Forgotten African American Firsts Hans Ostrom, J. David Macey Jr., 2023-03-16 Winner of the 2024 RUSA Outstanding Reference Award This book introduces students to African American innovators and their contributions to art entertainment sports politics religion business and popular culture While the achievements of such individuals as Barack Obama Toni Morrison and Thurgood Marshall are well known many accomplished African Americans have been largely forgotten or deliberately erased from the historical record in America. This volume introduces students to those African Americans whose successes in entertainment, business, sports, politics, and other fields remain poorly understood. Dr. Charles Drew, whose pioneering research on blood transfusions saved thousands of lives during World War II; Mae Jemison, an engineer who in 1992 became the first African American woman to travel in outer space; and Ethel Waters, the first African American to star in her own television show, are among those chronicled in Forgotten African American Firsts. With nearly 150 entries across 17 categories, this book has been carefully curated to showcase the inspiring stories of African Americans whose hard work, courage, and talent have led the course of history in the United States and around the world. The Authentic Voice Arlene Noto Morgan, Alice Irene Pifer, Keith Woods, 2006. Accompanying DVD-ROM contains seven television stories discussed in the book and interviews. Guarding Life's Dark Secrets, 2007-11-08. This book investigates the elements that have developed as part of the definition of propriety and good behavior and how the law has acted to protect respectable people and their reputations. An Introduction to Black Studies Eric R. Jackson, 2023-01-31. For years the American public education system has neglected to fully examine and discuss the rich history of people of African descent who have played a pivotal role in the transformation of the United States. The establishment of Black studies departments and programs represented a major victory for higher education and a vindication of Black scholars such as W. E. B. Du Bois and Nathan Huggins. This emerging field sought to address omissions from numerous disciplines as well as myriad distortions, stereotypes, and myths. In An Introduction to Black Studies, Eric R. Jackson demonstrates the continuing need for Black studies, also known as African American studies, in university curricula. Jackson connects the growth and impact of Black studies to the broader context of social justice movements, emphasizing the historical and contemporary demand for the discipline. This book features seventeen chapters that focus on the primary eight disciplines of Black studies: history, sociology, psychology, religion, feminism, education, political science, and the arts. Each chapter includes a biographical vignette of an important figure in African American history, such as Frederick Douglass, Louis Armstrong, and Madam C. J. Walker, as well as student learning objectives that provide a starting point for educators. This valuable work speaks to the strength and rigor of the field, its importance to the formal educational process, and its relevance to the United States and the world. African American Lives Henry Louis Gates, Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2004-04-29. The first book of its kind since 1982's Dictionary of American Negro Biography, African American Lives leads us into a new era of African American biographical scholarship. In collaboration with Oxford University Press and the American Council of Learned Societies, and with contributions from over four hundred scholars and experts in many fields, the editors and their staff at the W. E. B. Du Bois Institute for African and African American Research at Harvard University have collected in this single volume the lives of many of the most important and most interesting names in African American history. BOOK JACKET In a Far Country John Taliaferro, 2007-11-13. The awesome untold adventure of one couple's harrowing heroic effort to save several hundred ice bound whalers and the future of the Eskimo people      Writing with Scissors Ellen Gruber Garvey, 2012-11-02 Men and women 150 years ago grappled with information overload by making scrapbooks the ancestors of Google and blogging From Abraham Lincoln to Susan B Anthony African American janitors to farmwomen abolitionists to Confederates people cut out and pasted down their reading Writing with Scissors opens a new window into the feelings and thoughts of ordinary and extraordinary Americans Like us nineteenth century readers spoke back to the media and treasured what mattered to them In this groundbreaking book Ellen Gruber Garvey reveals a previously unexplored layer of American popular culture where the proliferating cheap press touched the lives of activists and mourning parents and all who yearned for a place in history Scrapbook makers documented their feelings about momentous public events such as living through the Civil War mediated through the newspapers African Americans and women s rights activists collected concentrated and critiqued accounts from a press that they did not control to create unwritten histories in books they wrote with scissors Whether scrapbook makers pasted their clippings into blank books sermon collections or the pre gummed scrapbook that Mark Twain invented they claimed ownership of their reading They created their own democratic archives Writing with Scissors argues that people have long had a strong personal relationship to media Like newspaper editors who enthusiastically scissorized and reprinted attractive items from other newspapers scrapbook makers passed their reading along to family and community This book explains how their scrapbooks underlie our present day ways of thinking about information news and what we do with it      The Irish of Portland, Maine: A History of Forest City Hibernians

