Past Futures The Impossible Necessity Of History:

Past Futures Ged Martin, 2004-05 By nature human beings seek to make sense of their past Paradoxically true historical explanation is ultimately impossible Historians never have complete evidence from the past nor is their methodology rigorous enough to prove causal links Although it cannot be proven that A caused B by redefining the agenda of historical discourse scholars can locate events in time and place history once again at the heart of intellectual activity In Past Futures Ged Martin advocates examining the decisions that people take most of which are not the result of a process but are reached intuitively Subsequent rationalizations that constitute historical evidence simply mislead All historians can do is to locate them in time to explain not why a decision was taken but why then To illustrate Martin asks a number of questions What is a long time in history Are we close to the past or remote from it Is democracy a recent experiment or proof of our arrival at the end of a journey through time Can we engage in a historical dialogue with the past without making clear our own ethical standpoints Although explanation is ultimately impossible humankind can make sense of its location in time through the concept of significance a device for highlighting events and aspects of the past In so doing Martin suggests a radical new approach to historical discourse

An Anthropological Toolkit David Zeitlyn, 2022-09-13 Presenting sixty theoretical ideas David Zeitlyn asks How to write about anthropological theory without making a specific theoretical argument David Zeitlyn has written a wryly engaging short book on essentially why we should not become theoretical partisans that indeed being a serious theorist means accepting precisely that principle Michael Herzfeld Harvard University To answer he offers a series of mini essays about an eclectic collection of theoretical concepts that he has found helpful over the years The book celebrates the muddled inconsistencies in the ways that humans live their messy lives There are however still patterns discernible the actors can understand what is going on they see an event unfolding in ways that are familiar as belonging to a certain type and therefore Zeitlyn suggests so can researchers From the introduction This book promotes an eclectic multi faceted anthropology in which multiple approaches are applied in pursuit of the limited insights which each can afford I do not endorse any one of these idea as supplying an exclusive path to enlightenment I absolutely do not advocate any single position As a devout nonconformist I hope that the following sections provide material ammunition and succour to those undertaking nuanced anthropological analysis and their kin in related disciplines Mixing up or combining different ideas and approaches can produce results that in their breadth and richness are productive for anthropology and other social sciences reflecting the endless complexities of real life This is my response to the death of grand theory I see our task as learning how to deal with that bereavement and how to resist the siren lures of those promising synoptic overviews This book is relevant to anthropology communication studies cultural studies and sociology Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975

Conflict and Compromise Raymond B. Blake, Jeffrey A. Keshen, Norman J. Knowles, Barbara J. Messamore, 2017-05-18 Driven by its strong narrative Conflict and Compromise presents Canadian history chronologically allowing a better understanding of the interrelationships between events Its main objective is to demonstrate that although Canadian history has been marked by cleavages and conflicts there has been a continual process of negotiation and a need for compromise which has enabled Canada to develop into arguably one of the most successful and pluralistic countries in the world The authors have drawn from all genres characterizing the present state of Canadian historiography including social military cultural political and economic approaches In doing so their aim is to challenge readers to engage with debates and interpretations about the past rather than simply to study for an exam The first volume begins with the history of Canada s Indigenous inhabitants prior to the arrival of Europeans and ends with the nation building project that got underway in 1864 The book is illustrated with over 50 images maps and figures all designed to support its mission to provoke intellectual curiosity

Thinking of Questions Peter Limm, 2015-09-23 This is not a conventional book It is designed to stimulate and challenge all people who are curious to find out about the world they inhabit and their place within it It does this by suggesting questions and lines of questioning on a wide range of topics The book does not provide answers or model arguments but prompts people to create their own questions and a reading log or journal To this end almost all questions have a list of books or articles to provide a starter for stimulating further reading Once you start you will be hooked Never stop questioning

Time on a Human Scale Julian Wright, Allegra Fryxell, 2021-10-07 Time on a Human Scale offers an ambitious new assessment of how modern Europeans understood time and human experience through studies of politics art literature music and culture of Western Europe between the 1860s and 1930s

