Claremont Graduate University Provides a powerful rationale for broadening the definition of what are the valued contributions faculty members can make to their institutions disciplines and the public at large Judith M Gappa professor emerita Purdue University Hidden Academics Indhu Rajagopal, 2002-01-01 Rajagopal examines the multiple ways contract faculty have emerged as an underclass in academia with differences in status compensation career opportunities and professional development Volatility in State Spending for Higher Education

Jennifer A. Delaney, 2023-10-30 The severity of cuts and the unpredictability in state funding for higher education have garnered headlines across the nation since the turn of the present century In this context the authors in this new groundbreaking volume argue that too little attention is paid to the consequences of volatility in funding as most discussions focus on levels of funding Their research addresses an important blind spot in the academic literature since predictability matters to institutions students families and states In addition the risks of operating in an uncertain financial environment have led to behaviors that are not always in the best interests of states institutions faculty students or the public good

Interpreting Censorship in Canada Allan C. Hutchinson, Klaus Petersen, 1999-01-01 Socially organized activity cannot occur without censorship Going beyond ideological arguments this collection of essays explores the extent of censorship in Canada today the forms censorship takes and the interests it serves Report on Part-time Faculty Compensation in

California Community Colleges California Postsecondary Education Commission, 2001 The Academic Profession Martin J. Finkelstein, Philip G. Altbach, 2014-02-04 The purpose of this series is to bring together the main currents in today's higher education and examine such crucial issues as the changing nature of education in the U.S., the considerable adjustment demanded of institutions, administrators, the faculty, the role of Catholic education, the remarkable growth of higher education in Latin America, contemporary educational concerns in Europe and more. Among the many specific questions examined in individual articles: Is it true that women are subtly changing the academic profession? How is power concentrated in academic organizations? How successful are Latin America's private universities? What is the correlation between higher education and employment in Spain? Is minority graduate education in the U.S. producing the desired results? Organizing Professionals Gary Rhoades, 2025-04-15 Amidst unprecedented levels of union organizing in higher education, Gary Rhoades combines the perspectives of a scholar and labor movement activist and leader to provide a comprehensive analysis of organizing campaigns and collective bargaining agreements for faculty, contingent and tenure track graduate students and postdoc employees. Academic employees are organizing and negotiating for respect for workers, their work, and the public value of higher education. Rhoades analyzes how academic employees are shifting the imbalance of power between labor and management, reducing the internal professional stratification between segments of the academic workforce, and intersecting workplace issues with broader issues of equality, public value, and social justice, and in the process, organizing and negotiating for a new, more progressive academy. Managed Professionals Gary Rhoades, 1998-04-02 Managed Professionals is a source book on the negotiated terms of faculty work and a sociological analysis of the restructuring of faculty as a professional workforce. Based on a sample of forty-five percent of the more than 470 negotiated faculty agreements nationwide, which cover over 242,000 faculty, the book offers extensive examples and analysis of contractual provisions on salary structures, retrenchment, use and working conditions of part-time faculty, use of educational technology in distance education, outside employment, and intellectual property rights. Focused on the ongoing negotiation of professional autonomy and managerial discretion, the book offers insights into the broad restructuring of faculty with conclusions that extend beyond unionized faculty to all of academe. Faculty are managed professionals and are increasingly so. Managers have much flexibility, and as they seek to reorganize colleges and universities, the exercise of their flexibility serves to heighten the divisions within the academic profession and to reconfigure the professional workforce on campus. Controversies and Decision Making in Difficult Economic Times Billie Wright Dziech, 1986 Journal of Higher Education (Canada), 1989

Envisioning the Faculty for the Twenty-First Century Adrianna Kezar, Daniel Maxey, 2016-09-12 The institution of tenure, once a cornerstone of American colleges and universities, is rapidly eroding. Today, the majority of faculty positions are part-time or limited-term appointments, a radical change that has resulted more from circumstance than from thoughtful planning. As colleges and universities evolve to meet the changing demands of society, how might their leaders design viable alternative faculty models for the future Envisioning the Faculty for the Twenty First Century weighs the concerns of university administrators professors adjuncts and students in order to critically assess emerging faculty models and offer informed policy recommendations Cognizant of the financial pressures that have led many universities to favor short term faculty contracts higher education experts Adrianna Kezar and Daniel Maxey assemble a top notch roster of contributors to investigate whether there are ways to modify the existing system or promote new faculty models They suggest how colleges and universities might rethink their procedures for faculty development hiring scheduling and evaluation in order to maintain a campus environment that still fosters faculty service and student centered learning Even as it asks urgent questions about how to retain the best elements of American higher education Envisioning the Faculty for the Twenty First Century also examines the opportunities that systemic changes might create Ultimately it provides some starting points for how colleges and universities might best respond to the rapidly evolving needs of an increasingly global society Savior Or Servant Kathryn Louise Shaffer,1995 Continuing Higher Education Review ,1996 Tenured Bosses and Disposable Teachers , Tenured Bosses and Disposable Teachers Writing Instruction in the Managed University exposes the poor working conditions of contingent composition faculty and explores practical alternatives to the unfair labor practices that are all too common on campuses today Editors Marc Bousquet Tony Scott and Leo Parascondola bring together diverse perspectives from pragmatism to historical materialism to provide a perceptive and engaging examination of the nature extent and economics of the managed labor problem in composition instruction a field in which as much as ninety three percent of all classes are taught by graduate students adjuncts and other disposable teachers These instructors enjoy few benefits meager wages little or no participation in departmental governance and none of the rewards and protections that encourage innovation and research And it is from this disenfranchised position that literacy workers are expected to provide some of the core instruction in nearly everyone s higher education experience Twenty six contributors explore a range of real world solutions to managerial domination of the composition workplace from traditional academic unionism to ensemble movement activism and the pragmatic rhetoric accommodations and resistances practiced by teachers in their daily lives Contributors are Leann Bertoncini Marc Bousquet Christopher Carter Christopher Ferry David Downing Amanda Godley Robin Truth Goodman Bill Hendricks Walter Jacobsohn Ruth Kiefson Paul Lauter Donald Lazere Eric Marshall Randy Martin Richard Ohmann Leo Parascondola Steve Parks Gary Rhoades Eileen Schell Tony Scott William Thelin Jennifer Seibel Trainor Donna Strickland William Vaughn Ray Watkins and Katherine Wills
