Reflecting on the Inevitable Peter J. Adams, 2020-03-09 Death elucidating religiosity psychoses and intersubjectivity studies have over the last twenty years witnessed a flourishing of research and scholarship particularly in areas such as dying and bereavement cultural practices and fear of dying But despite its importance a specific focus on the nature of personal mortality has attracted surprisingly little attention Reflecting on the Inevitable combines evidence from several disciplinary fields to explore the varying ways each of us engages with the prospect of personal mortality Chapters are organized around the question of how an ongoing relationship might be possible when the threat of consciousness coming to an end points to an unspeakable nothingness The book then argues that despite this threat an ongoing relationship with one s own death is still possible by means of conceptual devices or enabling frames that help shape personal mortality into a relatable object In each chapter the subtleties and applicability of key ideas are enhanced through a series of illustrative narratives built up around the lives of four people at different ages living in two adjacent houses Reflecting on the Inevitable is relevant not only to academics of death studies but also those training and practicing in people helping professions as well as anyone experiencing or attempting to make sense of major life events Poetry as Persuasion Carl Dennis,2001 Focusing on the relation of the poet to the reader Carl Dennis proposes that poems are acts of persuasion and that the strength of a poem s speaker is the key to winning the reader s sympathetic attention Dennis identifies the qualities of passion discrimination and inclusiveness as essential in creating a compelling speaker This emphasis on character leads to fresh discussions of point of view irony myth and genre Each subject is developed through careful readings of a wide variety of poets from Whitman and Dickinson to contemporaries Lucidly written Poetry as Persuasion offers both inspiration and important advice for practicing poets and at the same time provides anyone with an interest in poetry a fresh understanding of its appeal NIVAC Bundle 2: Historical Books Robert L. Hubbard, Jr., K. Lawson Younger, Bill T. Arnold, August H. Konkel, Andrew E. Hill, Karen H. Charles Taliaferro. Iil Evans, 2021-04-08 In this volume Charles Taliaferro and Jil Evans promote aesthetic personalism by examining three domains of aesthetics the philosophy of beauty aesthetic experience and philosophy of art through the lens of Judaism Christianity Islam theistic Hinduism and the all seeing Compassionate Buddha These religious traditions assume an inclusive overarching God's eye or ideal point of view that can create an emancipatory appreciation of beauty and goodness This appreciation also recognizes the reality and value of the aesthetic experience of persons and deepens the experience of art works The authors also explore and contrast the invisibility of persons and God The belief that God or the sacred is invisible does not mean God or the sacred cannot be experienced through visual and other sensory or unique modes Conversely the assumption that human persons are thoroughly visible or observable in all respects ignores how racism and other forms of bias render persons invisible to others Wilderness Mysticism: A Contemplative Christian Tradition Stephen K.