Representing the Past Rachelle Gilmour, 2011-02-14 Through literary analysis and comparison with modern historical theory this volume examines the narrative representation of familiar historical concepts such as causation significance evaluation and coherence of past events in the book of Samuel

Essays on Northeastern North America, Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries John G. Reid, 2008-01-01 The essays in this volume deal with topics such as colonial habitation imperial exchange and aboriginal engagement all of which were pervasive phenomena of the time

The Liberal Script at the Beginning of the 21st Century Tanja A. Börzel, Johannes Gerschewski, Michael Zürn, 2024-10-10 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations 21st century liberalism is being contested on multiple fronts and by a wide range of actors To understand these challengers it is important to have a better grasp of their common target This book introduces the liberal script as an analytical concept that allows us to analyze and problematize liberal thinking as well as its different components and linkages and the tensions that they produce What happens when the pursuit of market efficiency is incompatible with social justice It is these tensions between the different components of the liberal script that are at the heart of the challenges against it Different societies have resolved these tensions in different ways leading to a variety of liberal subscripts and their contestations The volume integrates theoretical and methodological perspectives from different disciplines including political science sociology law history philosophy post colonial studies and educational science In demonstrating the theoretical and empirical added value of using the concept of liberal script the volume presents a multifaceted and nuanced picture of what is at stake in the challenges to liberalism in the early 21st century This volume has emerged from research carried out as part of the Cluster of Excellence Contestations of the Liberal Script SCRIPTS which analyzes the contemporary controversies about liberal ideas institutions and practices on the national and international level from a historical global and comparative perspective It connects academic expertise in the social sciences and area studies and collaborates with research institutions in all world regions Operating since 2019 and funded by the German Research Foundation DFG SCRIPTS unites eight major Berlin based research institutions Freie Universität Berlin the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin the Berlin Social Science Center WZB the Hertie School the German Institute for Economic Research DIW the Berlin branch of the German Institute of Global and Area Studies GIGA the Centre for East European and International Studies ZOIS and the Leibniz Zentrum Moderner Orient ZMO

Politics of Memory and Oblivion in the European Context Viktorija L.A. Čeginskas, Sigrid Kaasik-Krogerus, Nina Sääskilahti, 2021-11-29 This book provides novel and critical insights into the complex relationship between politics of memory and oblivion in European countries in the 20th and early 21st centuries as well as the cultural political and institutional backgrounds against which they function It explores the uses of the past in terms of a conscious choice to either reactivate or overlook memories as selective reference points for the promotion and legitimation of contemporary political goals The chapters of this volume bring together theoretical discussions on the interrelationship between remembrance and purposeful oblivion as active processes that serve particular interests and ideologies in the present By addressing the diverse meanings given to practices of memory the contributions offer new perspectives on how institutions shape cultural memory power relations and identity projects Politics of Memory and Oblivion in the European Context Critical Perspectives will be of interest to scholars and graduate students from the fields of memory studies heritage studies cultural studies history and political science who engage with the legacies of violent and traumatic pasts post colonial contexts societal transition and reconciliation The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal European Politics and Society

Recasting History Monica MacDonald, 2019-06-15 Since 1952 CBC television has played a unique role as the primary mass media purveyor of Canadian history Yet until now there have been no comprehensive accounts of Canadian history on television Monica MacDonald takes us behind the scenes of the major documentaries and docudramas broadcast on the CBC including in Explorations 1956 64 and the series Images of Canada 1972 76 The National Dream 1974 The Valour and the Horror 1992 and Canada A People's History 2000 02 Drawing on a wide range of sources MacDonald explores how producers struggled to represent the Canadian past under a range of external and internal pressures Despite dramatic shifts in the writing of history over this period she determines that television themes and interpretations largely remained the same The greater change was in the production and presentation particularly in the role of professional historians as journalists emerged not only as the new producers of Canadian history on CBC television but also as the new content authorities A critique of public history through the lens of political economy Recasting History reveals the conflicts compromises and controversies that have shaped the CBC version of the Canadian past