Matthew Jude Barker, 2014-01-21 The Irish have influenced the city of Portland since it was first established in the seventeenth century Today s vibrant Catholic community owes its origins to Irish immigrants in Portland s earliest days when beloved leaders like Father Ffrench provided solace to souls far from home The church helped them adapt and adapted along with them affecting the city in many ways Portland s Irish faced discrimination especially in the years before the Civil War when anti Irish sentiment surged and burnings and violence erupted like the June 1855 Rum Riot Despite this many Portland Irish took up arms for the United States in the Civil War and their participation in this conflict helped them become assimilated Join local expert Matthew Jude Barker as he explores the triumphs and challenges of the Irish of Portland before the twentieth century      A Higher Education Equity Walk in The Struggle for American Identity Lenford Sutton , 2024-02-03 A Higher Education Equity Walk in the Struggle for American Identity offers a compelling case study by Lenford Sutton recounting the author s parallel experience as the first black man to serve as the tempered radical in a historically white learning community In the Southwest Drawing parallels with the tragic fate of Ahmad Aubrey in an unwelcoming community Sutton sheds light on the visible and unseen cultural frameworks racial habits and value gaps leaders from non dominant groups navigate when pursuing Diversity Equity and Inclusion goals and objects within the university strategic plans of Historically White Institutions In addition it captures deep reflection from the experience reframing problems in the spirit of

Design Thinking with particular emphasis on Empathy as the Gateway to problem solving Recognizing that Digital transformation both cultural and demographic shifts are the drivers of enormous changes that foster fear and increased uncertainty the text emphasizes the new learnings and recommendations for leaders operating in similar circumstances It connotes that tempered radicals often reside at the intersection of innovation and the status quo and in the current cultural and technological disruption of higher education can serve the institution well if deployed appropriately by university leadership to scale its culture

Gender and Diversity Issues in Religious-Based Institutions and Organizations Glimps, Blanche Jackson, Ford, Theron, 2015-09-10 As religions grow and evolve they adapt to their current circumstances with new ideologies often deviating dramatically from their roots The variety of religious institutions in modern society necessitates a focus on diversity and inclusiveness in the interactions between organizations of different religions cultures and viewpoints Gender and Diversity Issues in Religious Based Institutions and Organizations elucidates the impact of gender identity and race within religious based institutions and organizations Policymakers academicians researchers government officials and religious leaders will find this text useful in furthering their research related to inclusiveness and diversity in their respective roles This essential reference source builds on the available literature on gender and diversity issues in religious based settings and contexts with chapters relating to race relations in the Churches of Christ the role of women in religious movements in Latin America gay straight alliances at religious based colleges and universities and lessons and insights for religious institutions and faculty

Habits of Devotion James M. O'Toole, 2004 In Habits of Devotion four senior scholars take the measure of the central religious practices and devotions that by the middle of the twentieth century defined the ordinary week to week religion of the majority of American Catholics

The Big Trial Lawrence M. Friedman, 2015-05-04 The trial of O J Simpson was a sensation avidly followed by millions of people but it was also in a sense nothing new One hundred years earlier the Lizzie Borden trial had held the nation in thrall The names and the crimes may change but the appeal is enduring and why this is how it works and what it means are what Lawrence Friedman investigates in The Big Trial What is it about these cases that captures the public imagination Are the headline trials of our period different from those of a century or two ago And what do we learn from them about the nature of our society past and present To get a clearer picture Friedman first identifies what certain headline trials have in common then considers particular cases within each grouping The political trial for instance embraces treason and spying dissenters and radicals and to varying degrees corruption and fraud Celebrity trials involve the famous whether victims as in the case of Charles Manson or defendants as disparate as Fatty Arbuckle and William Kennedy Smith but certain high profile cases such as those Friedman categorizes as tabloid trials can also create celebrities The fascination of whodunit trials can be found in the mystery surrounding the case Are we sure about O J Simpson What about Claus von Bulow tried in another sensational case for sending his wife into a coma An especially interesting type of case Friedman groups under the rubric worm in the bud These are cases such as that of Lizzie Borden that seem to put society itself on trial they raise fundamental social questions and often suggest hidden and secret pathologies And finally a small but important group of cases proceed from moral panic the Salem witchcraft trials being the classic instance though Friedman also considers recent examples Though they might differ in significant ways these types of trials also have important similarities Most notably they invariably raise questions about identity Who is this defendant A villain An innocent unfairly accused And in this respect The Big Trial shows us the headline trial reflects a critical aspect of modern society Reaching across the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to the latest outrage from congressional hearings to lynching and vigilante justice to public punishment from Dr Sam Sheppard the fugitive to Jeffrey Dahmer the cannibal The Rosenbergs to Timothy McVeigh the book presents a complex picture of headline trials as displays of power moments of didactic theater that demonstrate in one way or another whether a society is fair whom it protects and whose interest it serves
