Passport To Power English:

Identifying the English Edward Higgs, 2011-10-06 Personal identification is very much a live political issue in Britain and this book looks at why this is the case and why paradoxically the theft of identity has become ever more common as the means of identification have multiplied. Identifying the English looks not only at how criminals have been identified by fingerprinting, DNA, but also at the identification of the individual with seals and signatures of the citizen by means of passports and ID cards and of the corpse. Beginning his history in the medieval period, Edward Higgs reveals how it was not the Industrial Revolution that brought the most radical changes in identification techniques as many have assumed but rather the changing nature of the State and commerce and their relationship with citizens and customers. In the twentieth century the very different historical techniques have converged on the holding of information on databases and increasingly on biometrics and the multiplication of these external databases outside the control of individuals has continued to undermine personal identity security.

Transformation: Emergence of Bangladesh and Evolution of India-Bangladesh Ties Pinak Ranjan Chakravarty, 2025-07-21 This book explores India Bangladesh bilateral ties over the past fifty years tracing Bengal's history, the Partition and the birth of Bangladesh. It examines Bangladesh's domestic challenges including political turmoil after the assassination of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, military interventions, the secularism-theocracy conflict, the Chakma revolt and insurgency, communal tensions and the nation's economic recovery. The book provides an up-to-date analysis of bilateral issues and highlights PM Sheikh Hasina's transformative role in shaping India-Bangladesh relations with her leadership guiding Bangladesh into the future.

Bilingual Pre-Teens Janet M. Fuller, 2012-08-21 This volume examines the connection between socio-economic class and bilingual practices, a previously under-researched area, through looking at differences in bilingual settings that are classified as immigrant or elite and are thus linked to socio-economic class categories. Fuller chooses for this examination bilingual pre-teen children in Germany and the U.S. in order to demonstrate how local identities are embedded in a wider social world and how ideologies and identities both produce and reproduce each other. In so doing, she argues that while pre-teen children are clearly influenced by macro-level ideologies, they also have agency in how they choose to construct their identities with relation to hegemonic societal discourses and have many other motivations and identities aside from social class membership which shape their linguistic practices.

British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa Matthew P. Llewellyn, Toby C. Rider, 2024-11-25 The transnational anti apartheid sport boycott of South Africa represented the most prominent extended and controversial anti racism campaign in the history of sport Spearheaded by prominent British religious and anti colonial figures and exiled South Africans emboldened by communist and Global South support and legitimised by supranational political bodies such as the United Nations the Organisation of African Unity and the Commonwealth the sport boycott helped propel anti apartheid out of relative obscurity and struck at the very heart of a cultural practice that served an explicitly ideological function in Afrikaner society Britain held a dichotomous even paradoxical role as both prosecutor and defender of white South Africa This book utilises sport as a critical lens for understanding the dynamics and dichotomies of British attitudes towards the apartheid regime Debates over whether to continue or to cut sporting links with apartheid South Africa proved bitterly divisive The considerable weight the subject carried and the degree to which it saturated British political and social discourse for four decades speaks to its impact and importance British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa represents the first archival based historical examination of Britain's sporting relations with South Africa throughout the apartheid era 1948 1994 Situating the analysis within the shifting multiracial and multicultural landscapes of postcolonial Britain and within global political cultural sporting and ideological debates the authors trace the origins and evolution of the transnational sport boycott and examine what inspired Britons to energise anti apartheid sport campaigns and in contrast what drove many others to vehemently oppose them at every turn
