Past Speaks To The Future:

The Future of the Past Tamara Bray, 2012-10-12 To date the notion of repatriation has been formulated as a highly polarized debate with museums archaeologists and anthropologists on one side and Native Americans on the other This volume offers both a retrospective and a prospective look at the topic of repatriation By juxtaposing the divergent views of native peoples anthropologists museum professionals and members of the legal profession it illustrates the complexity of the repatriation issue All Future Plunges to the Past José Vergara, 2021-10-15 All Future Plunges to the Past explores how Russian writers from the mid 1920s on have read and responded to Joyce s work Through contextually rich close readings Jos Vergara uncovers the many roles Joyce has occupied in Russia over the last century demonstrating how the writers Yuri Olesha Vladimir Nabokov Andrei Bitov Sasha Sokolov and Mikhail Shishkin draw from Joyce s texts particularly Ulysses and Finnegans Wake to address the volatile questions of lineages in their respective Soviet migr and post Soviet contexts Interviews with contemporary Russian writers critics and readers of Joyce extend the conversation to the present day showing how the debates regarding the Irish writer s place in the Russian pantheon are no less settled one hundred years after Ulysses The creative reworkings or translations of Joycean themes ideas characters plots and styles made by the five writers Vergara examines speak to shifting cultural norms understandings of intertextuality and the polarity between Russia and the West Vergara illuminates how Russian writers have used Joyce s ideas as a critical lens to shape prod and constantly redefine their own place in literary history All Future Plunges to the Past offers one overarching approach to the general narrative of Joyce s reception in Russian literature While each of the writers examined responded to Joyce in an individual manner the sum of their methods reveals common concerns This subject raises the issue of cultural values and more importantly how they changed throughout the twentieth century in the Soviet Union Russian emigration and the post Soviet Russian environment The Thinking Historian Eric W. Sager, 2025-01-27 What is history What are historians doing when we create our histories The need for answers is more urgent than ever We live in an era when history is often rejected or ignored and when all teachers of history confront formidable challenges In the culture of screen capitalism and social media historical knowledge is evaded in an expanding present minded consciousness How can history be defended and what is it that we are defending This book argues that history is a mode of thinking a form of imaginative reasoning with its own informal logic In non technical language and using examples from important works of history the book defines core elements in historical thinking These include contingency complexity temporality parts and wholes consilience perspectives analogy and abduction These elements are subsumed into the concept of imaginative reasoning The overall argument echoes the work of hermeneutic philosophers History is a disciplined imagination tempered and empowered by its forms of reasoning It embraces ethical imperatives that the historian has a duty to declare Equipped with such understanding historians may answer the many rejections of history and secure its place in our shared futures Past and Future Impulses Rudolf

Steiner,2023-05-15 Barely four months after the end of the First World War with Europe in chaos and exhausted from years of conflict Rudolf Steiner offered these lectures of hope and renewal Despite continuing social troubles around the world he knew that human beings had an opportunity to organize society in a new way Steiner responded to this prospect by giving suggestions for creating innovative social structures that are in harmony with people s inner needs Humanity as a whole is now facing a great challenge in that it is crossing the threshold to the spiritual world says Steiner This means that an evolutionary separation is taking place within the human soul between thinking feeling and will For this to happen in a healthy way the outer make up of society should mirror and support our internal evolution Steiner points to the urgent need for threefolding a separation between the workings of culture economics and politics This is a subconscious demand he asserts not for thinking up cranky ideas within a sect but for shedding light on what is needed universally These important lectures cover numerous themes including the overcoming of class distinctions the administration of money technology and capitalism the antisocial tendency of nationalism and the future management of international relations Twelve lectures Dornach Mar April 1919 GA 190 The Past, Present, and Future of Evangelical Mission Narry F. Santos,Xenia Ling-Yee

Chan,2022-07-15 Crisis is an invitation to both prophetic evaluation and new imagination In this volume Canadian missiologists and practitioners consider the past and how the past might enable the church to move forward in Christian mission in the academy agency assembly and the agora How can the Canadian church welcome different voices from the periphery What must be done to empower the next generation How can we respond in light of the injustices done to our Indigenous brothers and sisters Where does reconciliation fit into the picture How might we navigate between secularization and fundamentalisms How ought we move together in mission and in unity across denominational difference How can we equip laypeople to live their callings faithfully in the agora How can work in the marketplace be ministry And lastly how is the Spirit at work in our contexts in this day and age These questions among others onboard us into the ongoing conversation about the state of evangelical mission in Canada and each of these essays adeptly lead us into the beginnings of answers to these questions These essays address how the past informs our future and how we might answer the prophetic call with both hope and renewed vigor to participate in the mission of God REFLECTIONS ON THE PAST AND THE FUTURE Carl

Speech act theory is the interdisciplinary study of the wide range of things we do with words Originally stemming from the influential work of twentieth century philosophers including J L Austin and Paul Grice recent years have seen a resurgence of work on the topic On one hand a new generation of linguists philosophers and cognitive scientists have made impressive progress toward reverse engineering the psychological underpinnings that allow us to do so much with language Meanwhile speech act theory has been used to enrich our understanding of pressing social issues that include freedom of speech racial slurs and the duplicity of political discourse This volume presents fourteen new essays by many of the philosophers and linguists who have led this resurgence The topics span a methodological range that includes formal semantics and pragmatics foundational issues about the nature of linguistic representation and work on a variety of forms of indirect and or uncooperative speech that occupies the intersection of the philosophy of language ethics and political philosophy Several of the contributions demonstrate the benefits of integrating the methodologies and perspectives of these literatures The essays are framed by a comprehensive introductory survey of the contemporary literature written by the editors Remembering the Future Emma O'Donnell, 2015 Common to both Judaism and Christianity is a heightened engagement with time within liturgical practice in which collective religious memory and anticipation come together to create a unique sense of time Exploring the nebulous realms of religious experience and the sense of time Remembering the Future charts the ways that the experience of time is shaped by the traditions of Judaism and Christianity and experienced within their ritual practices Through comparative explorations of traditional Jewish and Christian understandings of time contemporary oral testimonies and discussions of the work of select twentieth century Jewish and Christian thinkers this book maps the temporal landscapes of the religious imagination Maintaining that the sense of time is integral to Jewish and Christian religious experience Remembering the Future makes a notable contribution to interreligious studies and liturgical studies It sheds light on essential aspects of religious experience and finds that the intimacy of the experience of time grants it the capacity to communicate across religious boundaries subtly transgressing obstacles to interreligious understanding