Essays on Northeastern North America, 17th & 18th Centuries John G. Reid, 2008-11-14 In examining the history of northeastern North America in the seventeenth and eighteen centuries it is important to take into account diverse influences and experiences Not only was the relationship between native inhabitants and colonial settlers a defining characteristic of Acadia Nova Scotia and New England in this era but it was also a relationship shaped by wider continental and oceanic connections The essays in this volume deal with topics such as colonial habitation imperial exchange and aboriginal engagement all of which were pervasive phenomena of the time John G Reid argues that these were complicated processes that interacted freely with one another shaping the human experience at different times and places Northeastern North America was an arena of distinctive complexities in the early modern period and this collection uses it as an example of a manageable and logical basis for historical study Reid also explores the significance of anniversary observances and commemorations that have served as vehicles of reflection on the lasting implications of historical developments in the early modern period These and other insights amount to a fresh perspective on the region and offer a deeper understanding of North American history

National Images and United States-Canada Relations Stephen Brooks, 2024-04-02 This book explores the psychological cultural dimension of the United States Canada relationship by analyzing how each country has viewed the other Drawing on a wide range of data including primary sources secondary literature and survey research the methodology is historical analytical seeking to explicate and understand how Americans and Canadians and their elites have viewed one another from the moment they were launched on separate trajectories why they developed and held such ideas and what consequences these images had for the bilateral relationship between the countries American and Canadian images of the other have deep roots and are in many respects recognizably the same today as they were many decades ago Moreover even when anchored to important realities of the other such images influence the perception and interpretation of events and actions taken by the other How Americans and Canadians have viewed each other the sources of these ideas the way they have been influenced by each country s domestic politics and place within the international system and the consequences for their bilateral relationship are among the questions examined Interdisciplinary in approach the book will appeal to scholars and students of political science international relations and history      The Routledge Companion to Qualitative Research in Organization Studies Raza Mir, Sanjay Jain, 2017-08-29 This comprehensive book collects contributions from leading international scholars to highlight the diverse qualitative approaches available to organizational researchers each grounded in its own philosophy The editors provide a cutting edge globally oriented resource on the state of qualitative research methodologies helping readers to grasp the theories practices and future of the field Beginning with an overview of qualitative methodologies the book examines ways in which research employing these techniques is conducted in a variety of disciplines including entrepreneurship innovation strategy information systems and organizational behavior It offers timely updates on how traditions like case studies ethnographies historical methods narrative approaches and critical research are practiced today and how emerging trends including increasing legitimacy and feminization are impacting the domain The final chapters provide templates for engaging with the future as well as essays that critically assess how qualitative inquiry has evolved within organization studies Readers will become acquainted with contemporary tools for conducting qualitative studies learning to appreciate the emerging domains of qualitative inquiry within a dynamic and complex organizational world Doctoral students and early career researchers in organizational studies especially those engaged with general management organizational behavior human resource management innovation entrepreneurship and strategy will benefit from reading this relevant and inclusive handbook      Visions for an African Valley DR JONATHAN M. JACKSON, 2025-03-11 What was the effect of the numerous albeit often unsatisfied plans for development on the land and communities of the Kilombero valley throughout the colonial period and into the first decades of independence This book traces histories of development in and crucially visions of development for the Kilombero valley of south central Tanzania Taking the notion of development planning as a form of future making the book examines the many visions or past futures projected onto Kilombero by colonial and national governments by international organisations syndicates and individuals It examines how such plans were conceived evaluates their successes and analyses their shortcomings against changing political and economic landscapes Four key themes agricultural intensification ecology control infrastructure and re settlement are shown to persistently surface and continue to shape the valleyscape today By considering past future visions for the reorganisation of rural life in Tanzania the book reveals how even recent initiatives have suffered through their failure to learn from this history Offering fresh insights and approaches to the historiography of development Visions for an African Valley shows Kilombero to be a prism which refracts broader phenomena across more than a century      Historiography Ernst
