National Past Time Jude Morgan, 2013-04-22 For Peter Fox being a bowling alley proprietor was a calling Right from the beginning the Upstate New York village of Koopersville embraced Peters glistening new bowling alley with its modern automatic pinsetters and Koopersville Bowl quickly became the heart and soul of the village Peters dream business opened in 1962 and year after year the bowling alley was the place where the trials and tribulations of growing up in a small New England town were transformed into the dreams and hopes of the future Anything was possible at Koopersville Bowl But one day Peter Fox died and the village stopped breathing The moral fabric of the entire community broke yet Peters extended family tried to adjust to their loss As Peters eldest son Paul Fox knew it was his duty to help his mother carry on what's more it was what his father would have wanted And that's exactly what he did Even so sometimes unexpected things do happen In the game of bowling there is only one way to salvage your score and that is to throw strikes Perfect games are hard to come by But in life as Paul soon finds out there are always new beginnings new games to be played and old memories that can never be taken away

Old Times in Dixie Land: A Southern Matron's Memories Caroline Elizabeth Merrick, 2020-09-28 I have not written these memoirs entirely for the amusement or instruction of my contemporaries but I shall feel rewarded if I elicit thereby the interest and sympathy which follows an honest effort to tell the truth in the recollections of one's life for after all truth is the chief virtue of history My ancestry may be of as little importance in itself as this book is likely to be after the lapse of a few years yet it is satisfactory to know that your family is respectable even if you cannot prove it to be so ancient that it has no beginning and so worthy that it ought to have no end I am willing however that my genealogy should be investigated there are books giving the whole history and it is surely an innocent and praiseworthy pride that of good pedigree I was born November 24th 1825 at our plantation home called Cottage Hall in the parish of East Feliciana in the State of Louisiana My father was a man of firmness and of courage amounting to stoicism He appeared calm and self possessed under all circumstances He ruled his own house but so judicious was his management that even his slaves loved him Though I was very young when my mother died I can remember her and the great affection manifested for her by the entire family While not realizing the importance of my loss I knew enough to resent the coming of another to fill her place My father said he wanted a good woman who could see that his family of six children were properly brought up and educated His nephew Dr James Thomas introduced him to Miss Susan Brewer who he thought would fill all these requirements The marriage was soon arranged and I was brought home to Cottage Hall by my eldest sister with whom I had been living The other children had laid aside their mourning and I was informed that I also had new dresses but I declined to wear them or to call the new mistress of the household by the name of Mother which had been freely given her by the rest of the family When my father lifted me from the carriage he said My child I will now take you to your new mother As he kissed me affectionately I turned away and said I am not your child and I have no mother now I have never forgotten the sad look he gave me nor the tenderness he manifested toward my waywardness as he took me in his arms and carried me into the house I was a troublesome little girl with an impetuous temper perhaps it was on this account that he often said This golden haired darling is the dearest little one in the house and the most exacting My father had a vein of quaint humor and abounded in proverbial wisdom I have heard him say Yes I have a very bad memory I remember what should be forgotten The good old times, by the author of 'Mary Powell'. Anne Manning,1857

A Lecture, Etc Arthur BROWN (Vicar of Dilham.),1865     American Arabesque Jacob Rama Berman,2012-06-11 Part of the American Literatures Initiative Series American Arabesque examines representations of Arabs Islam and the Near East in nineteenth century American culture arguing that these representations play a significant role in the development of American national identity over the century revealing largely unexplored exchanges between these two cultural traditions that will alter how we understand them today Moving from the period of America s engagement in the Barbary Wars through the Holy Land travel mania in the years of Jacksonian expansion and into the writings of romantics such as Edgar Allen Poe the book argues that not only were Arabs and Muslims prominently featured in nineteenth century literature but that the differences writers established between figures such as Moors Bedouins Turks and Orientals provide proof of the transnational scope of domestic racial politics Drawing on both English and Arabic language sources Berman contends that the fluidity and instability of the term Arab as it appears in captivity narratives travel narratives imaginative literature and ethnic literature simultaneously instantiate and undermine definitions of the American nation and American citizenship
