be a valuable addition to any library on Irish literature If you like this book write a review Memory and Remembering in Early Irish Literature Sarah Künzler,2023-12-04 Ireland possesses an early and exceptionally rich medieval vernacular tradition in which memory plays a key role What attitudes to remembering and forgetting are expressed in secular early Irish texts How do the texts conceptualise the past and what does this conceptualisation tell us about the present and future Who mediates and validates different versions of the past and how is future remembrance guaranteed This study approaches such questions through close readings of individual texts It centres on three major aspects of medieval Irish memory culture places and landscapes the provision of information about the past by miraculously old eye witnesses and the personal social and cultural impact of forgetting The discussions shed light on the relationship between memory and forgetting and explore the connections between the past present and future This shows the fascinating spatio temporal identity constructions in medieval Ireland and links the Irish texts to the broader European world The monograph makes this rich literary sources available to an interdisciplinary audience and is of interest to both a general medievalist audience and those working in Cultural Memory Studies The Contemporary Irish Novel Linden Peach,2017-03-14 This essential guide offers innovative critical readings of key contemporary novels from Ireland and Northern Ireland Linden Peach discusses texts that are representative of the richness of Irish writing during the 1980s and 1990s and reads works by established authors alongside those by the new generation of writers The novels examined include works by John Banville Jennifer Johnston Roddy Doyle Emma Donoghue Seamus Deane William Trevor Dermot Bolger Joseph O Connor Patrick McCabe Mary Morrissy Glenn Patterson and Robert McLiam Wilson The Contemporary Irish Novel addresses themes such as ghosts and haunting mimicry obedience and subversion the relocation and reinscription of identity the mother figure parent child relations madness masculinity self harm sexuality domestic violence fetishism and postmodernity Drawing on a range of critical approaches including postcolonial gender and psychoanalytic theory Peach explores and celebrates the diversity of Irish fiction and suggests that the boundary between literature and theory is as permeable as that between Ireland and Northern Ireland

A History of Modern Irish Women's Literature Heather Ingman,Clóna Ó Gallchoir,2018-07-26 This book offers the first comprehensive survey of writing by women in Ireland from the seventeenth century to the present day It covers literature in all genres including poetry drama and fiction as well as life writing and unpublished writing and addresses work in both English and Irish The chapters are authored by leading experts in their field giving readers an introduction to cutting edge research on each period and topic Survey chapters give an essential historical overview and are complemented by a focus on selected topics such as the short story and key figures whose relationship to the narrative of Irish literary history is analysed and reconsidered Demonstrating the pioneering achievements of a huge number of many hitherto neglected writers A History of Modern Irish Women s Literature makes a critical intervention in Irish literary history The Globalization of Irish Traditional Song Performance Susan H. Motherway,2016-03-09 In The Globalization of Irish Traditional Song

Performance Susan Motherway examines the ways in which performers mediate the divide between local and global markets by negotiating this dichotomy in performance practice In so doing she discusses the globalizing processes that exert transformative influences upon traditional musics and examines the response to these influences by Irish traditional song performers In developing this thesis the book provides an overview of the genre and its subgenres illustrates patterns of musical change extant within the tradition as a result of globalization and acknowledges music as a medium for re negotiating an Irish cultural identity within the global Given Ireland s long history of emigration and colonisation globalization is recognised as both a synchronic and a diachronic phenomenon Motherway thus examines Anglo Irish song and songs of the Irish Diaspora Her analysis reaches beyond essentialist definitions of the tradition to examine evolving sub genres such as Country Irish Celtic and World Music She also recognizes the singing traditions of other ethnic groups on the island of Ireland including Orange Order Ulster Scots and Traveller song In so doing she shows the disparity between native conceptions and native realities in respect to Irish cultural Identity Uniting the Kingdom? Alexander Grant, Keith Stringer, 2002-11 A group of Britain s most prestigious historians assemble to explore the formation of the UK its history and its identity Traditional regional and chronological frontiers are broken down as medievalists modernists and early modernists debate Irish Literature in the Celtic Tiger Years 1990 to 2008 Susan Cahill, 2011-04-01 When Irish culture and economics underwent rapid changes during the Celtic Tiger Years Anne Enright Colum McCann and N Dhuibhne began writing Now that period of Irish history has closed this study uncovers how their writing captured that unique historical moment By showing how N Dhuibhne s novels act as considered arguments against attempts to disavow the past how McCann s protagonists come to terms with their history and how Enright s fiction explores connections and relationships with the female body Susan Cahill s study pinpoints common concerns for contemporary Irish writers the relationship between the body memory and history between generations and between past and present Cahill is able to raise wider questions about Irish culture by looking specifically at how writers engage with the body In exploring the writers concern with embodied histories related questions concerning gender race and Irishness are brought to the fore Such interrogations of corporeality alongside history are imperative making this a significant contribution to ongoing debates of feminist theory in Irish Studies Éirinn & Iran go Brách Mansour Bonakdarian, 2023-12-05 This book analyzes particular patterns of nationalist self configuration and nationalist uses of memory counter memory and historical amnesia in Ireland from roughly around the time of the emergence of a broad based non sectarian Irish nationalist platform in the late eighteenth century the Society of United Irishmen until Ireland s partition and the founding of the Irish Free State in 1922 In approaching Irish nationalism through the particular historical lens of Iran this book underscores the fact that Irish nationalism during this period and even earlier always utilized a historical paradigm that grounded Anglo Irish encounters and Irish nationalism in the broader world history a process that I term worlding of Ireland In effect Irish nationalism was always politically and culturally cosmopolitan in outlook in some formulations even in the case of many nationalists who resorted to insular and narrowly defined exclusionary ethnic and or religious formulations of the Irish nation Irish nationalists as nationalists in many other parts of the world recurrently imagined their own history either in contrast to or as reflected in the histories of peoples and lands elsewhere even while claiming the historical uniqueness of the Irish experience Present in a wide range of Irish nationalist political cultural and historical utterances were assertions of past and or present affinities with other peoples and lands
